would have taken any man that cold morning to hear all the old clashes of the country and be shown all the places by the way where strange things had fallen out I had tales of Claverhouse as we came through the bogs and tales of the devil as we came over the top of the scaur As we came in by the abbey I heard somewhat of the old monks and more of the freetraders who use its ruins for a magazine landing for that cause within a cannon shot of Durrisdeer and along all the road the Durries and poor Mr Henry were in the first rank of slander My mind was thus highly prejudiced against the family I was about to serve so that I was half surprised when I beheld Durrisdeer itself lying in a pretty sheltered bay under the Abbey Hill the house most commodiously built in the French fashion or perhaps Italianate for I have no skill in these arts and the place the most beautified with gardens lawns shrubberies and trees I had ever seen The money sunk here unproductively would have quite restored the family but as it was it cost a revenue to keep it up Mr Henry came himself to the door to welcome me a tall dark young gentleman the Durries are all black men of a plain and not cheerful face very strong in body but not so strong in health taking me by the hand without any pride and putting me at home with plain kind speeches He led me into the hall booted as I was to present me to my lord It was still daylight and the first thing I observed was a lozenge of clear glass in the midst of the shield in the painted window which I remember thinking a blemish on a room otherwise so handsome with its family portraits and the targeted ceiling with pendants and the carved chimney in one corner of which my old lord sat reading in his Livy He was like Mr Henry with much the same plain countenance only more subtle and pleasant and his talk a thousand times more entertaining He had many questions to ask me I remember of Edinburgh College where I had just received my mastership of arts and of the various professors with whom and their proficiency he seemed well acquainted and thus talking of things that I knew I soon got liberty of speech in my new home In the midst of this came Mrs Henry into the room she was very far gone Miss Katharine being due in about six weeks which made me think less of her beauty at the first sight and she used me with more of condescension than the rest so that upon all accounts I kept her in the third place of my esteem It did not take long before all Patey Macmorland s tales were blotted out of my belief and I was become what I have ever since remained a loving servant of the house of Durrisdeer Mr Henry had the chief part of my affection It was with him I worked and I found him an exacting master keeping all his kindness for those hours in which we were unemployed and in the steward s office not only loading me with work but viewing me with a shrewd supervision At length one day he looked up from his paper with a kind of timidity and says he Mr Mackellar I think I ought to tell you that you do very well That was my first word of commendation and from that day his jealousy of my performance was relaxed soon it was Mr Mackellar here and Mr Mackellar there with the whole family and for much of my service at Durrisdeer I have transacted everything at my own time and to my own fancy and never a farthing challenged
