A New Guinea Bibliography ,1984 Notes from the Royal Botanic Garden, Edinburgh Royal Botanic Garden, Edinburgh,1990 Ten Thousand Years of Cultivation at Kuk Swamp in the Highlands of Papua New Guinea Jack Golson,Tim Denham,Philip Hughes,Pamela Swadling,John Muke,2017-07-07 Kuk is a settlement at c 1600 m altitude in the upper Wahgi Valley of the Western Highlands Province of Papua New Guinea near Mount Hagen the provincial capital The site forms part of the highland spine that runs for more than 2500 km from the western head of the island of New Guinea to the end of its eastern tail Until the early 1930s when the region was first explored by European outsiders it was thought to be a single uninhabited mountain chain Instead it was found to be a complex area of valleys and basins inhabited by large populations of people and pigs supported by the intensive cultivation of the tropical American sweet potato on the slopes above swampy valley bottoms With the end of World War II the area with others became a focus for the development of coffee and tea plantations of which the establishment of Kuk Research Station was a result Large scale drainage of the swamps produced abundant evidence in the form of stone axes and preserved wooden digging sticks and spades for their past use in cultivation Investigations in 1966 at a tea plantation in the upper Wahgi Valley by a small team from The Australian National University yielded a date of over 2000 years ago for a wooden stick collected from the bottom of a prehistoric ditch The establishment of Kuk Research Station a few kilometres away shortly afterwards provided an ideal opportunity for a research project Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science Allen Kent,1997-05-08 Supplement 23 AIDS HIV Programs and Services in Libraries to User Interface Evaluation A New Guinea Bibliography: Economics, Commerce, Transport, Psychology and Education ,1984 The Neglected War Hermann Hiery,1995-12-01 In the summer of 1914 Germany s Pacific colonies were a quiet backwater of its empire But the shots of Sarajevo shattered the Pacific as well as Europe Within weeks of the outbreak of World war I Western Samoa German territory to be taken in the war New Guinea and the Micronesian lands were occupied by Australian New Zealand and Japanese forces Current historiography claims that World War I made little difference to the indigenous populations of the Pacific and that this change in colonial masters had little effect on those they ruled The Neglected War challenges this interpretation World War I and its aftermath Hermann Hiery claims had a tremendous effect on the Pacific Islands Hiery details the policies pursued by Australia New Zealand and Japan showing how each viewed and treated the indigenous populations Administered by military officers with little civil oversight the new colonial regimes employed the mandates they had received at the Paris Peace Conference with impunity Hiery s scrupulous review of the evidence gathered from largely unknown primary sources has uncovered a story of masquerades and coverups negligence and duplicity leading in some cases to full blown atrocities Most of all he tells the story of Pacific Islanders how they coped with the dramatic changes brought about by the war and how they tried to influence its consequences Many Islanders were fully aware that their political destiny was to be redefined after the war and a few even saw it as an opportunity to achieve independence This is also the story of their failure Behind the evidence gathered here lie fundamental questions How important are the differences in the nature of particular colonial regimes and what effect do such differences have on indigenous peoples How do indigenous peoples interpret disparities in colonial rule This revisionist work addresses these issues while shedding light on a crucial time in the history of the Pacific

Pangu Returns to Power Peter King,1989 Examines the political background to the 1982 elections transverses such campaign issues as corruption and extravagance in government relations ith Indonesia divisions in the ruling coalition and party swapping and analyses the national election result and its aftermath in Pangu s parliamentary triumph of August 1982

The Rise of Pacific Literature Matthew Hayward, Maebh Long, 2024-09-03 In the 1960s and 1970s the staff and students of two newly founded universities in the Pacific Islands helped foster a golden age of Oceanian literature At the University of Papua New Guinea and the University of the South Pacific bold experiments in curriculum design recentered literary studies around a Pacific modernity Rejecting the established British colonial model writer scholars placed Pacific oratory and a growing body of Oceanian writing at the heart of the syllabus From this local core students ventured outward to contemporary postcolonial literatures where they saw modernist techniques repurposed for a decolonizing world Only then did they turn to foundational modernist texts encountered at last as a set of creative tools rather than a canon to be copied or learned by rote The Rise of Pacific Literature reveals the transformative role and radical adaptations of global modernisms in this golden age Maebh Long and Matthew Hayward examine the reading and teaching of Pacific oral narratives European and American modernisms and African Caribbean and Indian literature tracing how Oceanian writers appropriated and reworked key texts and techniques They identify the local innovations and international networks that spurred Pacific literature s golden age by reading crucial works against the poetry prose and plays on the syllabi of the new universities Placing internationally recognized writers such as Albert Wendt Subramani Konai Helu Thaman Marjorie Crocombe and John Kasaipwalova alongside lesser known authors of works published in Oceanian little magazines this book offers a wide ranging new account of Pacific literary history that tells a fresh story about modernism s global itineraries and transformations

