The Images of Time Robin Le Poidevin, 2007-09-27 The Images of Time presents a philosophical investigation of the nature of time and the mind s ways of representing it Robin Le Poidevin examines how we perceive time and change the means by which memory links us with the past the attempt to represent change and movement in art and the nature of fictional time These apparently disparate questions all concern the ways in which we represent aspects of time in thought experience art and fiction They also raise fundamental problems for our philosophical understanding both of mental representation and of the nature of time itself Le Poidevin brings together issues in philosophy psychology aesthetics and literary theory in examining the mechanisms underlying our representation of time in various media and brings these to bear on metaphysical debates over the real nature of time These debates concern which aspects of time are genuinely part of time s intrinsic nature and which in some sense are mind dependent Arguably the most important debate concerns time s passage does time pass in reality or is the division of events into past present and future simply a reflection of our temporal perspective a result of the interaction between a static world and minds capable of representing it Le Poidevin argues that contrary to what perception and memory lead us to suppose time does not really pass and this surprising conclusion can be reconciled with the characteristic features of temporal experience

An Introduction to Epistemology - Second Edition Jack S. Crumley II, 2009-07-30 The second edition of Jack Crumley s An Introduction to Epistemology strikes a balance between the many issues that engage contemporary epistemologists and the contributions of the major historical figures He shows not only how philosophers such as Descartes Hume Locke Berkeley and Kant foreground the contemporary debates but also why they deserve consideration on their own terms A substantial revision of the first edition the second edition is even more accessible to students The new edition includes recent work on contextualism evidentialism externalism and internalism and perceptual realism as well the chapter on coherence theory is substantially revised reflecting recent developments in that area New to this second edition is a chapter on feminist epistemology which includes discussions of major positions and themes such as feminist empiricism feminist standpoint epistemology postmodern epistemology and feminist critiques of objectivity It presents the important contributions of philosophers such as Sandra Harding Helen Longino Genevieve Lloyd and others Each chapter ends with a list of study questions and readings for further study The Corpses of Times Generations RICHARD J.

KOSCIEJEW,2014-01-09 Anyone who has ever tried to present a rather abstract scientific subject in a popular manner knows the great difficulties of such an attempt Either he succeeds in being intelligible by concealing the core of the problem and by offering to the reader only superficial aspects or vague allusions thus of deluding the reader by arousing in him the deceptive illusion of comprehension Or else he gives an expert account of the problem but as the untrained reader is unable to follow the exposition and becomes discouraged from reading any further If these two categories are omitted from today's popular scientific literature surprisingly little remains But the little left is very valuable indeed It is very important that the public is given an opportunity to experience consciously and intelligently the efforts and results of scientific research It is not sufficient that each successive progression is taken up elaborated and applied by a few specialists in the field Restricting the body of knowledge to a small group deadens the philosophical spirit of these people and leads to spiritual poverty THE CORPSES OF TIMES GENERATIONS represents a valuable contribution to popular scientific writing The main ideas to Theory are extremely well presented Moreover the presents state of our knowledge in which the paradigms of science are aptly characterized Mr Kosciejew shows how the criterial growth of our factual knowledge with the striving for a unified conception comprising all empirical data has led to the present situation which is characterized despite all successes by an uncertainty concerning the choice of the basic theoretical concept Transparent Minds Jordi Fernández,2013-02-07

How do we know our current states of mind what we want and believe in Jordi Fernández proposes a new theory of self knowledge challenging the traditional view that it is a matter of introspection He argues that we know what we believe and desire by looking outward towards the states of affairs which those beliefs and desires are about Beyond the Brain Duoyi Fei,2023-02-18 Different from traditional research on the mind body problem often discussed from an epistemological viewpoint which assumes that mental processes are internal to the person this book demonstrates the crucial role of contextual relevance in the workings of the mind and illustrates how mind emerges from the individual's interactions with her physical social and cultural environments It also develops the interpersonal and social aspects of embodied mind The body that creates meaning is not only an emotional kinesthetic and aesthetically experiencing body the body that creates meaning is a social body It suggests that mind body relations are not only achieved through the interaction between our own mind and body but by other minds in our intersubjective interactions It is related to epistemology metaphysics ethics value theory action theory and the philosophies of mind science logic and technology The readership may include graduate and undergraduate students studying philosophy law political science sociology psychology etc educators researchers scholars and anyone who shows an interest in philosophy The Quest for Truth F. Federal Trade Commission,1933 Belief's Own Ethics Jonathan E. Adler,2006-01-20 The fundamental question of the ethics of belief is What ought one to believe According to the traditional view of evidentialism the strength of one's beliefs should be proportionate to the evidence Conventional ways of defending and challenging evidentialism rely on the idea that what one ought to believe is a matter of what it is rational prudent ethical or personally fulfilling to believe Common to all these approaches is that they look outside of belief itself to determine what one ought to believe In this book Jonathan Adler offers a strengthened version of evidentialism arguing that the ethics of belief should be rooted in the concept of belief that evidentialism is belief's own ethics A key observation is that it is not merely that one ought not but that one cannot believe for example that the number of stars is even The cannot represents a conceptual barrier not just an inability Therefore belief in defiance of one s evidence or evidentialism is impossible Adler addresses such questions as irrational beliefs reasonableness control over beliefs and whether justifying beliefs requires a foundation Although he treats the ethics of belief as a central topic in epistemology his ideas also bear on rationality argument and pragmatics philosophy of religion ethics and social cognitive psychology

The Current State of the Coherence Theory J. Bender,2012-12-06 The subtitle of this book should be read as a qualification as much as an elaboration of the title If the goal were completeness then this book would have included essays on the work of other philosophers such as Wilfrid Sellars Nicholas Rescher Donald Davidson Gilbert Harman and Michael Williams Although it would be incorrect to say that each of these writers has set forth a version of the coherence theory of justification and knowledge it is clear that their work is directly relevant and reaction to it could easily fill a companion volume This book concentrates however on the theories of Keith Lehrer and Laurence Bonjour and I doubt that any epistemologist would deny that they are presently the two leading proponents of coherentism A sure indication of this was the ease with which the papers in this volume were solicited and delivered The many authors represented here were willing prepared and excited to join in the discussion of Bonjour s and Lehrer s recent writings I thank each one personally for agreeing so freely to contribute All of the essays but two are published for the first time here Marshall Swain s and Alvin Goldman s papers were originally presented at a symposium on Bonjour s The Structure of Empirical Knowledge at the annual meeting of the Central Division of the American Philosophical Association Chicago Illinois in April 1987
