Refugee Entrepreneurship Nadeera Ranabahu, Huibert P. de Vries, Robert T. Hamilton, 2024-11-22 This comprehensive volume explores the phenomenon of refugee entrepreneurship and advances the discussions and debates in the domain The growing number of refugees across the world creates a compelling need to study the social and economic activities of refugees in different contexts and to share experiences and debate how to better support refugee populations This book covers academic practical and policy issues in refugee entrepreneurship seeking to present the current status of research in this evolving field The topics include how to identify and differentiate refugee entrepreneurship refugees business practices the personal economic and social values and impacts of refugee entrepreneurship and the institutional support and role of ecosystems in facilitating refugee entrepreneurship Future research directions are also outlined This book provides scholars with the theoretical foundations and evidence base to advance refugee entrepreneurship research Support agencies will learn from the experiences of others about the delivery of tailored support and policymakers will recognise the need for empathy and consistency in developing host country strategies for refugees

Police Work and Identity Andrew Faull, 2017-09-07 This is a book about the men and women who police contemporary South Africa Drawing on rich original ethnographical data it considers how officers make sense of their jobs and how they find meaning in their duties It demonstrates that the dynamics that lead to police abuses and scandals in transitional and neo liberalising regimes such as South Africa can be traced to the day to day experiences and ambitions of the average police officer It is about the stories they tell themselves about themselves and their social worlds and how these shape the order they produce through their work By focusing on police officers this book positions the individual in primacy over the organisation asking what policing looks like when motivated by the pursuit of ontological security in precarious contexts It acknowledges but downplays the importance of police culture in determining officers attitudes and behaviour and reminds readers that most officers lives are entangled in and shaped by a range of social political and cultural forces It suggests that a job in the South African Police Service SAPS is primarily just that a job Most officers join the organisation after other dreams have slipped beyond reach their presence in the Service being almost accidental But once employed they re write their self narratives and enact carefully choreographed performances to ease managerial and public pressure and to rationalize their coercive practices In an era where evidence and what works reigns supreme and where cop culture is often deemed a primary socializing force this book emphasises how officers personal histories ambitions and vulnerabilities remain central to how policing unfolds on the street

Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich, Adri Sauerman, 2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement In 1994 as the country s apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency the South African Police Service SAPS that would provide unbiased policing to all the country's people More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity This book offers a unique perspective by providing in depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy Using the organizational theory of police integrity the book analyzes the complex set of historical legal political social and economic circumstances shaping police integrity A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules their expectations of discipline within the SAPS and their willingness to report misconduct The book also examines the influence of the respondents race gender and supervisory status on police integrity Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology political science as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations

Urban Informality in South Africa and Zimbabwe Innocent Moyo, Trynos Gumbo, 2021-01-09 This book adds to the research of urban informality in the Global South with a specific focus on South Africa and Zimbabwe It addresses the agency and the potential transformative capacity of the phenomenon of urban informality in connection with Southern African cities and towns It adopts a political economy approach to analyse the evolution of informality in cities and its implications for urban planning It brings to bear how the South African and Zimbabwean historical and or ideological and contemporary political and economic trajectories have impacted on the ever changing nature of urban informality both spatially and structurally and or compositionally thus resulting in unique urban materialities which are aspects that have scarcely been studied or discussed in the extant literature This book therefore seeks to close the academic gap by dealing with the dearth of literature on spatial re locational discourses of urban informality The work positions urban informality as a resilient force with potency in terms of political mobilisation and re shaping urban spaces Though these are fundamental issues they have received comparatively little attention especially in literature that focuses on the Southern African region Accordingly undergraduate and post graduate students as well as academics in the fields of Urban Geography Political Science Development Studies Sociology Town and Regional Planning among others will find the range of topics and depth of coverage in this book particularly valuable Similarly practitioners and activists on issues of urban informality and urban governance will find the book very useful

