The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The world's agrifood systems stand at a crossroads. With 1.3 billion youth globally, the future of food livelihoods and economic resilience depends on their participation in agrifood systems. At the same time, agrifood systems need youth to drive productivity innovation and sustainability in a crucial and rapidly evolving sector. FAO's The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems report is a call to action. It presents the most comprehensive evidence-based analysis of youth in agrifood systems to date, highlighting both the opportunities and structural barriers that shape their engagement. It explores how transforming agrifood systems can enhance decent job opportunities and food security for youth and how empowered youth can drive this transformation. It concludes highlighting policy recommendations and areas of investments to foster more equitable and sustainable agrifood systems where rural youth are both beneficiaries and leaders of change.

Development and the Next Generation, 2006-01-01 The theme of The World Development Report 2007 is youth: young people between the ages of 12 to 24. As this population group seeks identity and independence, they make decisions that affect not only their own well-being but that of others, and they do this in a rapidly changing demographic and socio-economic environment. Supporting young people's transition to adulthood poses important opportunities and risky challenges for development policy. Are education systems preparing young people to cope with the demands of changing economies? What kind of support do they get as they enter the labor market? Can they move freely to where the jobs are? What can be done to help them avoid serious consequences of risky behavior such as death from HIV/AIDS and drug abuse? Can their creative energy be directed productively to support development thinking? The report will focus on crucial capabilities and transitions in a young person's life: learning for life and work, staying healthy, working, forming families and exercising citizenship. For each, there are opportunities and risks for all.
