The Brothers Karamazov Fyodor Dostoyevsky,1922 The Brothers Karamazov Fyodor Dostoyevsky,2003-02-27 The most magnificent novel ever written Sigmund Freud The murder of brutal landowner Fyodor Karamazov changes the lives of his sons irrevocably Mitya the sensualist whose bitter rivalry with his father immediately places him under suspicion for parricide Ivan the intellectual driven to breakdown the spiritual Alyosha who tries to heal the family's rifts and the shadowy figure of their bastard half brother Smerdyakov Dostoyevsky's dark masterwork evokes a world where the lines between innocence and corruption good and evil blur and everyone's faith in humanity is tested Translated with an Introduction and notes by DAVID McDUFF The Novels of Fyodor Dostoevsky: The Brothers Karamazov Fyodor Dostoyevsky,1926

Reader as Accomplice Alexander Spektor,2020-10-15 Reader as Accomplice Narrative Ethics in Dostoevsky and Nabokov argues that Fyodor Dostoevsky and Vladimir Nabokov seek to affect the moral imagination of their readers by linking morally laden plots to the ethical questions raised by narrative fiction at the formal level By doing so these two authors ask us to consider and respond to the ethical demands that narrative acts of representation and interpretation place on authors and readers Using the lens of narrative ethics Alexander Spektor brings to light the important previously unexplored correspondences between Dostoevsky and Nabokov Ultimately he argues for a productive comparison of how each writer investigates the ethical costs of narrating oneself and others He also explores the power dynamics between author character narrator and reader In his readings of such texts as The Meek One and The Idiot by Dostoevsky and Bend Sinister and Despair by Nabokov Spektor demonstrates that these authors incite the reader's sense of ethics by exposing the risks but also the possibilities of narrative fiction The Demonic Ewan Fernie,2013-02-11 Are we either good or bad and do we really know the difference Why do we want what we cannot have and even to be what we're not Can we desire others without wanting to possess them Can we open to others and not risk possession ourselves And where in these cases do we draw the line Ewan Fernie argues that the demonic tradition in literature offers a key to our most agonised and intimate experiences The Demonic ranges across the breadth of Western culture engaging with writers as central and various as Luther Shakespeare Hegel Dostoevsky Melville and Mann A powerful foreword by Jonathan Dollimore brings out its implications as an intellectual and stylistic breakthrough into new ways of writing criticism Fernie unfolds an intense and personal vision not just of Western modernity but of identity morality and sex As much as it's concerned with the great works this is a book about life Demystifying Evil Ingrid Faro,2023-12-05 How can we understand God's work in a world permeated with evil Narrating her own wrestling with evil as well as engaging in biblical and philosophical analysis biblical scholar Ingrid Faro explores the many dimensions to evil in a way that is soberly honest biblically engaged and theologically nuanced Caring

Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction Thom Dancer, 2021 From climate catastrophe to pandemics and economic crises the problems facing humanity are dizzyingly complex and increasingly planetary in scale Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction argues for contemporary fiction's capacity to help those who may feel despair at the enormity of such problems not as one might think through the ambitious search for grand solutions but rather by inculcating a temperament of modesty This new temperament of critical modesty locates the fight for freedom and human dignity within the limited and compromised conditions in which we find ourselves Through readings of Ian McEwan Zadie Smith J M Coetzee and David Mitchell this volume shows how contemporary works of literature model modesty as a critical temperament Exploring modest forms of entangled human agency that represent an alternative to the novel of the large scale that have been most closely associated with the Anthropocene it makes the surprising yet compelling case that precisely by adopting a modest stance the novel actually has the potential to play a more important socio cultural role In doing so the book offers an engaging response to the debate over critical and surface readings bringing novels into the conversation and arguing for a fictional mode that is both critical and modest reminding us how much we are already engaged with the world implicated and compromised before we start developing theories writing stories or acting within it

The Soul of a Nation Bernard J. Coughlin, 2012-09-27 Since World War II there have been many changes in our nation due to shifts in our philosophy of man and moral law The Soul of a Nation is a series of essays on these critical transformations in our society This book will be of interest to citizens and scholars who question our society's political drift in recent years The Soul of a Nation was written not only for scholars and students but for their parents and elders as well

