

The background of the entire page is a highly detailed illuminated manuscript. It features a variety of elements: at the top, a bird is depicted within a floral border; below that, a large, stylized green and blue landscape element; and the bottom half is dominated by a complex scene with several figures in a landscape, surrounded by dense, swirling golden and blue patterns. The overall style is characteristic of late medieval or early modern manuscript illumination.

The Mitre: Its Origins and Early Development Nancy Spies, 2024-06-17 The story of the mitre began during the 11th century church reform movements and was surprisingly inspired by a popular pastime After a thousand years of bare heads the Church finally had an official hat signaling newly structured internal dynamics an increase in power and influence in society and greater parity with secular leaders

The Carmina Burana: Songs from Benediktbeuern (Second Edition) Tariq William Marshall, 2013-04-01 This collection explores monetary institutions linking Europe and the Americas in the seventeenth to nineteenth centuries

Manuscripts and Medieval Song Helen Deeming, Elizabeth Eva Leach, 2015-05-28 The manuscript sources of medieval song rarely fit the description of songbook easily Instead they are very often mixed compilations that place songs alongside other diverse contents and the songs themselves may be inscribed as texts alone or as verbal and musical notation This book looks afresh at these manuscripts through ten case studies representing key sources in Latin French German and English from across Europe during the Middle Ages Each chapter is authored by a leading expert and treats a case study in detail including a listing of the manuscript s overall contents a summary of its treatment in scholarship and up to date bibliographical references Drawing on recent scholarly methodologies the contributors uncover what these books and the songs within them meant to their medieval audience and reveal a wealth of new information about the original contexts of songs both in performance and as committed to parchment