undervalued academic field of enquiry that is marked by its disciplinary absence and omission from academic curricula in Britain. There is a long and rich history of research on Blackness and Black populations in Britain. However, Blackness in Britain has too often been framed through the lens of racialised deficits constructed as both marginal and pathological. Blackness in Britain attends to and grapples with the absence of Black Studies in Britain and the parallel crisis of Black marginality in British society. It begins to map the field of Black Studies scholarship from a British context by collating new and established voices from scholars writing about Blackness in Britain. Split into five parts, it examines Black studies and the challenge of the Black British intellectual Revolution, resistance and state violence, Blackness and belonging, exclusion and inequality in education, experiences of Black women and the gendering of Blackness in Britain. This interdisciplinary collection represents a landmark in building Black Studies in British academia, presenting key debates about Black experiences in relation to Britain, Black Europe and the wider Black diaspora. With contributions from across various disciplines including sociology, human geography, medical sociology, cultural studies, education studies, post colonial English literature, history and criminology, the book will be essential reading for scholars and students of the multi and interdisciplinary area of Black Studies.

Exploring the Conditions that Impact Local Administration Responsiveness work to Migrants in selected Metropolitan Municipalities of South Africa Kibreab Habtemichael Gebereselassie, 2022-01-03

Research on local administration responsiveness towards migrants and non citizens revealed that demographic characteristics in local municipalities have often caused challenges for local administrations to be responsive to the diverse needs of their communities. Lucio et al 2013, Lucio 2016. The objective of this study was to explore the conditions that impact on the local administration's responsiveness work to migrants in Durban, Cape Town, Johannesburg metropolitan municipalities of South Africa. The study's goal is met by identifying five major conditions that impact the local administration's responsiveness work to migrants in the study areas. Conducted in two rounds, field research, the study used qualitative research design methods. Semistructured interviews, group discussions, field memos and observations were used to collect data. Thematic analysis method was implemented to investigate and analyze the collected raw data. This dissertation also used relevant theory as framework and guide to uncover elements of local administrative responsiveness which are associated with migrants. The study identified and demonstrated that five major conditions impact the local administration's responsiveness work to migrants in the study areas: Local administration work environment, administration organizational structure and professionalism, external control from elected officials and local politics, migrant's community association and economic contribution of migrants are the main conditions that impact on the responsiveness work of the local administration. The findings also showed that anchored in the above five conditions, administrative responsiveness also varies across the selected study areas. This study also contributed by adding new insights about the mechanisms on how the local administration can address the issues of migrants who do not have a direct representation in the local government structure. Accordingly, for a better responsiveness work to migrants and to support the inclusion of migrants who do not have a direct political representation the study proposes recommendation for policy practice and research that targets on local administration responsiveness work to migrants

Hip-Hop Civics Jabari M. Evans,2025-01-22 In Hip Hop Civics Jabari Evans demonstrates how Hip Hop can be deployed in revamping formal civic education for Black and Brown youth Based on an original ethnographic study of a Hip Hop based education program the Songwriting and Production Program SWP administered by the Foundation of Music in two of Chicago s lowest performing public schools Evans argues that Hip Hop culture is central to students lives and can be used as a vehicle for students to engage in civic practices and extract critical lessons about mainstream media relational currency identity development and race racism within the classroom Through a compelling exploration of the SWP program Evans contends that Hip Hop should be part of formal education spaces and instruction a conclusion he reaches through his understanding of how Hip Hop impacted his own life and by witnessing students discuss write and produce Hip Hop music as part of the SWP program

Encountering the City Jonathan Darling, Helen F. Wilson, 2016-07-15 Encountering the City provides a new and sustained engagement with the concept of encounter Drawing on cutting edge theoretical work classic writings on the city and rich empirical examples this volume demonstrates why encounters are significant to urban studies politically philosophically and analytically Bringing together a range of interests from urban multiculture systems of economic regulation security and suspicion to more than human geographies soundscapes and spiritual experience Encountering the City argues for a more nuanced understanding of how the concept of encounter is used This interdisciplinary collection thus provides an insight into how scholars writing on and in the city mobilise theorise and challenge the concept of encounter through empirical cases taken from Africa Asia Australia Europe North America and South America These cases go beyond conventional accounts of urban conviviality to demonstrate how encounters destabilise rework and produce difference fold together complex temporalities materialise power and transform political relations In doing so the collection retains a critical eye on the forms of regulation containment and inequality that shape the taking place of urban encounter Encountering the City is a valuable resource for students and researchers alike

