Cirlot,2006-10-19 The unvarying essential meanings of around 1 000 symbols and symbolic themes commonly found in the art literature and thought of all cultures through the ages are clarified ARCHAEOLOGY - Volume I Donald L.

Hardesty,2010-06-15 Archaeology is a component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Archaeology is a road for traveling into the past that is independent of and complementary to documents and memory The archaeological record provides historical perspectives on variability and change in human life support systems with the potential for use in planning for future sustainable development The Theme is organized into four different topics which represent the main scientific areas of the theme Foundations of Archaeology The Archaeology of Life Support Systems World Cultural Heritage Preserving Archaeological Sites and Monuments which are then expanded into multiple subtopics each as a chapter The first topic deals with historical methodological and theoretical foundations of archaeology The second topic explores the archaeological record of human life support systems and includes chapters on foraging food production such as farming and nomadic lifestyles civilizations water management systems and sustainability World cultural heritage is the third topic Finally the fourth topic covers the preservation of cultural memorials such as archaeological sites landscapes and monuments These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional

Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers NGOs and GOs Human and Machine Perception Virginio Cantoni, Vito di Gesù, Alessandra Setti, Domenico Tegolo, 2012-12-06 The following are the proceedings of the Second International Workshop on Human and Machine Perception held in Trabia Italy on July 21-25 1996 under the auspices of two Institutions the Cybernetic and Biophysics Group GNCB of the Italian National Research Council CNR and the Centro Interdipartimentale di Tecnologie della Conoscenza of Palenno University A broad spectrum of topics are covered in this series ranging from computer perception to psychology and physiology of perception visual auditory tactile etc The theme of this workshop was Human and Machine Perception Information Fusion The goal of information and sensory data fusion is to integrate internal knowledge with complementary and/or redundant information from many sensors to achieve and maintain a better knowledge of the environment The mechanism behind the integration of information is one of the most difficult challenges in understanding human and robot perception The workshop consisted of a pilot phase of eight lectures introducing perception sensorialities in nature and artificial systems and of five subsequent modules each consisting of two lectures dealing with solutions in nature and machines respectively and a panel discussion Strangers to Nature Gregory R. Smulewicz-Zucker, 2012-03-22 Strangers to Nature challenges a reading public that has grown complacent with the standard framework of the animal ethics debate Human influence on and the control of the natural world has greater consequences than ever making the human impact on the lives of animals more evident We cannot properly interrogate our conduct in the world without a deeper understanding of how our actions affect animals It is crucial that the human-animal relationship become more central to ethical inquiry This volume brings together many of the leading scholars who work to redefine and expand the discourse on animal ethics The contributors examine the radical developments that change how we think about the status of non-human animals in our society and our moral obligations Strangers to Nature will engage both scholars and lay people by revealing the breadth of theorizing about current human-non-human animal relationships The Age of Sutton Hoo M. O. H. Carver, 1992 The Age of Sutton Hoo runs from the fifth to the eighth century AD the age which separates the fall of the Roman Empire from the emergence of the nation-states that have endured down to the present day This is a dark and difficult age where hard evidence is rare but glittering and richly varied myths king-lists place-names sagas settlements runic inscriptions palaces belt buckles post-holes middens and graves says the editor are all grist to our mill This volume celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of that most famous burial of the early middle ages the great treasure now in the British Museum unearthed from the centre of a ninety-foot long ship buried in the sand beneath a mound on remote Suffolk heathland at Sutton Hoo It also marks the end of the major campaign of excavations carried out there over the past decade which involved the widest possible range of disciplines The scholars whose work is gathered here represent together with Martin Carver's concluding chapter summarising the results of the latest excavations the current state of knowledge about this extraordinary site that it still has secrets to reveal is shown by the last-minute discovery of a striking
