The City Of God Vol Ii Empire Library Volume 2:

A History of the Laws of War: Volume 2 Alexander Gillespie,2011-10-07 This unique new work of reference traces the origins of the modern laws of warfare from the earliest times to the present day Relying on written records from as far back as 2400 BCE and using sources ranging from the Bible to Security Council Resolutions the author pieces together the history of a subject which is almost as old as civilisation itself The author shows that as long as humanity has been waging wars it has also been trying to find ways of legitimising different forms of combatants and ascribing rules to them protecting civilians who are either inadvertently or intentionally caught up between them and controlling the use of particular classes of weapons that may be used in times of conflict Thus it is that this work is divided into three substantial parts Volume 1 on the laws affecting combatants and captives Volume 2 on civilians and Volume 3 on the law of arms control This second book on civilians examines four different topics The first topic deals with the targetting of civilians in times of war This discussion is one which has been largely governed by the developments of technologies which have allowed projectiles to be discharged over ever greater areas and attempts to prevent their indiscriminate utilisation have struggled to keep pace The second topic concerns the destruction of the natural environment with particular regard to the utilisation of starvation as a method of warfare and unlike the first topic this one has rarely changed over thousands of years although contemporary practices are beginning to represent a clear break from tradition The third topic is concerned with the long standing problems of civilians under the occupation of opposing military forces where the practices of genocide collective punishments and or reprisals and rape have occurred The final topic in this volume is about the theft or destruction of the property of the enemy in terms of either pillage or the intentional devastation of the cultural property of the opposition As a work of reference this set of three books is unrivalled and will be of immense benefit to scholars and practitioners researching and advising on the laws of warfare It also tells a story which throws fascinating new light on the history of international law and on the history of warfare itself

Introducing Christian Theologies, Volume Two Victor I. Ezigbo,2015-12-31 Should Christianity's theological face remain largely European and North American in the twenty first century in the wake of the expansion of Christianity in sub Saharan Africa Asia and Latin America The question about the theological face of Christianity cannot be ignored For too long African Asian and Latin American theologians have been left out of mainstream theological discussions Few standard textbooks on Christian theology acknowledge the unique contributions theologians from these continents have made to global Christianity Introducing Christian Theologies Voices from Global Christian Communities is a two volume textbook that alters the predominantly European and North American theological face of Christianity by interacting with voices of Christian communities from across the globe Introducing Christian Theologies explores the works of key theologians from around the world highlighting their unique contributions to Christian theology and doctrine

Excerpt: THE EIGHTH BOOK i i CHAPTER I The scope of the aforepassed disputation and what is remaining to treat of In these controversies of the gods some have held How can deities of both natures good and evil others of better minds did the gods that honour to hold them all good But those that held the first held the airy spirits to be gods also and called them gods as they called the gods spirits but not so ordinarily Indeed they confess that Jove the prince of all the rest was by Homer called a demon But such as affirmed all the gods were good ones and far better than the best men are justly moved by the arts of the airy spirits to hold firmly that the gods could do no such matters and therefore of force there must be a difference between them and these spirits and that what ever displeasing affect or bad act they see caused wherein these spirits do show their secret power that they hold is the devil's work and not the gods But yet because they place these spirits as mediators between their gods and men as if God and man had no other means of commerce to carry and recarry prayers and benefits from the one to the other this being the opinion of the most excellent philosophers the Platonists with whom I choose to discuss this question whether the adoration of many gods be helpful to eternal felicity In the last book we disputed VOL II 8i F Of these how the devils delighting in that which all wise and air spirits honest men abhor as in the foul enormous irreligious fictions of the gods crimes not men s and in the damnable practice of magic can be so much nearer to the gods that men must make them the means to attain their favours and we found it utterly impossible So now this A Select Library of Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers of the Christian Church: Theodoret, Jerome Gennadius, Rufinus: Historical writings, etc. 1892 Philip Schaff, Henry Wace, 1892 Catalogue of the Books in the Manchester Free Library: Additions from 1864 to 1879. 1 v. in 2. 1879, 1879 Loving and Studying Nature Malcolm Skilbeck, 2022-01-05 This volume investigates crucial ways in which nature has been apprehended understood and valued in different cultures and over time It is grounded in current global concerns about growing threats to the natural environment Through a critical appraisal of specific examples it ranges widely over historical and contemporary attitudes and behaviours It presents a wide ranging analysis of selected ideas and attitudes in the evolution mainly of western civilisation from the time of the cave artists to the present day It argues for preservation and conservation of the natural resources and beauty of the earth in the face of religious supernatural arguments and the rise of consumer capitalism and consumerism A Select Library of the Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers of the Christian Church: The confessions and letters of St. Augustin, with a sketch of his life and work, 1886 Catalogue of the Public Library of the City of Detroit Henry M.
