The Onus Of Ancestry:

The Bones of the Ancestors are Shaking Russell Kaschula, 2002 In The Bones of The Ancestors Are Shaking Russell Kaschula provides an ample introduction to the subject of oral poetry both drawing on earlier accounts and presenting his own material much of which has hitherto been unavailable in book form Kaschula presents rich texts and translations of the Xhosa praise poetry for which southern Africa has long been famous not only in the context of studies of African oral literature but also among comparative scholars of world literature The texts and translations in this book are a valuable and attractive addition to the record ranging as they do from nineteenth century examples to late twentieth century praises for Joe Slovo F W de Klerk the South African soccer squad or Nelson Mandela the latter being a special focus of the volume Professor Ruth Finnegan The Open University UK

Jesus Christ as Logos Incarnate and Resurrected Nana (Ancestor) Rudolf K. Gaisie, 2020-10-16 This book seeks to demonstrate the significance of Ancestor Christology in African Christianity for christological developments in World Christianity Ancestor Christology has developed in the process of an African conversion story of appropriating the mystery of Christ Eph 3 4 in the category of ancestors Logos Christology in early Christian history developed as an intricate byproduct in the conversion process of turning Hellenistic ideas towards the direction of Christ A F Walls Hellenistic Christian writers and modern African Christian writers thus share some things in common and when their efforts are examined within the conversion process framework there are discernible modes of engagement The mode of Logos Christology that one finds in Origen for example is an innovative application of the understanding of Jesus Christ as Logos incarnate a new key but not discontinuous with the Johannine suggestive mode or the clarificatory mode of Justin Martyr African Ancestor Christology is at the threshold of an innovative mode and the argument this book makes is that this strand of African Christology should be pursued in the indigenous languages aided by respective translated Bibles a suggested way is a Logos Ancestor Nanas discourse in Akan Christianity

Ancestors, Kings, and the Dao Constance A. Cook, 2020-10-26 Ancestors Kings and the Dao outlines the evolution of musical performance in early China first within and then ultimately away from the socio religious context of ancestor worship Examining newly discovered bamboo texts from the Warring States period Constance A Cook compares the rhetoric of Western Zhou 1046 771 BCE and Spring and Autumn 770 481 BCE bronze inscriptions with later occurrences of similar terms in which ritual music began to be used as a form of self cultivation and education Cook's analysis links the creation of such classics as the Book of Odes with the ascendance of the individual practitioner further connecting the social actors in three types of ritual boys coming of age heirs promoted into ancestral government positions and the philosophical stages of transcendence experienced in self cultivation The focus of this study is on excavated texts it is the first to use both bronze and bamboo narratives to show the evolution of a single ritual practice By viewing the ancient inscribed materials and the transmitted classics from this new perspective Cook uncovers new linkages in terms of how the materials were shaped and reshaped over time and illuminates the development of eulogy and song in changing ritual contexts Our Indigenous Ancestors Carolyn R. Larson, 2015-08-13

Our Indigenous Ancestors complicates the history of the erasure of native cultures and the perceived domination of white European heritage in Argentina through a study of anthropology museums in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Carolyn Larson demonstrates how scientists collectors the press and the public engaged with Argentina's native American artifacts and remains and sometimes living peoples in the process of constructing an authentic national heritage She explores the founding and functioning of three museums in Argentina as well as the origins and consolidation of Argentine archaeology and the professional lives of a handful of dynamic curators and archaeologists using these institutions and individuals as a window onto nation building modernization urban rural tensions and problems of race and ethnicity in turn of the century Argentina Museums and archaeology she argues allowed Argentine elites to build a modern national identity distinct from the country's indigenous past even as it rested on a celebrated extinct version of that past As Larson shows contrary to widespread belief elements of Argentina's native American past were reshaped and integrated into the construction of Argentine national identity as white and European at the turn of the century Our Indigenous Ancestors provides a unique look at the folklore movement nation building science institutional change and the divide between elite scientific and popular culture in Argentina and the Americas at a time of rapid sweeping changes in Latin American culture and society

