Hamilton, 2020-09-01 An authoritative self-contained overview of time series analysis for students and researchers. The past decade has brought dramatic changes in the way that researchers analyze economic and financial time series. This textbook synthesizes these advances and makes them accessible to first-year graduate students. James Hamilton provides comprehensive treatments of important innovations such as vector autoregressions, generalized method of moments, the economic and statistical consequences of unit roots, time-varying variances, and nonlinear time series models. In addition, he presents basic tools for analyzing dynamic systems, including linear representations, autocovariance, generating functions, spectral analysis, and the Kalman filter, in a way that integrates economic theory with the practical difficulties of analyzing and interpreting real-world data. Time Series Analysis fills an important need for a textbook that integrates economic theory, econometrics, and new results. This invaluable book starts from first principles and should be readily accessible to any beginning graduate student, while it is also intended to serve as a reference book for researchers. Theory and Applications of Time Series Analysis and Forecasting Olga Valenzuela, Fernando Rojas, Luis Javier Herrera, Héctor Pomares, Ignacio Rojas, 2023-04-04 This book presents a selection of peer-reviewed contributions on the latest developments in time series analysis and forecasting presented at the 7th International Conference on Time Series and Forecasting (ITISE 2021) held in Gran Canaria, Spain, July 19–21, 2021. It is divided into four parts. The first part addresses general modern methods and theoretical aspects of time series analysis and forecasting, while the remaining three parts focus on forecasting methods in econometrics, time series forecasting and prediction, and numerous other real-world applications. Covering a broad range of topics, the book will give readers a modern perspective on the subject. The ITISE conference series provides a forum for scientists, engineers, educators, and students to discuss the latest advances and implementations in the foundations, theory, models, and applications of time series analysis and forecasting. It focuses on interdisciplinary research encompassing computer science, mathematics, statistics, and econometrics. The Oxford Handbook of Computational Economics and Finance Shu-Heng Chen, Mak Kaboudan, Ye-Rong Du, 2018-01-12 The Oxford Handbook of Computational Economics and Finance provides a survey of both the foundations of and recent advances in the frontiers of analysis and action. It is both historically and interdisciplinarily rich and also tightly connected to the rise of digital society. It begins with the conventional view of computational economics, including recent algorithmic development in computing rational expectations, volatility, and general equilibrium It then moves from traditional computing in economics and finance to recent developments in natural computing including applications of nature inspired intelligence genetic programming swarm intelligence and fuzzy logic Also examined are recent developments of network and agent based computing in economics How these approaches are applied is examined in chapters on such subjects as trading robots and automated markets The last part deals with the epistemology of simulation in its trinity form with the integration of simulation computation and dynamics Distinctive is the focus on natural computationalism and the examination of the implications of intelligent machines for the future of computational economics and finance Not merely individual robots but whole integrated systems are extending their immigration to the world of Homo sapiens or symbiogenesis

The Method of Response Function in Psychology & Sociology Irina G. Malkina-Pykh, Y. A. Pykh, 2013 Social psychological and sociological systems present considerable difficulties for modellers due to their complexity multidimensionality uncertainty and irreducibility The book proposes that response functions MRF be used as a method of constructing purposeful credible and integrated social systems models from data and prior knowledge or information A semi empirical or grey box MRF model may be regarded as a trade off between a knowledge based model and a black box empirical model It may embody all the existing knowledge on the process or a part thereof and in addition it relies on parameterised functions whose parameters are determined from measurements Observations contain hidden information on the processes under consideration and one of the main purposes of the proposed method is to extract and describe these hidden relationships Parameterisation offers ways to couple qualitative with quantitative analysis This combination makes it possible to take into account all the phenomena that are not modelled with the required accuracy through prior knowledge Although only a simplified picture of the processes is modelled a grey box system model provides some insight into the system processes These processes are featured by chains of causality highlighting stressors and variables responsive to stressors The method of response functions is a nonlinear regression method that implies credible models in the sense that they are identifiable and hopefully explain system output behaviour satisfactorily For case studies the authors have selected the problems usually studied by psychologists and sociologists with statistical procedures such as investigation of variance and discriminant analysis based on the general linear model or one of its multivariate generalisations structural equation models etc disordered eating and obesity subjective well being and alexithymia An accompanying CD ROM contains the demonstration versions of three models that are discussed in the various chapters The Method of Response Functions in Psychology and Sociology is aimed at Mathematical Psychologists Mathematical Sociologists Applied Psychologists Sociologists and Social Practitioners It will also be suitable for use on undergraduate as well as graduate and postgraduate courses specializing in these areas Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports
