Institutions of World Literature Stefan Helgesson, Pieter Vermeulen, 2015-06-19 This volume engages critically with the recent and ongoing consolidation of world literature as a paradigm of study On the basis of an extended active and ultimately more literary sense of what it means to institute world literature it views processes of institutionalization not as limitations but as challenges to understand how literature may simultaneously function as an enabling and exclusionary world of its own It starts from the observation that literature is never simply a given but is always performatively and materially instituted by translators publishers academics and academics critics and readers as well as authors themselves This volume therefore substantiates refines as well as interrogates current approaches to world literature such as those developed by David Damrosch Pascale Casanova and Emily Apter Sections focus on the poetics of writers themselves market dynamics postcolonial negotiations of discrete archives of literature and translation engaging a range of related disciplines The chapters contribute to a fresh understanding of how singular literary works become inserted in transnational systems and conversely how transnational and institutional dimensions of literature are inflected in literary works Focusing its methodological and theoretical inquiries on a broad archive of texts spanning the triangle Europe Latin America Africa the volume unsettles North America as the self evident vantage of recent world literature debates Because of the volume s focus on dialogues between world literature and fields such as postcolonial studies translation studies book history and transnational studies it will be of interest to scholars and students in a range of areas The White Banner ,1851

Flinders Petrie,2023-04-20 Facsimile edition of the 1972 reissue of Flinders Petrie s 1914 pioneering typological catalogue of Egyptian amulets one of a number of such catalogs to be reissued in this new series Remarkably though it can be criticized in points of detail emanating from more recent research it remains unsurpassed in its comprehensive description typological classification and interpretation While an absence of reasoned argument for the dating of his various groups is a weak point of Petrie s study from the point of view of modern scholarship his attention to detail and careful consideration of typology and potential meaning borne of decades of observation means that this and the other catalogs in the series remain as invaluable reference books for Egyptologists Based on examination of his own extensive collection of Egyptian artifacts Petrie presents a typologically ordered catalog divided into seven main groups defined on the basis of interpretation rather than subject amulets of similar i e relating to body parts power property protection human headed animal headed and animal gods Each class of object is described along with its varieties material distribution position within burials its chronological position as defined by Petrie himself and its meaning interpreted Collections containing examples are listed and hundreds of objects are presented in photographs and a selection of burial

Recollections of Dante Gabriel Rossetti Sir Hall Caine,1882 “The” Collected Works of Dante Gabriel Rossetti Dante Gabriel Rossetti,1890 Present Imperfect Andrew van der Vlies,2017-05-19 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed The first full length study of affect in South Africa s literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle a disappointment Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present A New and Corrected Version of the New Testament ,1833
