in Contemporary Children's Fantasy Dimitra Fimi,2017-03-06 Runner up of the Katherine Briggs Folklore Award 2017 Winner of the Mythopoeic Scholarship Award for Myth Fantasy Studies 2019 This book examines the creative uses of Celtic myth in contemporary fantasy written for children or young adults from the 1960s to the 2000s Its scope ranges from classic children s fantasies such as Lloyd Alexander s The Chronicles of Prydain and Alan Garner s The Owl Service to some of the most recent award winning fantasy authors of the last decade such as Kate Thompson The New Policeman and Catherine Fisher Darkhenge The book focuses on the ways these fantasy works have appropriated and adapted Irish and Welsh medieval literature in order to highlight different perceptions of Celticity The term Celtic itself is interrogated in light of recent debates in Celtic studies in order to explore a fictional representation of a national past that is often romanticized and political Private Practices Meredith Cherland University of Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada.,2013-10-23 First Published in 1994 The study of literacy no longer focuses solely on psychological processes In the past ten years literacy has been reconceptualized as a social practice or rather as social practices that make up the fabric of daily life Using an anthropological perspective Private Practices examines the broad fictional reading of middle class pre teen girls and offers fresh insights into the place of literacy both at home and at school in the construction of gender The author provides a wealth of evidence to support the central assumption of the book Gender is a cultural and social construction not a biological given Gender is something that people create while interacting with each other in all the practices of their daily lives including their literacy practices The book also provides critical analysis and commentary concerning the role that reading fiction plays in cultural reproduction In the hope that deeper knowledge of literacy as a social practice will support social transformation and eventually social justice the author suggests compelling reasons for the fact that girls read more fiction and different fiction than do boys Cullinan and Galda's Literature and the Child Lee Galda,Bernice E. Bulhof, 2012-12-06 Philosophy originates in man's amazement over the richness and complexity of reality It attempts to articulate in words and concepts what reality is Starting from the recognition that this reality is experienced by all humans but experienced in many different ways the philosopher tries to find reality's heart its center its hidden treasure the tree in the middle connecting heaven and earth the central point from which the stupendous intricacy of experience begins to make sense and from which order can become visible To ask what is reality is indeed to recognize that we have entered a maze The hermeneutic philosophy of Wilhelm Dilthey 1833-1911 is the fruit of his own wanderings in this maze Like many intellectuals of his age he had lost faith in the Christian religion in which he was raised In his college years he turned from theology to philosophy in particular the history of philosophy and of human thought in general wondering about the origin and value of the astounding variety of past belief systems At the center of reality's maze he found the insight that reality as faced by man is comparable to a literary text it means something to us Reality is not a mute object but an autonomous source of meaning an act of self disclosure knowledge of reality is therefore not the product of actions performed by an active subject upon a passive object but a communicative interaction between two Subjects
