The Invasion of the Funky Pastors Harry N. Agina, 2010. When I left Nigeria as a boy for the USA in search of the proverbial greener pastures, there was Christianity and there was the African Culture in Nigeria, both of which I had grown up in. Christianity fed me with the word of God, while my African Culture made me desirably and proudly different from a white man, an Indian, Mexican, or Asian. That was many years ago, in the mid-1900s. Today, when I visit my little remote African village to enjoy some of the cultural values that I have missed so much while in the western world, my brethren in the village tell me that the culture is no more. Indeed, the entire Christian community of Nigeria seems to be heading towards the notion that the African Culture is suddenly out of fashion. The people's excuse is that they have seen the light in their new wave Christianity. Some traditionalists are not taking the culture abuse lying down and with their fire-for-fire response to the Christian zealots, there is truly a war of cultures in Nigeria. I am right in the middle of it, and this is my story. I must prepare my reader's mind for my general hard-nosed criticism of the Nigerian Commercial Church. In this story, I lament that too many Christians are willfully making mischief and a whole lot of money all in the name of God. I am a devout Christian and would never advertently say one bad word against Christianity or any religion for that matter. My grouse is with the growing number of mischievous funky pastors, their zombie-like followers, their gross misinterpretation of the Holy Bible, and the war that they have declared against the African Culture. One might even say that my criticism is venomous, but I call it brutally frank or frankly brutal.
