Encountering Images of Spiritual Transformation James M. Morgan, 2013-02-27 Humans are lovers and yet a good deal of pedagogical theory Christian or otherwise assumes an anthropology at odds with human nature fixed in a model of humans as thinking things Turning to Augustine or at least Augustine in conversation with Aquinas Martin Heidegger the overlooked Jesuit thinker Bernard Lonergan and the important contemporary Charles Taylor this book provides a normative vision for Christian higher education A phenomenological reappropriation of human subjectivity reveals an authentic order to love even when damaged by sin and loves made authentic by grace allow the intellectually morally and religiously converted person to attain an integral unity Properly understanding the integral relation between love and the fullness of human life overcomes the split between intellectual and moral formation allowing transformed subjects authentic lovers to live seek and work towards the values of a certain kind of cosmopolitanism Christian universities exist to make cosmopolitans properly understood namely those persons capable of living authentically In other words this text gives a full orb'd account of human flourishing rooted in a phenomenological account of the human as basis for the mission of the university
