Interracialism Werner Sollors, 2000 Interracialism has formed torn apart defined and divided the American nation since its earliest history This volume explores the primary texts of interracialism as a means of addressing core issues in American racial identity

The Southern Version of Cursor Mundi Vol I: Lines 1-9228 Sarah M. Horrall, 1978 The medieval poem Cursor Mundi is a biblical verse account of the history of the world offering a chronological overview of salvation history from Creation to Doomsday Originating in northern England around the year 1300 the poem was frequently copied in the north before appearing in a southern version in substantially altered form Although it is a storehouse of popular medieval biblical lore and a fascinating study in the eclectic use of more than a dozen sources the poem has until now attracted little scholarly attention This five part collaborative edition presents the Arundel version of the poem with variants from three others In addition it provides a discussion of sources and analogues detailed explanatory notes and a bibliography Published in English

Thinking Medieval Romance Katherine C. Little, Nicola McDonald, 2018-11-10 Medieval romances with their magic fountains brave knights and beautiful maidens have come to stand for the Middle Ages more generally This close connection between the medieval and the romance has had consequences for popular conceptions of the Middle Ages an idealized fantasy of chivalry and hierarchy and also for our understanding of romances as always already archaic part of a half forgotten past And yet romances were one of the most influential and long lasting innovations of the medieval period To emphasize their novelty is to see the resources medieval people had for thinking about their contemporary concern and controversies whether social order Jewish Christian relations the Crusades the connectivity of the Mediterranean women's roles as mothers and how to write a national past This volume takes up the challenge to think romance investigating the various ways that romances imagine reflect and describe the challenges of the medieval world

Southern Review, 1831

The Southern Review, 1831 Faulkner's Reception of Apuleius' The Golden Ass in The Reivers Vernon L. Provencal, 2020-07-09 Faulkner's final novel The Reivers has been gently dismissed by scholars and critics as no more than its subtitle claims A Reminiscence Although the new millennium has seen a new appreciation for Faulkner's later novels The Reivers is still perceived as a slightly fictionalized comic memoir romanticizing the early life of the author in the pre civil rights American South This volume takes this dismissal of The Reivers to task for failing to appreciate its employment of the Apuleian narrative of life altering metamorphosis to offer as his literary farewell hope for humanity's self redemption Vernon L. Provencal studies the reception of The Golden Ass in The Reivers as comic novels of moral katabasis wilful descent into the lawless underworld and providential anabasis societal and spiritual redemption As the independent basis of the reception study The Reivers receives its first ever detailed reading while The Golden Ass is read anew from the teleological perspective offered by the undervalued prophecy that in the end the comic hero would become the book itself

The Works of Alain Locke Charles Molesworth, 2012-06-11 With the publication of The New Negro in 1925 Alain Locke introduced readers all over the U S to the vibrant world of African American thought As an author editor and patron Locke rightly earned the appellation Godfather of the Harlem Renaissance Yet his intellectual contributions extend far beyond that single period of cultural history Throughout his life he penned essays on topics ranging from John Keats to Sigmund Freud in addition to his trenchant social commentary on race and society The Works of Alain Locke provides the largest collection available of his brilliant essays gathered from a career that spanned forty years They cover an impressively broad field of subjects philosophy literature the visual arts music the theory of value race politics and multiculturalism Alongside seminal works such as The New Negro the volume features essays like The Ethics of Culture Apropos of Africa and Pluralism and Intellectual Democracy Together these writings demonstrate Locke s standing as the leading African American thinker between W E B Du Bois and Martin Luther King Jr The foreword by Henry Louis Gates Jr and the introduction by Ballads from Manuscripts ; 2 Richard Williams, Frederick James Furnivall, 1873 The Southern Version of Cursor Mundi, Vol. I Sarah M.
