Job Training that Works United States. Congress. House. Committee on Government Reform and Oversight. Subcommittee on Human Resources and Intergovernmental Relations, 1997 This document reports the oral and written testimony submitted at a Congressional hearing on how job training works how effective employment training programs succeed and how that success is measured The hearing was based on a General Accounting Office study that found four hallmarks of effective job training individual commitment removal of personal barriers to employment a focus on basic employment skills and a close connection to the realities of the local job market Witnesses included persons who had completed job training programs operators of nonprofit organizations that conduct job training government officials involved in job training programs and representatives of corporations such as Marriott International that conduct extensive job training programs The testimony focused on the need to coordinate efforts of job training programs so that potential participants do not have to work through a maze of hundreds of agencies The witnesses pointed out that even well educated people and professionals in the human services field have a hard time determining which agencies can help them and how to find those agencies Some of the witnesses endorsed one stop services such as those supported in the GI Bill and in a proposed Career Bill KC

Committee on Ways and Means. Subcommittee on Human Resources, 1993 This document contains a record of the oral and written testimony of witnesses at a Chicago Illinois Congressional hearing on the Job Opportunities and Basic Skills JOBS Training Program Witnesses at the hearing included officials from various Illinois programs funded by the JOBS program government officials and unemployed persons They testified that the high state match of funds and services works against the successful implementation of the JOBS program and the requirements of the Family Support Act of 1988 are burdensome Witnesses noted that in times of recession the states simply do not have enough money to set up the matches for federal funds Witnesses also stated that the JOBS program s requirement that participants engage in 20 hours per week of education is unrealistic because most literacy programs or postsecondary programs require less than 20 hours of classroom work but presume home study time The 20 hour rule works against participants improving their skills Proposed changes in the JOBS legislation to lessen the amount of state money required and to make program requirements more flexible are included in these proceedings KC Guide for Training Crew Leaders ,1988 Realistic Bomber Training Initiative ,2000 John Allen Muhammad, Document Fraud, and the Western Hemisphere Passport Exception United States.
