

THE DUBE TRAIN

The morning was too cold for a summer morning, at least, to me, a child of the sun. But then on all Monday mornings I feel rotten and shivering, with a clogged feeling in the chest and a nauseous churning in the stomach. It debilitates any interest in the whole world around me.

The Dube Station with the prospect of congested trains, filled with sour-smelling humanity, did not improve my impression of a hostile life directing its malevolence plumb at me. All sorts of disgruntled ties darted through my brain, the lateness of the trains, the showing savagery of the crowds, the grey aspect around me. Even the announcer over the loudspeaker gave confused directions. I suppose it had something to do with the peculiar chemistry of the body on Monday morning. But for me all was wrong with the world.

Yet, by one of those flukes that occurs in all routines, the train I caught was not full when it came. Usually try to avoid seats next to the door, but sometimes it cannot be helped. So it was that Monday morning when I hopped into the Third Class carriage. As the train move off, I leaned out of the paneless window and looked lack-lustrely at the leaden platform churning away beneath me like a fast conveyer belt.

Two or three yards away , a door had been broken and repaired with Masonite so that it would be an opening door no more. Moreover, just there a seat was missing, and there was a kind of a hall.

The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920 2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies

Education ,1981-08 Prosperity Through Growth Arthur B. Laffer,Matthew Elliott,Michael Hintze,Douglas McWilliams,2025-10-07 Prosperity Through Growth is a primer for reviving the UK economy co authored by some of our finest economic minds celebrated US economist Dr Arthur B Laffer inventor of the Laffer curve policy campaigner Matthew Elliott businessman Michael Hintze and founder of the Centre for Economics and Business Research Douglas McWilliams It begins by setting out the principles of ideal economic policy the North Star of prosperity through growth and applies them to the UK s current position The thinking takes account of the age of autocracy and AI in which political decisions in democracies are constrained and talented and entrepreneurial people are increasingly mobile making economic incentives even more important The final section draws on interviews with more than thirty economic decision makers from the worlds of business politics and the civil service including five Prime Ministers and nine Chancellors The interviews give insights into the economic and political causes of low growth and provide a strategy for implementing a pro growth agenda Specially commissioned research shows how the UK is forecast to slide down the league table of GDP per capita over the next twenty five years The book argues that such a slide is not inevitable and outlines a fully costed and modelled 24 7 Growth Plan to show how the decline can be averted
