Joseph Conrad David J. Supino, 2022-08-13 David J Supino traces in unprecedented detail the lineaments of Joseph Conrad's authorial career and the fortunes and misfortunes of his publishers on both sides of the Atlantic This work is a model of the integrative scholarly method combining close bibliographical scrutiny of particular textual artifacts with archival recovery of book historical information in as much detail as the surviving documents allow The book is essential reading not only for students of Conrad but also for all those who wish to understand the publishing history of this era

Heart of Darkness - Ed. Goonetilleke - Third Edition Joseph Conrad, 2020-07-21 The first incarnation of this Broadview edition of Heart of Darkness appeared in 1995 the second in 1999 both were widely acclaimed and the Goonetilleke Heart of Darkness remained for many years one of Broadview's best selling titles For the third edition the book has been completely revised and updated to take account of the scholarship of the most recent generation The introduction has been extensively rewritten and the appendices of contextual materials thoroughly overhauled The two previous editions of the Goonetilleke Heart of Darkness included a substantial selection of documents on the history of Benin ranging from excerpts taken from Olaudah Equiano's eighteenth century narrative to documents concerning the Benin massacre of 1897 Those documents concerning a neighboring Bantu society were included in large part because of the paucity of known late nineteenth century documents concerning the Congo by black Africans or indeed by black observers of any nationality In place of those Benin related materials this new edition includes substantial excerpts from George Washington Williams's Letter to Leopold II as well as substantial excerpts from an extraordinary document not included in any other edition of Heart of Darkness but discussed extensively in two ground breaking twenty first century works of scholarship David Van Reybrouck's Congo The Epic History of a People and Maya Jasanoff's The Dawn Watch Joseph Conrad in a Global World the autobiography of Disasi Makulo Makulo grew up near the shore of the Congo River in the 1880s and early 1890s was enslaved by notorious ivory dealer Tippu Tip and then was taken under the wing of Henry Morton Stanley Makulo's account substantial excerpts of which are here translated into English for the first time opens an unprecedented window on life in the equatorial forest of the Congo in the late nineteenth century

Henry Green at the Limits of Modernism Marius Hentea, 2013-11-01 Although Henry Green has been recognised by James Wood David Lodge and John Updike as one of the most innovative writers of his time his significant achievement remains largely neglected Henry Green at the Limits of Modernism provides a theoretically sophisticated and historically nuanced reading of Green's novels and makes the case for Green's importance in reconsiderations of modernism late modernism and post war realism This work is the most ambitious reassessment of Green's oeuvre to date and thus critical reading for scholars interested in modernism late modernism and the evolution of British post war fiction Arguing against the predominant view of Green's fiction as an autonomous literary construction the work connects Green to a number of social and literary contexts resulting in fresh readings of his novels and also a greater accessibility to an author long considered oblique and elusive With significant investigations of Green's connection to his literary generation his multifaceted and formally innovative handling of social class his negotiations of narrative authority and authorship and the importance of disability studies to understanding Green's fiction this study charts the complex trajectories of Green's fiction against both social and literary contexts The work also moves beyond the narrow confines of British literature to explore Green's connections to broader trends in European literature

The Winding Stair Alfred Edward Woodley Mason, 1925

Silence, Space and Absence in Conrad's Works John G. Peters, 2023-10-12 This book considers the relationship between sound and silence in the works of Joseph Conrad along with their ties to Western and non Western space Throughout Conrad's works a pattern emerges where Western space is associated with sound and non Western space is associated with silence similarly Western space is portrayed as full of objects and activity whereas non Western space is portrayed as empty As these tales progress though Conrad's characters embark on transformational journeys that cause them to reassess the world they live in and sometimes even the nature of the universe These journeys invariably occur through encountering non Western space and during the course of these journeys the dichotomy between Western space perceived as replete with sound and activity and non Western space empty of such blurs such that the fullness of the West is revealed to be simply a surface hiding the emptiness beneath In the end both Western and non Western space are revealed to be absences as the absence of sound becomes a correlative for the emptiness of space and the emptiness of space becomes a metonym for the cosmological emptiness of nothingness

Heart of Darkness - Ed. Goonetilleke - Second Edition Joseph Conrad, 1999-08-16 The story of Marlow travelling upriver in central Africa to find Kurtz an ivory agent as consumed by the horror of human life as he is by physical illness has long been considered a classic and continues to be widely read and studied This edition edited by one of the leading figures in the Conrad controversy includes an introduction and explanatory notes as well as a fascinating variety of contemporary documents that help to set this extraordinary work in the context of the period from which it emerged The introduction and bibliography have been updated and two new appendices have been added the second of these is a selection of Alice Harris's extraordinary but little known photographs documenting the horrors of colonialism in turn of the century Congo

Across the Lines ,2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries The Forest and Six Short Plays John Galsworthy,1928 Modernist Melancholia Anne

Enderwitz,2015-07-02 Modernist Melancholia explores modernism s melancholic roots through the detailed discussion of writings by Freud Conrad and Ford Melancholia ties modernism to the 19th century obsession with loss and continuity and at the same time constitutes a formative moment in the history of 20th century literature modern subjectivity and critical theory
