The Abiding Presence of the Holy Ghost in the Soul Bede Jarrett, 2014-04-10

The Abiding Presence of the Holy Ghost in the Soul. Holy Spirit or Holy Ghost is a term found in English translations of the Bible but understood differently among the Abrahamic religions. For the large majority of Christians, the Holy Spirit or Holy Ghost from Old English gast (spirit) is the third divine person of the Trinity, the Triune God manifested as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, each person itself being God. The Christian doctrine of the Trinity defines God as three consubstantial persons or hypostases: the Father, the Son (Jesus), and the Holy Spirit, one God in three persons. The three persons are distinct yet are one substance, essence, or nature. In this context, a nature is what one is, while a person is who one is. According to this central mystery of most Christian faiths, there is only one God in three persons, while distinct from one another in their relations of origin, as the Fourth Lateran Council declared: it is the Father who generates the Son, who is begotten, and the Holy Spirit who proceeds, and in their relations with one another, they are stated to be one in all else: co-equal, co-eternal, and consubstantial, and each is God, whole and entire. Accordingly, the whole work of creation and grace is seen as a single operation common to all three divine persons, in which each shows forth what is proper to him in the Trinity, so that all things are from the Father through the Son and in the Holy Spirit.
