Ogorzalek,2018-05-02 Over the second half of the 20th century American politics was reorganized around race as the tenuous New Deal coalition frayed and eventually collapsed What drove this change In The Cities on the Hill Thomas Ogorzalek argues that the answer lies not in the sectional divide between North and South but in the differences between how cities and rural areas govern themselves and pursue their interests on the national stage Using a wide range of evidence from Congress and an original dataset measuring the urbanicity of districts over time he shows how the trajectory of partisan politics in America today was set in the very beginning of the New Deal Both rural and urban America were riven with local racial conflict but beginning in the 1930s city leaders became increasingly unified in national politics and supportive of civil rights changes that sowed the seeds of modern liberalism As Ogorzalek powerfully demonstrates the red and blue shades of contemporary political geography derive more from rural and urban perspectives than clean state or regional lines but local institutions can help bridges the divides that keep Americans apart 2024-25 CBSE/NIOS/ISC/UP Board 12th Class Chemistry Chapter-wise Unsolved Papers YCT Expert Team , 2024 25 CBSE NIOS ISC UP Board 12th Class Chemistry Chapter wise Unsolved Papers 464 895 E This book contains the previous year paper from 2010 to 2024 Circles of Compensation Kent E.

Calder,2017-08-01 Japan grew explosively and consistently for more than a century from the Meiji Restoration until the collapse of the economic bubble in the early 1990s Since then it has been unable to restart its economic engine and respond to globalization How could the same political economic system produce such strongly contrasting outcomes This book identifies the crucial variables as classic Japanese forms of socio political organization the circles of compensation These cooperative groupings of economic political and bureaucratic interests dictate corporate and individual responses to such critical issues as investment and innovation at the micro level they explain why individuals can be decidedly cautious on their own yet prone to risk taking as a collective Kent E Calder examines how these circles operate in seven concrete areas from food supply to consumer electronics and deals in special detail with the influence of Japan s changing financial system The result is a comprehensive overview of Japan s circles of compensation as they stand today and a road map for broadening them in the future

Critical Perspectives on Education Policy and Schools, Families, and Communities Sue Winton, Gillian Parekh, 2020-03-01 Critical Perspectives on Education Policy and Schools Families and Communities offers scholars students and practitioners important new knowledge about how current policies impact families schools and community partnerships The book s authors share a critical orientation towards policy and policy research and invite readers to think differently about what policy is who policymakers are and what policy can achieve Their chapters discuss findings from research grounded in diverse theories including institutional ethnography critical disability theory and critical race theory The authors encourage scholars of family school and community partnerships to ask who benefits from policies and who loses and how proposed reforms maintain or disrupt existing relations of power The chapters present original research on a broad range of policies at the local state provincial and national levels in Canada and the USA Some authors look closely at the enactment of specific district policies including a school district s language translation policy and a policy to create local advisory bodies as part of decentralization efforts Other chapters reveal the often unacknowledged yet necessary work parents do to meet their children s needs and enable schools to operate A few chapters focus on challenges and paradoxes of including families and community members in policymaking processes including a case where parents demonstrated a preference for a policy that research demonstrates can be detrimental to their children s future education opportunities Another set of chapters emphasizes the centrality of policy texts and how language influences the educational experiences and engagement of students and their families Each chapter concludes with a discussion of implications of the research for educators families and other community partners
