Gaustad, 1983 The ninth edition of this successful textbook describes the full range of the astronomical universe and how astronomers think about the cosmos Cosmic Perspectives in Space Physics S. Biswas, 2013-12-01 In the early years of the twentieth century Victor Hess of Germany flew instruments in balloons and so discovered in 1912 that an extra terrestrial radiation of unknown origin is incident on the earth with an almost constant intensity at all times These penetrating non solar radiations which were called Cosmic Rays by Millikan USA opened the new frontier of space physics and many leading scientists were attracted to it At the end of World War II a number of space vehicles e g stratospheric balloons rockets and satellites were developed In 1950 and onwards these vehicles enabled spectacular advances in space physics and space astrophysics New horizons were opened in the explorations of cosmic rays the earth's magnetosphere the Sun and the heliosphere the moon and the planets Using space borne instruments exciting discoveries were made of stars and galaxies in the infra red ultra violet x ray and gamma ray wavelengths In this text book these fascinating new findings are presented in depth and on a level suitable for senior undergraduate and graduate students research scientists and scientists of other disciplines Although there are several excellent books and monographs on different aspects most of these deal with specific areas In this text book the findings of space physics and astrophysics are presented in an integrated manner with proper introductions to the fundamental aspects and these are supplemented by relevant ground based observations The Cosmic Perspective Jeffrey O. Expanding Worldviews: Astrobiology, Big History and Cosmic Perspectives Ian Crawford, 2021-06-07 This book collates papers presented at two international conferences held at the Australian National University in 2018 and Birkbeck College London in 2019 exploring the relationships between big history and astrobiology and their wider implications for society These two relatively new academic disciplines aim to integrate human history with the wider history of the universe and the search for life elsewhere The book will show that despite differences in emphasis big history and astrobiology share much in common especially their interdisciplinary approaches and the cosmic and evolutionary perspectives that they both engender Specifically the book addresses the unified all embracing nature of knowledge the impact of big history on humanity and the world at large the possible impact of SETI on astrobiology and big history the cultural signature of Earth's inhabitants beyond our own planet and the political implications of a planetary worldview The principal readership is envisaged to comprise scholars working in the fields of astrobiology big history and space exploration interested in forging interdisciplinary links between these diverse topics together with educators and a wider public interested in the societal implications of the cosmic and evolutionary perspectives engendered by research in these fields

Bennett, 2004 Multielement System Design in Astronomy and Radio Science L.E. Kopilovich, L.G. Sodin, 2013-03-09 The multielement systems have been widely used in many fields of astronomy and radio science in the last decades This is caused by the increasing demands on the resolution and sensitivity of such systems over the wide range of the electromagnetic wavelengths from gamma up to radio The ground based optical and radio interferometers gamma ray and X ray orbital telescopes antenna arrays of radio telescopes and also some other radio devices belong to scientific instruments using multi-element systems Therefore the current problems of the optimal construction of such systems or precisely those of searching for the best arrangement of the elements in them were formulated A rather large number of scientific papers including those of the authors is devoted to these problems and we believe that the time has come to integrate the basic results of the papers into the monograph The offered book consists of three parts The first part is concerned with the optimal synthesis of optical and radio interferometers of various types and purposes the synthesis of non equidistant antenna arrays is considered in the second part and the methods for the construction of coded masks for X ray and gamma ray orbital telescopes are expounded in the third one Since in the text combinatorial constructions which are little known to astronomers are used the necessary information is given in the appendices Various tables containing the parameters of the systems considered are also represented
