It was a period of great economic, social, and political change that accompanied industrialization and urbanization in the United States following the Civil War.

2. Abundant Labor Supply (immigration)
3. Strong Governmental Policy (Railroad Grants)
4. New Sources of Power (electricity, petroleum, steel)

6. Joint-stock companies, corporations

2. Describe the major events of the Second Industrial Revolution.

Major Technological Advancements: the Second Industrial Revolution: 1870s. Invention: telephone, air brake, and electric trolleys on the railroads. The Bessemer and open hearth processes in the steel mills, the telephone, electric light, and typewriter.

3. Explain how the Second Industrial Revolution shaped various regions of the US.

Northwest

The Northwest was at the center of industrialization during the First Industrial Revolution. It contained the leading industrial regions in the Second Industrial Revolution. New York, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania produced more than 50 percent of all U.S. industrial products in 1890.

Almost 300,000 miles of railroad lines interconnected in the Northwest by 1890. The growth of railroads created a network of supporting industries. Coal mining, iron and steel, and machinery that were essential to the manufacture of machinery. The steel for use in the railroads and iron and steel manufacturing for the growth of the mining industry in the region.

This rapid growth of a manufacturing economy created a need for specific workers. Cities in the Northwest became industrial centers like the manufacturing belt across the United States. By 1870 about 25 percent of the U.S. population was foreign born. Most of the workers that industrial regions need are immigrants. Most of these immigrants settled in the Northwest and the upper Midwest along the Great Lakes in Chicago.

The growth of industry also highlighted the gap between rich and poor in this region perhaps more than any other. As a result, political reform efforts emerged. Working organizations organized for economic growth. Workers' unions began to organize and working conditions. Labor unions formed first in the steel and iron, mining and transportation, and some of the first unions in the Great Lakes in Chicago.

Southwest

The large region experienced dramatic growth in the mining and manufacturing. The upper Midwest states along the Great Lakes—Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois—became centers of industry and a hub for shipping and transport. Cities grew rapidly, attracting large numbers of immigrants. Chicago, Illinois became one of the nation's largest cities.
