Nature and Enactment of Tasks for Early English as a Foreign Language Teaching Constanze Dreßler, 2018-12-03 This ethnographic case study is set within a collaborative research project in which teachers and researchers investigate early English as a Foreign Language (EFL) tasks in theory and practice in German primary schools. Results are obtained through an interpretation of multiple sources within an interdiscursive multi-perspectived research agenda. The results suggest that EFL tasks can emerge during an interplay of four key teaching practices: doing school, providing space for learners to communicate, building a vocabulary and teaching the spoken language.
