Start Right Report 1994:

Setting the scene Sally Featherstone, 2013-07-18 This book explores the importance of the environment in the Early Years and its effect on learning and emotional development. It provides examples of excellent settings for learning as well as lots of ideas for organisation, planning, displays and making changes. It will inspire practitioners with its full colour photos and practical easy to follow activities.

Involving Parents in their Children's Learning Margy Whalley, 2007-07-16 A unique guide for students, practitioners, parents and administrators of young children who want to understand specific strategies to maximise parent involvement and collaboration. Education Libraries This is an excellent book that draws extensively on the work of a children's centre that has been running for over 25 years. SENCO Update Involving Parents in their Children's Learning is the story of the pioneering work of the Pen Green Centre for children and families. Showing how early years practitioners can collaborate effectively with parents, the book includes case studies of parents and children who have attended the centre, studies which chart developments in learning for both children and parents. The book will inspire early years practitioners and offer them practical advice on ways of developing effective work with parents. Drawing on their work at the renowned Pen Green Centre, the authors show how to: support parents as their child's first educator; provide practical and psychological support to parents; involve fathers and male carers; share important child development concepts; support and extend children's learning; reach out to hard to reach parents. This New Edition follows up on the stories of people featured in the first edition, showing how they have progressed over the last few years. It also includes new chapters covering the headteacher's role in developing parental involvement programmes, how the Pen Green model has been applied in primary schools and the use of parental diaries. The book is essential reading for students on early years courses, BA FdA B Ed as well as practising early years professionals and senior management teams in primary schools.

Early Education Transformed Lesley Abbott, Dr Helen Moylett, Helen Moylett, 2002-11 Early Education Reformed provides a strong foundation of knowledge about aspects of early years education by summarising the current status and outlining paths of development for now and the future. Specially commissioned papers by some of the most respected academics currently working in the field of early childhood and education means that this book will be essential reading for early years teachers and staff, social and child care workers, researchers and policy makers.

Early Childhood Education and Care Margaret M Clark, Tim Waller, 2007-05-14 A much needed book that uniquely brings together policy and practice in early childhood education and care across the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland. It offers a wealth of information and useful websites and addresses so that importantly readers can keep abreast of the rapidly changing external environment in these countries. An essential read for those wishing to understand the background to policy and practice in early childhood education and care. Linda Miller The Open University This book is long overdue, it provides effective case studies of developments in each country, highlighting key legislation, the underlying philosophy, the formation of policies and their implementation in state voluntary and private provision The International Journal of Early Childhood This unique resource will be invaluable in helping students and others trying to understand the context of current early years provision The case studies bring the book to life and ground it in the stories of real children and their families They highlight how the similarities and differences in support for children and their families are more dependent on where they live than what they need Lesley Staggs Early childhood education and care policy has an impact on the daily lives of early years practitioners and the families and children they work with and practising and trainee early childhood professionals need to have an understanding of current policy as well as the contexts for policy making and implementation Currently the majority of textbooks for early years education and early childhood students in the UK focus on the situation in England As a result readers may have a skewed perspective on policy and practice and not be aware of the varying and different contexts in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales Also those working in settings not in England have to work hard to apply texts to their own contexts In contrast this book gives the reader easy access to information on the policies and practices in ECEC across each of the countries in the UK and the Republic of Ireland Each chapter covers o background information o policy and practice in early childhood education and care o transition o schooling and curriculum o quality assurance examination and inspection o professional development and training o future and imminent changes o case studies of children s lives In addition to describing the legislative political and practical situation in each country the book enables comparisons to be drawn and helps readers interpret the data critically It will be essential reading for modules on comparative education and international perspectives but will also form a foundation for all modules involving policy and provision on Early Years Education Early Childhood or Childhood Studies courses Practitioners undertaking CPD modules or foundation degrees and international students looking for comparative data will also find the book useful Bahrain, Oman, Qatar, And The Uae Anthony H Cordesman, 2018-02-20 This volume examines the changing economic and internal security challenges faced by the Gulf countries and the problems they face with Iran Iraq and other Gulf states The special military and security needs of Bahrain Oman Qatar and the United Arab Emirates are analyzed here in detail as are their growing demographic problems and export plans Democracy And Human Rights In The Caribbean Ivelaw L Griffith, 2018-02-02 The Caribbean like regions elsewhere is caught in what has been called democracy s global Third Wave In this volume contributors examine the nature of democratization in the region together with its affiliate human rights The aim is to extend the analysis and debates beyond political democracy and civil and political rights to consider also economic democracy and economic and social rights Early chapters address issues and dilemmas common to the democracy and human rights landscape throughout the region In particular economic crisis drug trafficking and political instability continue to threaten the region s very healthy democracy human rights profiles Next contributors consider how the form of Caribbean democracy and the status of human rights have been influenced by foreign actors and external developments Particular attention is paid to the role of the Organization of American States the United Nations nongovernmental organizations and international law Because the democracy and human rights challenges and dynamics vary across countries the work also offers extensive single country assessments

A People Betrayed Linda Melvern, 2000-08 In 1994 up to one million people were killed in Rwanda in a deliberate public and political campaign For five years Linda Melvern has worked on the story of this great crime and this book a classic piece of investigative journalism is the result The new and startling information this book contains has the making of an international scandal Melvern reveals how the great powers failed to heed the warnings of the coming catastrophe and refused to recognize the genocide when it began ignoring obligations under international law specifically the genocide convention A set of secret documents leaked to the author from within the Security Council proves that the circumstances of the genocide were suppressed or ignored

Protest, Policy, and the Problem of Violence against Women S. Laurel Weldon, 2013-12-09

Violence against women is one of the most insidious social ills facing the world today Yet governmental response is inconsistent ranging from dismissal to aggressive implementation of policies and programs to combat the problem In her comparative study of thirty six democratic governments Laurel Weldon examines the root causes and consequences of the differences in public policy from Northern Europe to Latin America She reveals that factors that often influence the development of social policies do not determine policies on violence against women Neither economic level religion region nor the number of women in government determine governmental responsiveness to this problem Weldon demonstrates for example that Nordic governments take no more action to combat violence against women than Latin American governments even though the Swedish welfare state is often considered a leader in social policy particularly with regard to women s issues Instead the presence of independently organized active women s movements plays a greater role in placing violence against women on the public agenda The breadth and scope of governmental response is greatly enhanced by the presence of an office dedicated to promoting women s status Weldon closes with practical lessons and insights to improve government action on violence against women and other important issues of social justice and democracy

The Execution of Strasbourg and Geneva Human Rights Decisions in the National Legal Order M.L. van Emmerik,P.H.Ph.M.C. van Kempen,Tom Barkhuysen,2021-09-27 In practice and legal doctrine little attention has so far been paid to the position of the applicant who has taken the long road to the European Court of Human Rights Strasbourg or a UN Human Rights Committee Geneva and finally won his her case there Does he or she see any improvement in his her position Does the applicant obtain real reparation The purpose of this book is to demonstrate how individual case decisions from Strasbourg and Geneva are implemented in the national legal order Is there a need for improving this implementation and if so how can such an improvement be achieved In this volume several legal practitioners and scholars deal with the issue of the execution of human rights decisions in the national legal order from different perspectives Emphasis is laid on the execution of Strasbourg decisions in the Dutch legal order but solutions in other Council of Europe member states are also discussed The book is intended for lawyers having a special interest in human rights both at the national and international level
