

A photograph of the main entrance gate to the University of Fort Hare. The gate is a wide, paved road leading through a concrete structure. The structure consists of two large, light-colored concrete pillars on either side, each with a grid of small square windows. A horizontal concrete beam spans across the top of these pillars, and the words "UNIVERSITY OF FORT HARE" are inscribed in black, capital letters on this beam. In the center of the gate, there is a small, square guardhouse or security booth. The road is flanked by yellow and black striped bollards. In the background, there are lush green trees and a clear blue sky with some light clouds. A tall, curved street lamp is visible on the left side of the image.

Fryxell,2015-05-11 The vast savannas and great migrations of the Serengeti conjure impressions of a harmonious and balanced ecosystem But in reality the history of the Serengeti is rife with battles between human and non human nature In the 1890s and several times since the cattle virus rinderpest at last vanquished in 2008 devastated both domesticated and wild ungulate populations as well as the lives of humans and other animals who depended on them In the 1920s tourists armed with the world s most expensive hunting gear filled the grasslands And in recent years violence in Tanzania has threatened one of the most successful long term ecological research centers in history Serengeti IV the latest installment in a long standing series on the region s ecology and biodiversity explores the role of our species as a source of both discord and balance in Serengeti ecosystem dynamics Through chapters charting the complexities of infectious disease transmission across populations agricultural expansion and the many challenges of managing this ecosystem today this book shows how the people and landscapes surrounding crucial protected areas like Serengeti National Park can and must contribute to Serengeti conservation In order to succeed conservation efforts must also focus on the welfare of indigenous peoples allowing them both to sustain their agricultural practices and to benefit from the natural resources provided by protected areas an undertaking that will require the strengthening of government and education systems and as such will present one of the greatest conservation challenges of the next century Innovations in the Global Biogas industry Tonderayi S

Matambo,Riann Christian,2024-11-28 Innovations in the Global Biogas Industry Applications of Green Principles critically reviews the whole biogas supply chain from substrates to upgraded biogas The book evaluates the application of green principles at each stage of biogas production and combines this with case studies and a review of the latest technological advances to produce a comprehensive assessment of the current state of the biogas industry The first three sections of the book guide the reader through the whole supply chain of biogas production from feedstock and waste management to process design plant design operation optimization and end products The sustainability of biogas industry operations is then addressed in depth through a lifecycle assessment alongside the techno economics and safety considerations Each section considers small medium and large scale biogas plant related developments and how green principles are applied at each scale Finally the critical element of biogas industry stakeholders is explored which discusses financing mechanisms policies and regulations global markets and governance issues relating to the biogas sector Presents recent innovations in the biogas industry with an emphasis on the sustainability of anaerobic digestion applications Analyzes anaerobic digestion from various angles from feedstock management to the integration of green and sustainability principles in biogas applications Assesses the whole supply chain of biogas production including plant design and operation substrate to product issues as well as techno economics and safety considerations Includes small medium and large scale biogas plant related developments Addresses the topic of stakeholder issues in the biogas industry Climate Change Resilience in Rural Southern Africa Mark Matsa,Lazarus Chapungu,Godwell Nhamo,2024-12-17 In rural Southern Africa the livelihoods of millions are intricately linked to the land water and ecosystems that are increasingly under threat from climate change This intensifying threat has exacerbated pre existing vulnerabilities rendering the need for resilience building more critical than ever Emerging scholarship on climate change strategies suggest that building resilience in human and environmental systems is the ideal strategy for combating the climate change induced catastrophes Rural Southern Africa has witnessed both isolated and coordinated efforts by various stakeholders to bolster climate resilience yielding varying degrees of success This book offers a comprehensive examination of the rural Southern African landscape probing the intricate dynamics prospects and challenges associated with building climate resilience It examines how traditional knowledge innovative practices including Artificial Intelligence and sustainable development strategies are converging to create resilient systems The book further highlights the critical role of local communities in addressing climate challenges and offers actionable insights for a more resilient future It emerged that some interventions have managed to build resilience of at risk households communities and systems while others have faced significant challenges In general climate resilience building remains complex and lagging due to increased vulnerabilities induced by global disease emergencies such as COVID 19 increased poverty due to global recessions poor governance corruption and several other internal and external factors Therefore the need to increase cooperation amongst Southern African states to pursue common development goals cannot be overemphasized Rich with case studies expert analyses and systematic reviews this book is an essential read for policymakers researchers and those invested in the future of rural Southern Africa Agricultural Transformation in Africa Gbadebo O. A. Odularu,2023-01-01 This book offers new insights into the ongoing agricultural transformation in Africa Presenting case studies macro level simulations and relevant surveys it analyzes food crops and agri food policy challenges and their implications in various African countries In addition it discusses how current African agri food policies could be improved to achieve the continental vision of sustainable development in light of the African Union s Agenda 2063 The respective contributions address topics such as drivers of technical efficiency among smallholder maize farmers farm management practices agri food infrastructure policies food security agricultural growth and financing for and investment in agricultural production Accordingly the book appeals to scholars of economics and agricultural studies and to anyone interested in the agricultural transformation of Africa Memoirs of Relentless Pursuit Dr. JJ Klaas,2015-06-03 The memoir is a gripping South African story projected through the life of a young African boy from the rural outskirts of the Eastern Cape Province

