

World Studies Extended Essay Subject Guide

Overview

An EE in world studies gives students an opportunity to undertake an interdisciplinary study of an issue of contemporary global significance.

Interdisciplinary in this context means research that draws on the methods, concepts and theories of two IB Diploma Programme subjects.

Students are required to

- identify an issue of global importance
- identify a local manifestation of the issue of global importance
- develop a clear rationale for taking an interdisciplinary approach and use the conceptual framework and vocabulary of two Diploma Programme subjects.

This provides an opportunity for students to conduct independent interdisciplinary research (not necessarily primary research) that draws on Diploma Programme subjects and integrates them to produce a coherent and insightful analysis of the global issue they choose to investigate.

It should be noted that law and education are not Diploma Programme subjects.

World studies EEs are registered in one of six areas of study: these are not the same as the Diploma Programme subjects. They are:

- conflict, peace and security
- culture, language and identity
- environmental and/or economic sustainability
- equality and inequality
- health and development
- science, technology and society.

Fabian, Mary Hayden, 2019-10-15 The Diploma Programme was the first programme to be devised and implemented by the International Baccalaureate over fifty years ago. Since its creation the curriculum upon which the programme is based has been continuously developed to take into account the rapidly changing needs of students, schools, higher education and employment contexts. For much of that time the programme has included three essential components that must be undertaken by students who wish to graduate with the Diploma: Theory of Knowledge, Extended Essay and Creativity, Activity and Service (CAS). Taken together over time these have come to be regarded as a core of the Diploma Programme, although they were not described as such at the outset. This edited collection is intended to provide input into the current review of the IB Diploma Programme. It comprises contributions from experienced authors, researchers and practitioners who were invited to reflect upon the nature of the core as it exists at present, to raise issues in relation to the future development of the core and to share experience in the learning and teaching of the core components across a wide range of schools in both national and international systems of education. Questions concerning the concept of the core as a whole, developing students as internationally minded thinkers and the challenges of bringing coherence to the core in establishing a holistic approach to the curriculum underpin the individual chapters throughout. Contributors: Edward Allanson, Tom Brodie, John Cannings, Christian Chiarenza, Mary Donnellan, Jenny Gillett, Robin Julian, Julian Kitching, Justin Laleh, Ann Lautrette, James MacDonald, Shona McIntosh, Heather Michael, Paul Regan, John Royce, John Sprague, George Walker. International Education and Schools Richard Pearce, 2013-10-24 Over the last forty years the estimated number of international schools worldwide has increased from fewer than 300 to 6400 in 2012. This explosion is a response to the needs of a world in which borders are being traversed with ever greater ease and children increasingly need to be prepared for the global opportunities that await them. In this book international school specialists reflect on where the movement has come from, how it stands and where developments are heading, offering insightful observations on these unique institutions. This is a comprehensive resource for students, researchers and professionals with an interest in the future of education in a globalized world. The SAGE Handbook of Research in International Education Mary Hayden, Jack Levy, Jeff Thompson, 2015-10-13 The landscape of international education has changed significantly in the last ten years and our understanding of concepts such as international, global and multicultural are being re-evaluated. Fully updated and revised and now including new contributions from research in South East Asia, the Middle East, China, Japan, Australasia and North America, the new edition of this handbook analyses the origins, interpretations and contributions of international education and explores key contemporary developments including internationalism in the context of teaching and learning, leadership standards and quality in institutions and systems of education, the promotion of internationalism in national systems. This important collection of research is an essential resource for anyone involved in the practice and academic study of international education, including researchers and teachers in universities, governmental and private curriculum development agencies, examination authorities.
