Sessional Papers Ontario. Legislative Assembly, 1904 The Politics and Governance of Basic Education Brian Levy, Robert Cameron, Ursula Hoadley, Vinodhan Naidoo, 2018-09-05 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education Using the vivid example of South Africa a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re orient the system towards learning Papers, 1919 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1916 Developing Teachers' Assessment Literacy Kim Koh, Cecille DePass, Sean Steel, 2019-07-29 Since the turn of the 21st century developing teachers assessment literacy has been recognized as one of the key levers for improving instructional practice and student learning in light of the education reforms worldwide A substantial body of literature is focused on teachers assessment literacy or teachers capacity in assessment and teachers continuing professional development in assessment As we approach the third decade of the 21st century developing teachers assessment literacy needs to be more responsive to the need of both preservice and inservice teachers who come from linguistically and culturally diverse backgrounds The authors concur that both preservice and inservice teachers in today's complex educational contexts require a deeper level of understanding of assessment Additionally teachers are highly encouraged to appreciate the history of educational assessment in different sociocultural and political contexts as well as to know how to determine the merits of a range of assessment practices best suited for their lesson planning and classroom teaching In this book the authors discuss significant aspects of developing teachers assessment literacy in different sociocultural and political contexts Based on their respective educational backgrounds academic experiences and applied fields of study each of the authors presents a critical response to the topic of assessment Their accounts represent the complexity of the subject through a breadth and range of content and perspectives By expanding the terms of reference regarding assessment the authors have developed a book with a far richer panorama on assessment as a springboard for inquiry Quality education Muchativugwa L. Hove, Martha Matashu, 2021-11-30 This book investigates the intersections between education social justice gendered violence and human rights in South African schools and universities The rich and multifarious tapestry of scholarship and literature emanating from South African classrooms provides a fascinating lens through which we can understand the complex consequences of the economies of education social justice imperatives gendered violence in the lives of women and children and marginalised communities The scholarship in the book challenges readers to imagine alternative futures predicated on the transformational capacity of a democratic South Africa Contributors to this volume examine the many ways in which social justice and gendered violence mirror express project and articulate the larger phenomenon of human rights violations in Africa and how in turn the discourse of human rights informs the ways in which we articulate interrogate conceptualise enact and interpret quality education The book also wrestles with the linguistic contradictions and ambiguities in the articulation of quality education in public and private spaces This book is essential reading for scholars seeking a solid grounding in exploring quality education the instances of epistemic disobedience the political implications of place and power and human rights in theory and practice
