Evaluation of World Bank Programs in Afghanistan 2002-11 The World Bank,2013-08-23 This report evaluates the outcomes of World Bank Group support to Afghanistan from 2002 11 Despite extremely difficult security conditions which deteriorated markedly after 2006 the World Bank Group has commendably established and sustained a large program of support to the country The key messages of the evaluation are While World Bank Group strategy has been highly relevant to Afghanistan s situation beginning in 2006 the strategies could have gone further in adapting ongoing programs to evolving opportunities and needs and in programming activities sufficient to achieve the objectives of the pillars in those strategies Overall Bank Group assistance has achieved substantial progress toward most of its major objectives although risks to development outcomes remain high Impressive results have been achieved in public financial management public health telecommunications and community development substantial outputs have also been achieved in primary education rural roads irrigation and microfinance all started during the initial phase Bank assistance has been critical in developing the mining sector as a potential engine of growth However progress has been limited in civil service reform agriculture urban development and private sector development The Bank Group s direct financial assistance has been augmented effectively by analytic and advisory activities and donor coordination through the Afghanistan Reconstruction Trust Fund Knowledge services have been an important part of Bank Group support and have demonstrated the value of strategic analytical work even in areas where the Bank Group may opt out of direct project financing With the expected

reduction of the international presence in 2014 sustainability of development gains remains a major risk because of capacity constraints and inadequate human resources planning on the civilian side To enhance program effectiveness the evaluation recommends that the Bank Group help the government develop a comprehensive long term human resources strategy for the civilian sectors focus on strategic analytical work in sectors that are high priorities for the government assist in the development of local government institutions and in the interim support the development of a viable system for service delivery at subnational levels assist in transforming the National Solidarity Program into a more sustainable financial and institutional model to consolidate its gains help strengthen the regulatory environment for private sector investment and scale up IFC and MIGA support to the private sector

Looking Beyond the Runway Nawal K. Taneja, 2016-12-05

The global airline industry facing significant changes and discontinuity is prompted and forced to deal with a new normal Who would have imagined a few years ago that a significant percentage of consumers in the US now prefer to fly low cost airlines instead of full service airlines because they perceive the product to be better airlines would generate up to a third of their total income from non ticket revenue many low cost airlines would add complexity to their original simple business models through the development of code share agreements the use of global distribution systems and travel agents to distribute their seats Jetstar a low cost subsidiary of Qantas would grow faster and be more profitable than its parent a survey carried out by Ryanair would show that 42 percent of passengers would be willing to stand on short one hour flights if they could pay 50 percent less than seated passengers passengers could pay as little as US 2 000 for a transatlantic Business Class ticket on top brand airlines Lufthansa would have ownership in airlines based in Austria Belgium Italy Switzerland Turkey the UK and the US and that it would continue to pursue equity ownership in airlines based in Poland and Scandinavia or the Japanese and Canadian governments would struggle to find different ways to bail out their heretofore flag carriers To deal with this upcoming new normal airlines have to go beyond their short term circumstantial strategies they need strategic renewal of their ageing business model In this candidly written book Nawal Taneja explains what will separate the winners from the losers He maintains the leaders will be the airlines that 1 exploit this crisis driven change to their best advantage 2 learn to work around the airline inherent constraints that prevent them from running their businesses just like other businesses 3 learn from successes and failures of other global enterprises 4 sharpen their business intelligence analytics and strategic agility and 5 proactively explore the pockets of growth in this emerging markets century To help airline executives become informed of new competitive games the author analyzes numerous business sectors such as auto hospitality retail technology and entertainment For example relevant lessons can be learned from the strategic mistakes made by the US automakers Likewise emergent and compelling insights can be gained in superior customer experience from Ritz Carlton and Zappos and in value creating innovation from Cirque du Soleil and Zipcar The book also features a multitude of forewords from airlines and related businesses to provide readers with multiple perspectives on the changing landscape in the global airline industry Nawal Taneja is a career analyst of the global airline industry with wide ranging experience in the aviation industry academia and public policy Encouraged by industry executives he has written five other books for practitioners in the global airline industry including FASTEN YOUR SEATBELT The Passenger is Flying the Plane and Flying Ahead of the Airplane

International Economic Law, Globalization and Developing Countries Julio Faundez, Celine Tan, 2010 This book is both breathtaking in its scope and impressive in its attention to legal and institutional detail in situating developing countries in the evolving body of international economic law Essays in this volume canvas most important areas of international economic law including international trade law international financial regulation the regulation of foreign direct investment and multinational corporations foreign aid the enforcement of human rights standards and core international labour standards on multinational corporations international enforcement of anti corruption conventions international competition law international intellectual property rights and international environmental law A pervasive theme compellingly developed in most of these papers is the asymmetric structure of international institutions that generate rules in these various areas in which developing countries are mostly rule takers rather than equal participants The current global financial crisis may provide a welcome opportunity for re evaluating these institutional asymmetries In any such re evaluation this book will provide a veritable cornucopia of constructive new insights

Public Administration Michael Anthony Tarallo,2012-04-09 How public affairs are run depends upon the degree of authority and control central government decides to relinquish to regional and local governments and the extent to which it favors citizen involvement in the governing process Public administrators do not operate in a vacuum The context within which decision making takes place greatly influences public administrators approach to public issues Consequently what government decides to do and how it decides to carry it out affects the lives of people and how people perceive their role in the unfolding of public affairs While public administration varies from one country to another public administrators inevitably face similar challenges Running a government is not easy it is complex dynamic contested supported subject to special interests both demand and supply driven just to name a few In executing government functions public administrators unsurprisingly contend with major decision making questions While obviously not exhaustive this book addresses some key issues challenging practitioners These challenges include questions on what gets included in the policy agenda questions on policy response to problems through adoption and or adaptation of exogenous policies questions on the dangers of displacing policy goals questions on transferring government activities to specialized agency questions on decentralizing powers to regional and local governments questions on combating corruption and questions on managing public resources It is widely recognized that policy implementation is much more challenging than its design Nonetheless it is the manner in which public administrators address these challenges that creates opportunities for a more effective long term policy prioritization design and coordination a more effective and inclusive public governance and a more effective use of public resources for the delivery of needed public services
