Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education

Ownership and Governance of Companies Jonathan Michie,Vishnu Padayachee,2021-06-29 Apartheid South Africa was often thought to run in the interests of the business elite Yet 27 years after apartheid those business interests remain largely entrenched Why Did the South African business community play a role in engineering this outcome perhaps recognising the apartheid era was over and jumping ship in time Conversely the mission of the ANC was widely perceived to be to shift wealth and power into the hands of the whole community Yet despite black empowerment measures corporate ownership remains largely in white hands and certainly in the hands of an elite few even though no longer restricted to whites This picture is replicated across the global south where corporate ownership tends to be concentrated in the hands of an elite rather than being more democratically spread Why have alternative corporate forms not been pursued more vigorously with ownership in the hands of customers employees and local communities In the case of South Africa where the majority of customers and employees are black this could have delivered on the ANC s mission to replace the apartheid era with a democratic one in terms of wealth incomes and power as well as in terms of voting and civic rights This edited volume explores all these questions and looks at ways to align corporate forms with economic and social goals The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues of International Review of Applied Economics
