The Alaskan Homesteader:

The Alaskan Homesteader Mel Adkins,2013-09-16 Mel Adkins describes life in Alaska in the early days of statehood by a family from the plains of Oklahoma They learned to be inventive and self reliant in a land untouched by humans after moving more than twelve miles from the nearest road to a one hundred and sixty acre homestead on the Kenai Peninsula To a young man just entering his teens this was a dream come true but the physical labor that had to be done the first year simply to survive was more than he had ever imagined Cutting firewood with a manual cross cut saw packing water from the spring working on a sawmill and packing supplies in to the homestead on his back left little time for hunting and fishing The family almost starved and froze out that first year but sheer will power stubbornness and rugged determination for a better way of life persevered A family of the greenest chechoko s that ever homesteaded in the land of the midnight sun The Last