Pacific Universities R. G. Crocombe, 1988 Gender Analysis in Papua New Guinea Elizabeth C. Brouwer, Bruce M. Harris, Sonomi Tanaka, 1998-01-01 In October 1996 The East Asia and Pacific Region developed a Regional Gender Action Plan that stressed the importance of country specific strategies regarding gender issues This report on gender in Papua New Guinea intends to lay the foundation for such a strategy The report provides an outline of the key historical economic demographic political geographic socio cultural legal and institutional issues that are relevant to understanding the status of women in Papua New Guinea today Papua New Guinea John Connell, 2005-07-28 Since 1975 the economy of Papua New Guinea has focused on mineral rather than agricultural production as previously This is the first book to look at these changes in a complex rapidly evolving nation from an economic perspective Distance Education in the South Pacific

Photographing Papua Max Quanchi, 2009-03-26 Photographing Papua is a study of photography in the public domain in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. It argues that southeastern New Guinea, known as British New Guinea and then as Papua when it became an Australian colony, was created as a geographical place through visual representation in illustrated magazines and newspapers, lavishly illustrated travelogues and mission hagiography, serial encyclopedia, lantern slides and postcards. Readers knew Papua because many thousands of black and white photographs of Papuans, villages and material culture rapidly swamped the reading public once the process of halftone newsprint reproduction became possible. In an innovative and breakthrough fashion, Photographing Papua switches attention from a few well-known prints in museums and archives, in some cases repeatedly reproduced but mostly rarely seen outside of scientific and scholarly circles. It deals instead with thousands of photographs often used in ways not intended when the photograph was taken but which editors and publishers and subsequent photographers gradually made conform to an iconographic imperative, a sort of abbreviated visual gallery of natives and a quick access pathway to the actual and imagined lives of Papuans in the last Unknown. As New Guinea was titled, it is a study of representation, colonialism, cross-cultural encounters and the early world of illustrated media and photo journalism. IUCN Red List of Threatened Plants, 1997 Black Feminist Anthropology, 25th Anniversary Edition

Irma McClaurin, 2024-11-15 Black Feminist Anthropology: Theory, Politics, Praxis and Poetics is a groundbreaking collection that centers the imaginative intellectual perspectives, voices and experiences of Black American feminist anthropologists. Twenty-five years ago, as the Foreword states, this book dared to put three words together in the title: Black Feminist Anthropology. That have not always kept company with each other and in the minds of many, both in and outside of the academy, they should remain separate. Standing the test of time, it is still a bold reimagining of anthropology and all social sciences as inclusive and decolonized while establishing a new Black feminist anthropology canon that decades later is too often taken for granted as normative. Black Feminist Anthropology is filled with a message of theoretical possibilities that anyone who enters its pages will find healing, life-saving and an affirmation that Black women anthropologists have contributed much to the theory, politics, praxis and poetics of anthropology, gender and women's studies, masculinity studies, queer studies, the social sciences generally and any other discipline that seeks transformation from the inside out. It is both an archive and a legacy for the next generation. Recasting Anthropological Knowledge Jeanette Edwards, Maja Petrović-Šteger, 2011-09-01 This collection of original essays provides an innovative and multifaceted reflection on the impact and inspiration of the scholarship of eminent anthropologist Marilyn Strathern. A distinguished team of international contributors, all former students of Strathern, reflect on the impact of their relationship with their teacher and address the wider conceptual contribution of her work through their own writings. The essays provide an accessible entry into Strathern's scholarship for those new to her work and a rich source of material which mobilises and deploys her concepts, including new ethnographic examples and discussion of contemporary political issues for those more familiar with her scholarship The result is a collection that dissects contextualises and reroutes concepts of relationality inspiration and knowledge in novel and unpredictable ways Recasting Anthropological Knowledge will prove invaluable to all students of anthropology and will be of interest to scholars across the social sciences Journal of the Adelaide Botanic Gardens Adelaide Botanic Garden,1985 Payback G. W. Trompf,1994-07-14 In this ambitious study the first monograph on religion and the logic of retribution Professor Trompf shows how various aspects of payback both negative and positive provide the best indices to an understanding of Melanesian views of life The book explores the reasons why people pay back and opens up a whole new dimension in the cross cultural study of human consciousness The author conducts his readers through the most complex anthropological pageant on earth illustrating his arguments from western New Guinea to Fiji Accounting Education for the 21st Century Jane O. Burns,Belverd E. Needles,1994-06-29 Accounting practice whether in business or government is more dynamic more complex and addresses a wider array of issues than it did as little as five years ago Significant and rapid social political technological and economic changes are taking place in the world economy and it is increasingly recognised that accountants in all countries play a key role in the process of economic development Accounting education is undergoing a thorough review on a worldwide basis and major developments are taking place to produce quality accounting education that can keep pace with dramatic world change This book provides an up to date view of the state of accounting education throughout the world and focusses on the global challenges facing accounting education as we approach the millenium
