Eyes Upside Down P. Adams Sitney, 2008-04-18 Sitney analyzes in detail the work of eleven American avant garde filmmakers as heirs to the aesthetics of exhilaration and innovative vision articulated by Ralph Waldo Emerson and explored by John Cage Charles Olson and Gertrude Stein The films discussed span the sixty years since the Second World War With three chapters each devoted to Stan Brakhage and Robert Beavers two each to Hollis Frampton and Jonas Mekas and single chapters on Marie Menken Ian Hugo Andrew Noren Warren Sonbert Su Friedrich Ernie Gehr and Abigail Child Eyes Upside Down is the fruit of Sitney's lifelong study of visionary aspirations in the American avant garde cinema Creation and Incarnation Anthony O'Hear, 2020-06-11 This book expounds and analyses notions of transcendence creation and incarnation reflectively and personally combining both philosophical and religious insights Preferring tender minded approaches to reductively materialistic ones it shows some ways in which reductive approaches to human affairs can distort the appreication of our lives and activities In the book s first half it examines a number of aspects of human life and experience in the thought of Darwin Ruskin and Scruton with a view to exploring the extent to which there could be intimations of transcendence The second half is then devoted to outlining an account of divine creation and incarnation deriving initially though not uncritically from the thought of Simone Weil The text concludes by examining the extent to which grace is needed to engage in religious practice and belief Taking in art literature music and classical Greek writings this is a multifaceted thesis on transcendence It will therefore will be of keen interest to any scholar of Philosophy of Religion Theology Aesthetics and Metaphysics Practices of Surprise in American Literature after Emerson Kate Stanley, 2018-07-19 This book establishes surprise as a key Emersonian affect and demonstrates its significance for

Transfiguration Stephen Cheeke, 2016 Transfiguration explores the work of John Ruskin Robert Browning Dante Gabriel Rossetti and Walter Pater treating in particular the ways in which they engaged with the Christian content of their subject and in Pater's case how the art of Christianity was contrasted with classical sculpture Stephen Cheeke examines two related phenomena idolatry a false substitution a sexual betrayal and the poetics of transfiguration to elevate or glorify subject matter not thought of as conventionally poetic to praise Central to the book is the question of the translation of religion into art and aesthetics a process which supposedly undergirds the advent of the museum age and makes possible the idea of a religion of art as a phenomenon of late century Aestheticism Such a phenomenon is prepared for however through the engagement with Christian painting and classical sculpture in the work of these four writers All four thought carefully about the ways in which a particular mimetic impulse of making live in artworks could be connected to religious experience This meant exploring the nature of the link between seeing and believing visualising in order to conceive to verify but also in the sense of being acted upon by the visible All four wrote about the great power of artworks to transfigure the objects of their attention In each case there emerges the possibility of a secret sexual knowledge hiding within or lying on the other side of the sensuous knowledge of aesthesis All four wondered whether this was inherently hostile to Christianity or whether it may The Invisible Masterpiece Hans Belting, 2001-09 The invisible masterpiece then is finally be an accommodation within it an unattainable ideal an ideal that has both bewitched and bewildered artists The Invisible Masterpiece is an unusual reconstruction of the history of the work of art since 1800 in which Hans Belting explores and explains the dreams and fears the triumphs and failures of modernity s painters and sculptors BOOK JACKET Experiencing Architecture in the Nineteenth Century Edward Gillin, H. Horatio Joyce, 2018-10-18 Bringing together fourteen original essays this collection opens up new perspectives on the architectural history of the nineteenth century by examining the buildings of the period through the lens of experience With a focus on the experience of the ordinary building user rather than simply on the intentions of the designer the book shows that new and important insights can be brought to our understanding of Victorian architecture The chapters present a range of ideas and new research some examining individual building case studies from grand hotels and clubhouses in New York to the parliament buildings of Westminster and others exploring conceptual questions about the nature of architectural experience whether sensory or otherwise Yet they share the premise that the idea of the experience of architecture took on a new and particular significance with the rise of