Margaret Hall, 2017-10-30 A great wave of fundraising patriotic associations followed in the wake of Great Britain's declaration of war on Germany on 4 August 1914 at home but also right across the empire. The most successful public campaign of all was launched in London at the beginning of 1915. Known as the Imperial Aircraft Flotilla, the scheme aimed to attract contributions towards aircraft production costs from throughout the British Empire. Any country, locality, or community that provided sufficient funds for an entire aeroplane could have it named after them. It was promised that when the machine crashed or was shot down, the name would be transferred to a new one of the same type. Margaret Hall examines the Imperial Aircraft Flotilla as a facet of imperial history. She analyzes the fundraising efforts in Canada and Newfoundland, the Zanzibar Protectorate, Fiji, Mauritius, and the Caribbean, Hong Kong, the Malay states, and Straits Settlements, West Africa, especially Gold Coast, Southern Rhodesia, Basutoland, Swaziland, and the Union of South Africa, the Indian empire, and Burma, British subjects in independent Abyssinia and Siam, in the Shanghai International Settlement, and the British community of Argentina, Australia, and New Zealand. This remarkable and detailed book discusses the propaganda and counter-subversion usages of the Imperial Aircraft Flotilla and what the support for the imperial war effort reveals about contemporary national and regional identities and aspirations. South Africa Business and Investment Opportunities Yearbook IBP USA, 2013-08

Hate and Reconciliation Guido Cuyvers, 2022-11-29 Every day the media confront us with the many forms and excesses of hatred cyber hatred hate speech bullying hate groups religiously inspired violence against dissidents and genocides Hatred is human and current It is an intrinsic part of what can happen between people Personal experiences can lead people to hate someone In society and even on a global level hatred is again and again the motor of misunderstanding and often also of violence between people Sometimes hate smoulders almost unconsciously at other times he is furious and serves as a flag for serious violence Hatred has many faces and seems omnipresent that much is clear The term Erida complex after the Greek goddess of hate symbolizes the common and deeply rooted nature of hatred Hatred is mighty as a destructive force He knows how to motivate individuals and large groups of people to bring out the worst in themselves He turns life among people into a desert However he cannot compete with Irene the goddess and the symbol of peace After all he is unable to correct what went wrong Nor is it a ground for building a peaceful society At the same time hatred is impotent against the positive freedom of people to transcend the negative Those who are open to this will see many connecting and therefore Irenian initiatives Hatred does not and should not have the last word Opposite the well of Erida is the Irenese the way to peace After examining the nature of hate this book focuses a wide angle lens on its many faces in individuals and groups as well as peoples Facing the negativity of hatred this book presents constructive approaches to fostering relationships between people and peace

State Capture in the Militarized Fight Against Illegal Small-Scale Goldmining in Ghana Jasper Abembia Ayelazuno, Maxwell Akansina Aziabah, 2025-05-22 This slim book addresses one of the most vexed questions about governance and politics in natural resources rich albeit poor countries across the world Why have most states in natural resources rich developing countries failed to regulate their artisanal and small scale mining ASM industries This failure is both intellectually and politically puzzling because these same states demonstrate capability in different functions and regulations of other sectors of the economy Ghana is a quintessential example of this puzzle Despite its legendary reputation as a relatively well governed peaceful and democratic country its ASGM sector is characterized predominantly by informality criminality and horrendous environmental and human development effects which include the ferocious denuding of the country's vegetation cover toxic pollution of water bodies and serious health and safety hazards inflicted on the rural populace in mining areas This book seeks to contribute a fresh state theoretical perspective state capture to unravel this puzzle It argues that the chaotic criminal and ruinous Ghanaian ASGM sector known in Ghanaian parlance as the galamsey menace is caused by state capture The Ghanaian state has been captured by the mining power elites something that allows them to undertake criminal and destructive mining with impunity These state captors are not doing artisanal and small scale mining ASM but rather capitalist mechanized mining CMM which ravages the environment on a large scale and with breakneck speed State capture in Ghana's ASGM sector is demonstrated clearly in the book through vivid description and rigorous analysis of the failed militarised fight against the galamsey menace between 2017 and 2022 This is the period the Head of State and Commander in Chief of the Ghana Armed Forces GAF vowed to fight and defeat the perpetrators of this crime at the risk of losing his presidency He then declared war on the perpetrators and commandeered the coercive apparatuses of state led by the GAF to fight it The book argues that the state failed spectacularly to win this war the evidence of which is the aggravation of the deleterious environmental and human effects of galamsey For example the rivers and water bodies of Ghana have witnessed unprecedented levels of poisoning with lethal chemicals The rural populace in mining communities is inflicted with serious maternal and neonatal health hazards such as hideous congenital and physical disorders of some babies born in these communities and sadly the deaths of these babies Why despite its overwhelming coercive capacity did the Ghanaian state fail to win a war against a weak enemy galamsey operators who are mostly unarmed civilians and operating in plain sight of state agencies Using the lens of state captured this book addressed this question offering fascinating and penetrating insights into the puzzle Being the first to do this the book contributes to advancing theory methods and political praxis in the study and governance of the ASM industry in Ghana As failed military crackdowns on illegal ASM are common across natural resources rich developing countries the contribution this book makes may be germane to these countries in say Latin America and Asia