The Crisis of Meaning and the Life-World Lubica Učník, 2016-12-15 In The Crisis of Meaning and the Life World Lubica Učník examines the existential conflict that formed the focus of Edmund Husserl's final work which she argues is very much with us today how to reconcile scientific rationality with the meaning of human existence To investigate this conundrum she places Husserl in dialogue with three of his most important successors Martin Heidegger Hannah Arendt and Jan Patočka For Husserl 1930s Europe was characterized by a growing irrationalism that threatened to undermine its legacy of rational inquiry Technological advancement in the sciences Husserl argued had led science to forget its own foundations in the primary life world the world of lived experience Renewing Husserl's concerns in today's context Učník first provides an original and compelling reading of his oeuvre through the lens of the formalization of the sciences then traces the unfolding of this problem through the work of Heidegger Arendt and Patočka Although many scholars have written on Arendt none until now has connected her philosophical thought with that of Czech phenomenologist Jan Patočka. Unk provides invaluable access to the work of the latter who remains understudied in the English language. She shows that together these four thinkers offer new challenges to the way we approach key issues confronting us today providing us with ways to reconsider truth, freedom, and human responsibility in the face of the postmodern critique of metanarratives and a growing philosophical interest in new forms of materialism.

Hermeneutics - Ethics - Education Andrzej Wiercinski, 2015. This book confronts the challenges that hermeneutics brings to ethics and education by thematizing the critical influence which ethics and contemporary educational theory and practice have on the self-understanding of philosophical hermeneutics. In the hermeneutic spirit of commitment to cultivating lifelong habits of critical thinking, moral reflection, and articulate expression, the book presents many voices that illuminate a rich cultural diversity with the profound hope of nurturing the full flourishing of human beings. The hermeneutics of education calls for diverse ways of thinking about education which deeply cares for the common good of individuals, communities, and nations. This diversity promotes a genuine interest in different approaches to the event (Ereignis) of education. Series: International Studies in Hermeneutics and Phenomenology, Vol. 8. Subject: Hermeneutics, Ethics, Education.

Church Comes Home Dave Barnhart, 2020-09-15. People have lost faith in all collective institutions: government, corporations, the media, and the church. We are in the midst of a spiritual disaster. A flood of biblical proportions, and house churches provide lifeboats for people who are seeking a more authentic life-giving form of Christian community. Many people remember that the early church started in homes, but they don't understand that house churches are still a legitimate and viable model today. House churches can create the intimacy so many people are hungry for. They can nurture life-changing discipleship for individuals and create justice-centered communities. Networked house churches can become truly diverse, multi-ethnic communities that spread the Gospel by emphasizing practices over programs. These communities de-center the preacher, opting instead for grassroots organizing, but they are not leaderless; they are leader-full. This book provides an alternative model for denominations and established churches to consider. It will help pastors reconnect with the traditions of community organizing, itinerant preaching, and discipleship training that sparked Methodism and other church movements in the United States. Church Comes Home offers alternative ways to look at some of the problems facing our church and our culture.

New Wine Tastings Paul Louis Metzger, 2011-01-01. This collection of essays provides samplings of a theological engagement of culture that Paul Louis Metzger has been developing over the years in his work as founder and director of The Institute for the Theology of Culture. New Wine, New Wineskins at Multnomah Biblical Seminary of Multnomah University. Metzger espouses an incarnational over against a predominantly worldview-oriented or market-driven theological approach to engaging culture and situates his work in Trinitarian, communal, and co-missional thought forms. This volume of biblically and theologically framed and compassion-driven essays addresses such themes as postmodernity, structural evil, cultural genocide, sexuality, HIV/AIDS, the prison system, the global slave trade, and the arts. It religious in the United States today In Choosing Our Religion Elizabeth Drescher explores the diverse complex spiritual lives of Nones across generations and across categories of self identification such as Spiritual But Not Religious Atheist Agnostic Humanist just Spiritual and more Drawing on more than one hundred interviews conducted across the United States Drescher opens a window into the lives of a broad cross section of Nones diverse with respect to age gender race sexual orientation and prior religious background She allows Nones to speak eloquently for themselves illuminating the processes by which they became None the sources of information and inspiration that enrich their spiritual lives the practices they find spiritually meaningful how prayer functions in spiritual lives not centered on doctrinal belief how morals and values are shaped outside of institutional religions and how Nones approach the spiritual development of their own children These compelling stories are deeply revealing about how religion is changing in America both for Nones and for the religiously affiliated family friends and neighbors with whom their lives remain intertwined
