Something's in the Air Katherine Tate, James Lance Taylor, Mark Q. Sawyer, 2013-08-15 America's drug laws have always exerted an unequal and unfair toll on Blacks and Latinos who are arrested more often than Whites for the possession of illegal drugs and given harsher sentences In this volume contributors ask how would marijuana legalization affect communities of color Is legalization of marijuana necessary to safeguard minority families from a lifetime of hardship and inequality Who in minority communities favors legalization and why and do these minority opinions differ from the opinions held by White Americans This volume also includes analyses of the policy debate by a range of scholars addressing economic health and empowerment issues Comparative lessons from other countries are also analyzed A Critical Pronouncing

Dictionary and Exposition of the English Language, to which are Prefixed, Principles of English Pronunciation, Rules to be Observed by the Natives of Scotland, Ireland, and London ... John Walker, 1850 Greener Marketing

Martin Charter, Michael Jay Polonsky, 2017-09-29 Building on the strengths of the material published in the hugely successful first edition of Greener Marketing this important new title examines on a global scale the progress of environmental marketing in the 1990s and considers how social issues are increasingly becoming critical factors in how corporations meet the ever growing demands and expectations of customers Despite the fact that such issues are increasingly important in marketing activities around the world it is difficult for practitioners to keep up to date with complex and rapidly changing information and ideas The purpose of this book is to provide practitioners and academics with best practice examples and actionable recommendations on how to implement and appraise green marketing activities It will provide information and ideas for those involved in marketing on how to incorporate environmental and social considerations as well as providing new perspectives on marketing for environmental managers To achieve a comprehensive viewpoint the book is split into three sections The first sets out the strategic issues and rationale for green marketing the second addresses tactical issues in more detail and the third provides detailed international case studies Topics addressed by the global set of contributors include the growing area of products versus services environmental product development green marketing alliances environmental communications green consumers eco tourism and environmental marketing in developing countries reener Marketing is not only a sequel to the successful first volume but redefines global progress towards the successful marketing of greener products and services

The Unequal Ocean Maximilian Viatori, 2023-04-11 Based on a decade of ethnographic and archival research in Peru this volume reveals how prevailing representations of the ocean obscure racialized disparities and the ways that different people experience the impacts of the climate crisis Tackling important subjects of global concern the author presents a complex image of Peru's global seascapes as historical spaces comprising precarious worlds that expose people nonhuman species and places to unequal levels of harm He traces how powerful actors in Peru represent the ocean in ways that erase the systemic inequalities histories of uneven development and extractive violence that have shaped ocean life These erasures underscore the need for alternative representations of the ocean that highlight the engagements and commitments that make oceanic ecologies possible as well as the material relationships and unequal positions of different people and species within them The author analyzes a multitude of timely topics including waves and coastal development the circulation of ocean waste El Niño warming events and the extraction of jumbo squid This book also addresses expanding scholarly interest in the world's oceans as sites for thinking about social inequities, environmental politics, and multispecies relationships

Distributed Denial of Service (DDoS) Attacks Brij B. Gupta, Amrita Dahiya, 2021-03-01 The complexity and severity of the Distributed Denial of Service (DDoS) attacks are increasing day by day. The Internet has a highly inconsistent structure in terms of resource distribution. Numerous technical solutions are available, but those involving economic aspects have not been given much consideration. The book DDoS Attacks: Classification, Attacks, Challenges, and Countermeasures provides an overview of both types of defensive solutions proposed so far, exploring different dimensions that would mitigate the DDoS effectively and show the implications associated with them. Features: Covers topics that describe taxonomies of the DDoS attacks in detail; recent trends and classification of defensive mechanisms on the basis of deployment location; the types of defensive action and the solutions offering economic incentives. Introduces chapters discussing the various types of DDoS attack associated with different layers of security; an attacker's motivations and the importance of incentives and liabilities in any defensive solution; illustrates the role of fair resource allocation schemes; separate payment mechanisms for attackers and legitimate users; negotiation models on cost and types of resources and risk assessments and transfer mechanisms. DDoS Attacks: Classification, Attacks, Challenges, and Countermeasures is designed for the readers who have an interest in the cybersecurity domain, including students and researchers who are exploring different dimensions associated with the DDoS attack; developers and security professionals who are focusing on developing defensive schemes and applications for detecting or mitigating the DDoS attacks; and faculty members across different universities.

At Penpoint Monica Popescu, 2020-08-14 In At Penpoint Monica Popescu traces the development of African literature during the second half of the twentieth century to address the intertwined effects of the Cold War and decolonization on literary history. Popescu draws on archival materials from the Soviet-sponsored Afro-Asian Writers Association and the CIA-funded Congress for Cultural Freedom alongside considerations of canonical literary works by Ayi Kwei Armah, Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o, Ousmane Sembène, Pepetela, Nadine Gordimer, and others. She outlines how the tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union played out in the aesthetic and political debates among African writers and intellectuals. These writers decolonized aesthetic canons even as superpowers attempted to shape African cultural production in ways that would advance their ideological and geopolitical goals. Placing African literature at the crossroads of postcolonial theory and studies of the Cold War, Popescu provides a new reassessment of African literature, aesthetics, and knowledge production.
