State System Lars Mjøset,Nils Butenschøn,Kristian Berg Harpviken,2024-04-19 Showcasing the legacy of Norwegian political scientist and sociologist Stein Rokkan this volume ushers in a new vision in the field of state formation and nation building The Men and Women We Want Jeanne D. Petit,2010 Should immigrants have to pass a literacy test in order to enter the United States Progressive Era Americans debated this question for more than twenty years and by the time the literacy test became law in 1917 the debate had transformed the way Americans understood immigration and created the logic that shaped immigration restriction policies throughout the twentieth century Jeanne Petit argues that the literacy test debate was about much more than reading ability or the virtues of education It also tapped into broader concerns about the relationship between gender sexuality race and American national identity The congressmen reformers journalists and pundits who supported the literacy test hoped to stem the tide of southern and eastern European immigration To make their case these restrictionists portrayed illiterate immigrant men as dissipated dependent paupers immigrant women as brood mares who bore too many children and both as a eugenic threat to the nation s racial stock Opponents of the literacy test argued that the new immigrants were muscular virile workers and nurturing virtuous mothers who would strengthen the race and nation Moreover the debaters did not simply battle about what social reformer Grace Abbott called the sort of men and women we want They also defined as normative the men and women they were unquestionably white unquestionably American and unquestionably fit to shape the nation s future Jeanne D Petit is Associate Professor of History at Hope College

Why We Write Jim Downs,2013-11-05 Why We Write provides a forum for scholars activists and novelists to reflect on the ways in which they use their writing and academic work to create social change This volume uncovers the political agendas social missions and personal and professional experiences that compel writers to bring their stories to the page Why We Write examines the dual commitment of writing articles and books that are committed to high scholarly standards as well as social justice These essays will be of great interest to college and graduate students who currently lack a model of social justice scholarship Listening Beyond the Echoes Nick Couldry,2015-12-03 In this book Nick Couldry media and cultural theorist from the London School of Economics asks what are the priorities for media and cultural research today at a time of the intensified mediation of all fields of social life threats to democratic legitimacy and serious instability on the global political stage The book calls for a decentered media research that rejects easy assumptions about media's role in holding societies together and instead looks more critically at the difference media make on the ground to the material conditions of our lives In what detailed ways do media transform knowledge and agency in daily life How do media contribute to the culture of democratic politics And most difficult of all how can we live ethically with and through media Couldry's previous work is well known for its breadth ranging across media sociology media theory and cultural theory Here he draws also on political theory and ethics to develop a tightly argued account of how media and cultural research must now reorient itself if it is to remain relevant and critical Nick Couldry is Reader in Media Communications and Culture at the London School of Economics and Political Science He is the author or editor of five books including Media Rituals A Critical Approach Routledge 2003 The Place of Media Power Routledge 2000 and coedited with James Curran Contesting Media Power Rowman and Littlefield 2003
