Quennet, 2001 The two fields of contemporary Native American literature and culture exist in the tension between two literary traditions the Native oral and literary tradition and the modern Western mainstream literary influence In her North Dakota quartet Love Medicine 1984 The Beet Queen 1986 Tracks 1988 The Bingo Palace 1994 Native American mixedblood author Louise Erdrich b 1954 exemplifies where and how these traditions meet and interact A postmodern reading of the quartet shows that Native

American authors and literary critics alike need not be afraid to tread into postmodernism since an interpretation from this perspective opens up the possibility of freeing Native American literature from the limiting label of ethnic or minority literature and of establishing it as a vital part of American literature. This postmodern interpretation of Louise Erdrich's quartet offers a discussion of the theoretical issues involved in the context of ethnic writing and its relation to postmodernism as well as an analysis of her intricate narrative strategies in particular her use of multiple perspectives and of intertextual techniques. The main part of the interpretation consists of a reading of postmodern concepts such as magical realism, carnivalesque humor, the relationship between reader and text, gender roles and sexual identities, history and textuality, the trickster figure and games and chance as can be found in Louise Erdrich's North Dakota quartet. Louise Erdrich Lorena Laura Stookey, 1999-09-30 Louise Erdrich following in the Native American narrative tradition has crafted enduring tales of homecomings. Her widely acclaimed debut novel Love Medicine garnered prestigious awards and quickly made its way onto bestseller lists and into readers' hearts. In this full-length critical volume Stookey uncovers the layers of wisdom and humor embedded in Erdrich's engaging writing. Stookey analyzing each novel in turn examines the characters and themes that recur in Erdrich's canon of interconnected stories. This insightful analysis helps students and lovers of fine literature approach Erdrich's work with greater appreciation for her bold narrative style. This study begins with a fascinating biographical account tracing early influences in Louise Erdrich's life. The subsequent chapter discusses Erdrich's place in literary tradition as a novelist, a poet, and a storyteller. It also offers lucid analysis of how Erdrich skillfully manages to reconcile traditional and experimental approaches to the construction of her novels. A full chapter then examines each novel in terms of literary style, plot, character development, and theme. Alternate critical approaches to Erdrich's writing are also given for each of her six major works to date. A bibliography and lists of general criticism, biographical sources, and reviews complete this volume, making it an indispensable resource for any reader seeking to develop a greater understanding of Erdrich's writings.

Writing Tricksters Jeanne Rosier Smith, 2023-11-15 Writing Tricksters examines the remarkable resurgence of tricksters, ubiquitous shape shifters who dwell on borders at crossroads and between worlds on the contemporary cultural and literary scene. Depicting a chaotic multilingual world of colliding and overlapping cultures, many of America's most successful and important women writers are writing tricksters. Taking up works by Maxine Hong Kingston, Louise Erdrich, and Toni Morrison, Jeanne Rosier Smith accessibly weaves together current critical discourses on marginality, ethnicity, feminism, and folklore, illuminating a trickster aesthetic central to non-Western storytelling traditions and powerfully informing American literature today. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1997. American Women Writing Fiction Mickey Pearlman, 2021-03-17 American literature is no longer the refuge of the solitary hero. Like the society it mirrors, it is now a far richer, many-faceted explication of a complicated and diverse society, racially, culturally, and ethnically interwoven and at the same time fractured and fractious. Ten women writing fiction in America today—Toni Cade Bambara, Joan Didion, Louise Erdrich, Gail Godwin, Mary Gordon, Alison Lurie, Joyce Carol Oates, Jayne Anne Phillips, Susan Fromberg Schaeffer, and Mary Lee Settle—represent that geographic, ethnic, and racial diversity that is distinctively American. Their differing perspectives on literature and the American experience have produced Erdrich's stolid North Dakota plainswomen, Didion's sun-baked dreamers and screamers, the urban ethnics, Irish, Jewish, and black, of Gordon, Schaeffer, and Bambara, Oates's small-town, often violent neurotics, Lurie's intellectual sophisticates, and the southern survivors and victims, male and female, of Phillips, Settle, and Godwin. The ten original essays in this collection focus on the traditional themes of identity, memory, family, and enclosure that pervade the fiction of these writers. The fictional women who emerge here, as these critics show, are often caught in the interwoven strands of memory, perceive literal and emotional space as entrapping, find identity elusive and frustrating, and experience the interweaving of silence, solitude, and family in complex patterns. Each essay in this collection is followed by bibliographies of works by and about the writer in question that will be invaluable resources for scholars and general readers alike. Here is a readable critical discussion of ten important contemporary novelists who have broadened the pages of American literature to reflect more clearly the people we are.