Fighting For Mandela - The Explosive Autobiography of The Woman Who Helped to Destroy Apartheid Barbara Jones & Priscilla Jana, 2016-02-25 Priscilla Jana is a legendary figure in South African revolutionary politics As an Indian woman who had experienced racial oppression first hand she decided to use her degree in law to fight for the rights of her fellow people and do all she could to bring down the Apartheid state who saw her as a very real threat At one time she represented every single political prisoner on Robben Island including both the late Nelson Mandela and his wife Winnie Priscilla spent her days in court fighting human rights case after human rights case but it was at night when her real work was done As part of an underground cell she fought tirelessly to bring down the hated government This activism however came at a price One of South Africa s infamous banned persons for five years Priscilla was unable to take part in any political activities enter any place where a large number of people were gathered and had her movements severely restricted Worse her own home was attacked with petrol bombs on multiple occasions Undeterred Priscilla Jana continued her work even adopting the baby daughter of a client imprisoned on Robben Island bringing her up educating her and providing a loving home Finally upon Mandela s release and the political revolution of her beloved country Priscilla s work was rewarded as she was elected as a member of South Africa s first democratic parliament Later she was to become an ambassador to both The Netherlands and Ireland Now retired and living in Cape Town Priscilla still works and

waits for her most fervent desire the true healing and unification of South Africa Southern Communities ,1992 The Making of Twenty-First-Century Richmond Thad Williamson,Julian M. Hayter,Amy L. Howard,2024-12-02 Richmond Virginia took center stage globally in the summer of 2020 as an epicenter of antiracist protests in the wake of the police murder of George Floyd In a period of just a few weeks overwhelming public support grew for removing Richmond s Confederate monuments Activists then transformed the remaining statue of Robert E Lee into a shrine to African American resolve to the Black Lives Matter movement and to Black victims of police brutality Coming to terms with Richmond s tortured racial history however is much more difficult than toppling symbols of white supremacy This book explores these dynamics via a multidisciplinary framework of historical research public policy analysis and political analysis showing the inner dynamics of politics and governance in Richmond The authors reveal why change and progress has often been so difficult to achieve and why that matters with a focus on three fundamental policy areas education economic development and housing The result is a comprehensive assessment of urban governance in a major southern city in the early twenty first century as well as an accounting of the policy and human consequences of both its limited successes and its recurring failures The Other Special Relationship R. Kelley,S. Tuck,2016-02-22 The close diplomatic economic and military ties that comprising the special relationship between the United States and Great Britain have received plenty of attention from historians over the years Less frequently noted are the countries shared experiences of empire white supremacy racial inequality and neoliberalism and the attendant struggles for civil rights and political reform that have marked their recent history This state of the field collection traces the contours of this other special relationship exploring its implications for our understanding of the development of an internationally interconnected civil rights movement Here scholars from a range of research fields contribute essays on a wide variety of themes from solidarity protests to calypso culture to white supremacy

Corruption, Infrastructure Management and Public-Private Partnership Mohammad Heydari,Kin Keung Lai,Zhou Xiaohu,2021-10-27 Public Private Partnerships PPP or 3Ps allow the public sector to seek alternative funding and expertise from the private sector during procurement processes Such partnerships if executed with due diligence often benefit the public immensely Unfortunately Public Private Partnerships can be vulnerable to corruption This book looks at what measures we can put in place to check corruption during procurement and what good governance strategies the public sector can adopt to improve the performance of 3Ps The book applies mathematical models to analyze 3Ps It uses game theory to study the interaction and dynamics between the stakeholders and suggests strategies to reduce corruption risks in various 3Ps stages The authors explain through game theory based simulation how governments can adopt a evaluating process at the start of each procurement to weed out undesirable private partners and why the government should take a more proactive approach Using a methodological framework rooted in mathematical models to illustrate how we can combat institutional corruption this book is a helpful reference for anyone interested in public policymaking and public infrastructure
