Hindu Nationalism and the Language of Politics in Late Colonial India William Gould,2004-04-15 In this book William Gould explores what is arguably one of the most important and controversial themes in twentieth century Indian history and politics the nature of Hindu nationalism as an ideology and political language Rather than concentrating on the main institutions of the Hindu Right in India as other studies have done the author uses a variety of historical sources to analyse how Hindu nationalism affected the supposedly secularist Congress in the key state of Uttar Pradesh In this way the author offers an alternative assessment of how these languages and ideologies transformed the relationship between Congress and north Indian Muslims The book makes a major contribution to historical analyses of the critical last two decades before Partition and Independence in 1947 which will be of value to scholars interested in historical and contemporary Hindu nationalism and to students researching the final stages of colonial power in India Social Difference and Constitutionalism in Pan-Asia Susan H. Williams,2014-02-10 In many countries social differences such as religion or race and ethnicity threaten the stability of the social and legal order This book addresses the role of constitutions and constitutionalism in dealing with the challenge of difference The book brings together lawyers political scientists historians religious studies scholars and area studies experts to consider how constitutions address issues of difference across Pan Asia a wide swath of the world that runs from the Middle East through Asia and into Oceania The book's multidisciplinary and comparative approach makes it unique The book is organized into five sections each devoted to constitutional approaches to a particular type of difference religion ethnicity race urban rural divisions language and gender and sexual orientation in two or more countries in Pan Asia The introduction offers a framework for thinking comprehensively about the many ways constitutionalism interacts with difference Politics of the Possible Kumkum Sangari,2002 This collection of essays covers a broad range of disciplines to produce a work that rethinks relationships and divisions in gender geography class relations culture and much more to create a true politics of the possible Broadly emphasizing forms ideologies and class relations Sangari's essays crisscross and cohere around several themes the politics of social location and the connection between local metropolitan and colonial geographies as they bear on debates about the nature of knowledge the transnational and regional production of ideologies such as altruism under the aegis of colonialism ways of theorizing women's labour literacy and consent to patriarchal arrangements and dominant ideologies Sangari's analysis of Indian English and the relationships between literature and the non literary change the way we consider the divisions between the metropolitan and the sub continental In her discussion of capitalism and colonialism her egalitarian feminist viewpoint opens up and questions issues of cultural autonomy and hybridity She also critiques the impact of race caste class religion and misogyny on patriarchal ideology and its effect on women The politics of the possible mapped by these essays presents itself in several areas as a more sensitive feminist historiography as the social potential for secular activity in seemingly impossible situations in the historical possibilities that were offered by situations not doomed to inevitable outcomes and as the elements of resistance produced by the contradictions of different structures of oppression

A Journey to Mecca and London Begum Sarbuland Jung, 2025 Descended from Mughal nobility Akhtar al Nisa Begum Nawab Sarbuland Jung grew up in Hyderabad in southern India where she lived a quiet private and privileged life at the heart of the state s royal court In 1896 at the age of 20 she married Nawab Muhammad Hamidullah Khan Sarbuland Jung a prominent lawyer and the scion of a leading Muslim reformist movement In 1909 the wealthy couple embarked on a four month journey through the Middle East and Europe performing the hajj in Mecca and sitting for tea with the future king and queen of England A Journey to Mecca and London provides the first full English translation of Begum Sarbuland s Urdu travel diary from this journey of which only three original copies remain Originally intended for circulation among friends and family and later published her informal entries not only reveal the everyday practices of an Indian woman of her time but also detail her impressions and reactions as she explored the world alongside her husband As Begum Sarbuland encountered other women and Muslims during her travels those encounters shaped her reassessment of her own identity as a Muslim woman Her observations hold continued significance for readers interested in critical questions about gender Islam and identity Daniel Majchrowicz has thoroughly annotated his translation and paired it with rich appendices including a biographical sketch of Begum Sarbuland and excerpts from Hamidullah Khan s own accounts of their journey Engagingly written and enriched with years of original research archival work and family interviews A Journey to Mecca and London restores the nearly forgotten narrative of one of India s first Muslim women travel writers to its rightful place in Indian and Islamic history

Witness to Marvels Tony K. Stewart, 2019-09-13 A free open access ebook is available upon publication Learn more at www.luminoso.org There is a vast body of imaginal literature in Bengali that introduces fictional Sufi saints into the complex mythological world of Hindu gods and goddesses Dating to the sixteenth century the stories pir katha are still widely read and performed today The events that play out rival the fabulations of the Arabian Nights which has led them to be dismissed as simplistic folktales yet the work of these stories is profound they provide fascinating insight into how Islam habituated itself into the cultural life of the Bangla speaking world In Witness to Marvels Tony K Stewart unearths the dazzling tales of Sufi saints to signal a bold new perspective on the subtle ways Islam assumed its distinctive form in Bengal

Life, Times & Works of Bhai Prakash Dev 1855-1914 Professor Sumanta Niyogi, The present study makes a foray into a largely unexplored area of modern Indian history the entrance activities impact of a socio religious reform movement in the tradition bound conservative society of Punjab during the 19th early 20th centuries Truly the untold story of the origin rise decline of the Brahmo Samaj in Punjab is so significant historically so invigorating intellectually so inspiring spiritually that it needed to be revealed much earlier In its short span of existence in the province the Brahmo Samaj aided by the hard work dedication of several of its noble spirits that included Keshubchandra Sen Sivanath Sastri Nabin Chandra Roy Shivanarayan Agnihotri Ruchi Ram Sahni Sardar Dyal Singh Majithia and above all Bhai Prakash Dev who forms the central theme of our discussion promoted the spread of modern education political consciousness in Punjab by setting up numerous schools colleges and libraries by publishing newspapers journals and books in Urdu Gurumukhi English It thus left a legacy that enriched ennobled enlightened the province s society culture intellect Interestingly enough the historic city of Lahore was once the nodal of point of the Samaj activities not only in the huge province of Punjab of the pre Partition days but also in the neighbouring areas of Delhi west UP North west Frontier Provinces as far as Peshawar Quetta This will sound as mythological to the present generation grown up with the horrifying tales of intense religious intolerance unbridled fanaticism in these places on the other side of the border It is hoped that this exploration marked by thorough research analysis will be useful to both research scholars generals Enlightenment in the Colony Aamir R. Mufti,2009-01-10

Enlightenment in the Colony opens up the history of the Jewish question for the first time to a broader discussion one of the social exclusion of religious and cultural minorities in modern times and in particular the crisis of Muslim identity in modern India Aamir Mufti identifies the Hindu Muslim conflict in India as a colonial variation of what he calls the exemplary crisis of minority Jewishness in Europe He shows how the emergence of this conflict in the late nineteenth century represented an early instance of the reinscription of the Jewish question in a non Western society undergoing modernization under colonial rule In so doing he charts one particular route by which this European phenomenon linked to nation states takes on a global significance Mufti examines the literary dimensions of this crisis of identity through close readings of canonical texts of modern Western mostly British literature as well as major works of modern Indian literature in Urdu and English He argues that the one characteristic shared by all emerging national cultures since the nineteenth century is the minoritization of some social and cultural fragment of the population and that national belonging and minority separatism go hand in hand with modernization Enlightenment in the Colony calls for the adoption of secular minority and exilic perspectives in criticism and intellectual life as a means to critique the very forms of marginalization that give rise to the uniquely powerful minority voice in world literatures
