These contributions from many leading experts in the field will surely shape much of the applied work linking olfaction to disease which is a further focus of this ebook In respect to health and disease the chapters on aging pregnancy depression alcohol dependency and environmental odours present overviews and rich new data on many contemporary problems to which the study of olfaction is now contributing A particularly notable aspect of olfactory experience is the affective impact that odours can have on people and their lives The ebook covers some particularly intriguing aspects of work in this area with empirical studies investigating dissociations between wanting and liking stress reduction in the elderly mother infant bonding and the emotions that different odourants can evoke This affective line of work is nicely complemented by empirical studies on expertise the effect of odours on visual attention and the relationship between particular personality traits and interest in olfaction The gradual appropriation of methods from cognitive neuroscience into olfaction is also nicely represented in this ebook with at least three of the chapters reporting data using neuroimaging including a particular intriguing study looking at recognition of odours in mixtures Finally the close links between olfactory perception and sensory evaluation are also reflected in a chapter on wine I hope that readers of this e book will be struck as I have been in reading its various chapters how much olfaction affects our lives and how the study of this sense can enrich it References Bushdid C Magnasco M Vosshall L Keller A 2014 Humans can discriminate more than 1 trillion olfactory stimuli Science 343 1370 1372
