After Freedom Katherine S. Newman, Ariane De Lannoy, 2015-03-24 Twenty years after the end of apartheid a new generation is building a multiracial democracy in South Africa but remains mired in economic inequality and political conflict The death of Nelson Mandela in 2013 arrived just short of the twentieth anniversary of South Africa's first free election reminding the world of the promise he represented as the nation's first Black president Despite significant progress since the early days of this new democracy frustration is growing as inequalities that once divided the races now grow within them as well In After Freedom award winning sociologist Katherine S Newman and South African expert Ariane De Lannoy bring alive the voices of the freedom generation who came of age after the end of apartheid Through the stories of seven ordinary individuals who will inherit the richest and yet most unequal country in Africa Newman and De Lannoy explore how young South Africans whether Black White mixed race or immigrant confront the lingering consequences of racial oppression These intimate portraits illuminate the erosion of old loyalties the eruption of class divides and the heated debate over policies designed to redress the evils of apartheid Even so the freedom generation remains committed to a united South Africa and is struggling to find its way toward that vision

Parliament, 1878 India's Maritime Strategy Shishir Upadhyaya, 2019-09-05 The first book by a former Indian naval intelligence officer on Sino India relations India's Maritime Strategy provides a unique insight into the Indian Navy tracing its post independence growth and discussing its transformation and future in the 21st century In the context of the rise of China's maritime power in the Indian Ocean this book provides a nuanced view of the extent and scope of India's maritime reach and the effect of this on Sino Indian competition Challenging the view that by developing a favourable environment alone India could seek to maintain its balance of power with China it is argued that despite durable bilateral security ties with most regional states India's maritime aspirations to be the primary net security provider for the region are unsustainable in the long term This book presents a comprehensive coverage of India's bilateral maritime security engagements with all the Indian Ocean regional states as well as the US France UK and Russia As such it will be useful to students and scholars of Indian and South Asian politics international relations and maritime security African Navies Timothy Stapleton, 2022-11-11 This edited volume focuses on aspects of the understudied theme of African sea power including African navies and the engagement of non African navies with the continent Africa possesses 48 000 kilometers of coastline comprising 38 out of 54 of the continent's states and several strategic choke points for international shipping such as the Suez Canal the Gulf of Aden and the Cape of Good Hope Nevertheless post colonial Africa's small navies and their relations with the navies of external powers have not received much scholarly attention Focusing on Sub Saharan Africa this collection attempts to address this neglect and stimulate further research by offering original chapters related to historical and contemporary themes around Africa's navies The historical chapters cover the origin of the Tanzanian Ethiopian Nigerian and Ghana navies during the era of decolonization and the Cold War the asymmetrical naval campaign fought during the Nigerian Civil War 1967-70 and the activities of the Soviet Navy in supporting African states and movements fighting lingering colonialism and white supremacy during the 1970s and 1980s Focusing on the contemporary situation other chapters discuss the engagement of the Indian Navy with Africa the potential role of the Angolan and Mozambican navies in the Southern African Development Community SADC the transformation and development of the post apartheid South African Navy and the challenges and capabilities of African navies in the early twenty first century The book concludes by discussing the question of whether African coastal countries need navies This book will be of much interest to students of naval power strategic studies African politics and International Relations Chapters 1 2 6 and 8 of this book are available for free in Open Access at www.taylorfrancis.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces Evert Kleynhans, Marco Wyss, 2025-03-01 The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces provides the first in depth and multifaceted analysis of the evolution and current state of national defence policies strategies doctrines capabilities security challenges and strategic responses of African states and their armed forces Geographically these aspects are investigated at the national sub regional and regional levels Chronologically they are analysed against the backdrop of the superpower withdrawal from the continent in the 1990s and the so called New Scramble for Africa which has seen a crescendo of renewed great power interest in the continent's resources as well as its strategic role location and relevance since the 2000s The book takes a bottom up and African centric approach and is organized around five key themes i the differing security outlooks and defence policies of African powers within the region and the different sub regions ii the strategies doctrines transformation and employment of African armed forces iii the relationship between African armed forces with sub regional regional and international organizations iv the challenges that

African states and their armed forces have been facing and their strategic responses and v the position of African perspectives and agency in the context of continental and international security and defence Understanding African security and defence especially in terms of each individual nation s ability to contribute to peacekeeping operations counterterrorism border security and internal security requires a focus on the national level of armed forces and defence policies this in turns sheds light on sub regional and regional divergences challenges and cooperation Based on this framework the chapters in this volume offer comprehensive African perspectives on African and international security and defence and in doing so show the agency of the continent s countries and armed forces in International Security and Relations Cobbett's Parliamentary Debates Great Britain.
