

Narrative Organizer

PART ONE: LESSON BOMB ESTABLISHING NARRATION

Directions: Read the lesson below just as if it were a story you are going to write.

1. I am going to write what happened before the story in "The Case of Assassination."

Write, organize the graphic organizer by adding details as they occur so that I can see the sequence of events that I am writing about.

Beginning	Middle	End
Without introduction given and without background, the reader must learn where something that is happening has occurred.	Introduction: something that is happening and something without introduction given.	Introduction is given immediately after the reader has learned where it is.
Introduction is given by a person or individuals.	Introduction: reader must learn that the introduction is a person or individuals.	The reader is introduced and the reader is introduced to the story.
Introduction: reader must learn that the introduction is given by a person or individuals.	Without introduction in the story, the reader must learn that the introduction is given by a person or individuals.	Finally, introduction is given by the reader, but the reader is not the one who is given it.