industrial modernity and they examine what contemporary people both architects and non architects understood by this idea. The insights in this volume extend beyond the study of Victorian architecture Together they suggest how experience might be used as a framework to produce a more convincingly historical account of the artefacts of architectural history Proust's Cup of Tea Emily Eells, 2017-03-02 Proust's Cup of Tea analyzes Proust's reading of various Victorian authors and shows how they contributed to A la recherche du temps perdu This book proves that British literature and art played a fundamental role in Proust s writing process by citing from the manuscript versions of his novel as well as from his correspondence essays and the lengthy critical appartus accompanying his translations of Ruskin Eells reflects here on why Proust was attracted to Victorian culture and how he incorporated it into his novel The works of the British novelists he was most interested in Thomas Hardy and George Eliot address questions of gender which Proust develops in his own work He builds Sodome et Gomorrhe I the section of his novel focusing on homosexuality on a series of explicit citations and guarded allusions to Shakespeare Darwin Walter Scott Oscar Wilde and Robert Louis Stevenson Eells explores how Proust followed in the pioneering footsteps of those British writers who had ventured beyond the boundaries of conventional sexuality though he took pains to erase their traces in the definitive version of his work This study also highlights how Proust made his fictitious painter Elstir into a master of ambiguity by modeling his art on Turner the Pre Raphaelites and Whistler Eells shows that Proust drew on Victorian culture in his depiction of sexual ambiguity arguing that he confounded eroticism and aestheticism in the way he inextricably linked the man woman figure with British art and literature As Proust aestheticized male and female homosexuality using references to British art and letters Eells coins the term Anglosexuality to refer to his characters of the third sex She defines Anglosexuality as an intersexuality represented through intertextuality as an artistic sensitivity an aesthetic stance and a new way of seeing Proust's Cup of Tea thus demonstrates that Victorian culture and homoeroticism form one of the cornerstones of Proust s monumental work The Senses of Modernism Sara Danius, 2019-01-24 In The Senses of Modernism Sara Danius develops a radically new theoretical and historical understanding of high modernism The author closely analyzes Thomas Mann s The Magic Mountain Marcel Proust s Remembrance of Things Past and James Joyce s Ulysses as narratives of the sweeping changes that affected high and low culture in the age of technological reproduction In her discussion of the years from 1880 to 1930 Danius proposes that the high modernist aesthetic is inseparable from a technologically mediated crisis of the senses She reveals the ways in which categories of perceiving and knowing are realigned when technological devices are capable of reproducing sense data Sparked by innovations such as chronophotography phonography radiography cinematography and technologies of speed this sudden shift in perceptual abilities had an effect on all arts of the time Danius explores how perception notably sight and hearing is staged in the three most significant modern novels in German French and British literature The Senses of Modernism connects technological change and formal innovation to transform the study of modernist aesthetics Danius questions the longstanding acceptance of a binary relationship between high and low culture and describes the complicated relationship between modernism and technology challenging the conceptual divide between a technological culture and a more properly aesthetic one Architecture and Modern Literature David Anton Spurr, 2017-05-09 Exploring the related cultural forms of architecture and literature in the modern era Proust's English Daniel Karlin, 2005-10-20 English is the second language of A la recherche du temps perdu Although much has been written about Proust's debt to English literature especially Ruskin Daniel Karlin is the first critic to focus on his knowledge of the language itself on vocabulary idiom and etymology He uncovers an English world in Proust's work a world whose social comedy and artistic values reveal surprising connections to some of the novel's central preoccupations with sexuality and art Anglomanie the fashion for all things English has been as powerful a presence in French culture as hostility to perfide Albion Proust was both subject to its influence and a brilliant critic of its excesses French resistance to imported English words remains fierce to this day but Proust's attitude to this most contentious aspect of Anglo French relations was marked by his rejection of concepts of national and racial purity and his profound understanding of the necessary impurity of artistic creation