The boy's life is a representation of hardships versus triumphs, hopelessness versus determination and a profound sense of positive drive. In line with Nelson Mandela's motto, it is in your hands. The memoir exemplifies that despite the challenging circumstances, one remained focused on the possibilities of a better future. The memoir is an exciting read of a touching yet positive story projected through different interphases of life.

Financial Inclusion and Digital Transformation Regulatory Practices in Selected SADC Countries Howard Chitimira, Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa, 2023-03-28. This book investigates the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion and provides a comparative analysis of the regulation, promotion, and enforcement of the relevant laws in the SADC region, in particular South Africa, Namibia, Botswana, and Zimbabwe, as well as the challenges of financial inclusion. In turn, it evaluates financial inclusion in the context of specific challenges faced by unbanked and underbanked customers who are easy targets for cyber criminals because they tend to have lower levels of digital literacy. The book presents novel discussions that identify the challenges and flaws associated with the enforcement of financial inclusion laws and related measures intended to promote financial inclusion in the SADC region. This is primarily done in order to reveal the current strengths and weaknesses of financial inclusion laws in relation to certain aspects of the companies, securities, and financial markets in the region. For example, there is no common financial inclusion instrument law that is effectively and uniformly applied throughout the SADC. This has impeded the enforcement authorities' efforts to effectively combat financial exclusion across the region. The book is likely the most comprehensive study to date on the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the SADC region and fills a major gap in SADC and African legal jurisprudence. As such, it offers a valuable asset for policymakers, attorneys, bankers, securities, share holders, and other market participants who deal with financial inclusion, as well as undergraduate and graduate students interested in the topic.

Genders, Sexualities, and Complexities in Africa Gabi Mkhize, Stanley Osezua Ehiane, Lupenga Mphande, 2025-02-20. This book's significance is in its African-centred border crossing, overt and covert forces working against genders and sexualities reinforcing endemic gender and sexual-based complexities. Pragmatically, sexualities and genders in Africa remain contested and an area of power and control contestations in both the private and public spheres. Gender-based violence and femicide (GBV) in particular continue to escalate, particularly during the COVID-19 pandemic. Such GBV at most affects young women, migrants, LGBTIQIA people, sex workers, informal street traders, and widows, amongst others. This is happening at a time when the feminist and women's movements in Africa are experiencing fragmentations and factions that pull and push organisations to the margins of prejudice internally, thereby exacerbating an act of subordinated inclusion. In this context, the term subordinated inclusion connotes another form of complexity where the subaltern has been brought inside a room as an act of inclusion yet systemically subordinated through structure and obedience, thereby compromising agency. This complexity occurs in private and public domains where a continuum of contestations between structure and agency is sustained. Consequently, power struggles emerge and proliferate unabated into gendered and sexualised complexities, including relations of state coloniality apartheid prejudice marginalization capitalism and democracy This book thus strives to surface these contestations and complexities and how they continue to thrive in an era that seeks another way possible a way out a jump off a manner of dealing and an exit from the status quo African Language Media Phillip Mpofu, Israel A.

Fadipe, Thulani Tshabangu, 2023-03-13 This book outlines how African language media is affected by politics technology culture and the economy and how this media is creatively produced and appropriated by audiences across cultures and contexts African language media can be considered as a tool for communication socialization and community that defines the various identities of indigenous people in Africa This book shows how vernacular media outlets including radio and television as well as native formats such as festivals rituals and dance can be used to influence all facets of local peoples experience and understanding of community The book also explores the relationship between African language media sources and contemporary issues including the digitalization conundrum peace and conflict resolution identity formation hate speech and fake news Furthermore it shows how local media can be used for development communication purposes during health and environmental crises The book includes cases studies demonstrating the uses experiences and activities related to various forms of media available in African languages This book will be of interest to scholars in the field of communication and media studies health and environmental communication journalism African studies and anthropology Index