The House of Our Ancestors Thomas Reuter, 2021-10-25 The House of Our Ancestors is a study of the Mountain Balinese or Bali Aga an ethnic group with a distinct history and culture who are thought to be the indigenous people of Bali Indonesia In popular ideas of Balinese identity the highland people feature as the conceptual counterpart to the royal houses established in the southern lowlands of the island Hidden in shadow of this courtly culture the world of the highland Balinese has been largely ignored even though Bali counts among the most researched localities in the world This book explores their social organization and status economy from the perspective of an innovative theory of precedence Regional domains villages and origin houses among the Bali Aga are all conceived and ranked in reference to the basic ideas of a sacred origin in the past and of an order of precedence connecting the past with the present The analysis of precedence ranking evident at all levels of Bali Aga social organization leads to the development of a new theory of status for Austronesian societies that departs radically from the notion of hierarchy as proposed by Louis Dumont in his classic study of the Indian caste system

Archetypes and Ancestors Adrian Desmond,1984 The social construction of scientific knowledge clearly one of the most exciting trends in the history of science in the 1890 s has made a solid stride forward with the publication of Archetypes and Ancestors Adrian Desmond set out to determine how much light might be shed on the mid Victorian controversies over fossil reconstruction by an investigation of the ideological commitments and political programs of London paleontologists The answer is a great deal of light The resulting book is thoroughly fascinating Philip Rehbock American Historical Review A sophisticated study of the colonization of scientific territory specifically of rival attempts to design the dinosaur and of the constructive not just obstructive role of social pressures in the making of lasting contributions to science Not least it is a joy to read perkily irreverent at times and full of nice vignettes and memorable turns of phrase Roy Porter Times Higher Education Supplement The A-Z Guide to Tracing Ancestors in Britain F. C. Markwell,1989 This is an A to Z glossary of terms relating to genealogical research in Britain Arranged alphabetically it contains definitions explanations bibliographies sources addresses and signposts pointing to every conceivable to topic of interest to the family historian It is everything known about those curious British terms such as Poor Law Letters Patent State Papers Chancery Proceedings GRO and CRO Also covered are what market towns are so important in the search for elusive marriage records The A Z Guide To Tracing Ancestors In Britain answers all these questions and hundreds more The Indian Digest Herbert Cowell,1873 Tracing Your Georgian Ancestors, 1714-1837 John Wintrip,2018-05-30 The Georgian period 1714 to 1837 was a key stage in our modern history so some understanding of it is essential for family historians who want to push their research back into the eighteenth century and beyond and John Wintrip s handbook is an invaluable introduction to it In a sequence of concise insightful chapters he focuses on those aspects of the period that are particularly relevant to genealogical research and he presents a detailed guide to the variety of sources that readers can consult as they pursue their research While fewer sources are available than for more recent history obstacles in the way of further research can often be overcome through knowledge of a wide range of sources and a greater understanding the historical context together with the use of sound research techniques So the author provides not only a historical overview of relevant topics but he also describes the records of the period in detail This expert guide to researching the Georgians will open up the field for experienced researchers and for newcomers alike

Act-Based Conceptions of Propositional Content Friederike Moltmann, Mark Textor, 2017-07-03 The notion of a propositional content plays a central role in contemporary philosophy of language Propositional content makes up both the meaning of sentences and the content of propositional attitudes such as belief One particular view about propositional content has been dominant in analytic philosophy namely the Fregean conception of propositions as abstract mind independent objects that come with truth conditions But propositions in this sense raise a range of issues which have become a center of debate in current philosophy of language In particular how should propositions as abstract objects be understood and how can they represent things and be true or false A number of philosophers in contemporary analytic philosophy as well as in early analytic philosophy and phenomenology have approached the notion of a propositional content in a different way not by starting out with an abstract truth bearer but by focusing on cognitive acts of agents such as acts of judging It is in terms of such acts that the notion of a propositional content on their view should be understood The act based perspective historically goes back to the work of Central European philosophers in particular that of Husserl Twardowski Meinong and Reinach However their work has been unduly neglected and is in fact largely inaccessible to contemporary analytic philosophers The volume presents a central selection of work of these philosophers that bear on an act based conception of philosophical content some of which in new translations one paper by Reinach some of which published in English for the very first time two papers by Twardowski In addition the volume presents new work by leading contemporary philosophers of language pursuing or discussing an act based conception of propositional content Moreover the book contains a crosslinguistic study of nominalizations for actions and products a distinction that plays a central role in the philosophy of language of Twardowski