Dialogism or Interconnectedness in the Work of Louise Erdrich Marta J. Lysik, 2017-05-11 This study portrays how Louise Erdrich's writing extends Bakhtin's concepts of dialogism and the novel through an investigation of a selection of her works as well as her practices of writing, co-writing, re-writing, and reading novels. Erdrich's hallmark dialogic literary style and practice encompasses writing a series of books, re-cycling protagonists, narrators, events, themes, and settings, re-writing previously published novels, employing heteroglossia and polyglossia, co-authoring texts, blogging about books, translating different epistemologies for different audiences, and spotlighting families as the main thematic concern in dialogue with her own parenting experiences as depicted in her memoirs. She writes a growing series of novels, compost pile like, capitalizing on former novels as well as adding new elements and new stories in the process. Thus, a dialogic intra-textual microcosm emerges. Erdrich suffuses her writing with an incessant quality of changing and becoming. Her novels resist closure while protagonists return and demand attention, and the author answers dialogically by penning new tales. Erdrich's writing can be accessed because it concerns shared human experiences and relationships, both their ambivalence and their beauty. Erdrich includes instead of alienating, sympathizes instead of judging, which makes her an internationally acclaimed author with her work crossing topographies, epistemologies, and identities.

Conversations with Louise Erdrich and Michael Dorris Louise Erdrich, Michael Dorris, 1994 Being of mixed blood and having lived in both white and Indian worlds they give an original perspective on American society Sometimes with humor and always with refreshing candor their discussions undermine the damaging stereotypes of American Indians Some of the interviews focus on their nonfiction book The Broken Cord which recounts the struggle to solve their adopted son's health problems from fetal alcohol syndrome Included also are two recent interviews published here for the first time

Autoethnography and the Other Tami Spry, 2016-03-31 Challenging the critique of autoethnography as overly focused on the self Tami Spry calls for a performative autoethnography that both unsettles the I and represents the Other with equal commitment Expanding on her popular book Body Paper Stage Spry uses a variety of examples literary forms and theoretical traditions to reframe this research method as transgressive liberatory and decolonizing for both self and Other Her book draws on her own autoethnographic work with jazz musicians shamans and other groups outlines a utopian performative methodology to spur hope and transformation provides concrete guidance on how to implement this innovative methodological approach Tracks on a Page Frances Washburn, 2013-05-23 This book details the intersections between the personal life and exceptional writing of Louise Erdrich perhaps the most critically and economically successful American Indian author ever Known for her engrossing explorations of Native American themes Louise Erdrich has created award winning novels poetry stories and more for three decades Tracks on a Page Louise Erdrich Her Life and Works examines Erdrich's oeuvre in light of her experiences her gender and her heritage as the daughter of a Chippewa mother and German American father The book covers Erdrich from her birth to the present offering fresh information and perspectives based on original research By interweaving biography and literary analysis the author who is herself Native American gives readers a complete and nuanced understanding of the ways in which Erdrich's identity as a woman and an American Indian have influenced her life and her writing Tracks on a Page is the first book length work to approach Erdrich and her works from a non Euro Western perspective It contextualizes both life and writing through the lenses of American Indian history politics economics and culture offering readers new and intriguing ways to appreciate this outstanding author
