University Of Venda Bursary:

Government Annual Report of the Republic of Venda Venda (South Africa),1981 Students with Disabilities and the Transition to Work Oliver Mutanga,2019-07-01 This book sets out to understand how students with disabilities experience higher education and the transition to the workplace It foregrounds the voices of students and graduates in order to explore identity inclusion participation and success of youth with disabilities in higher education as well as their transition from university to employment The author proposes a new understanding of disability considered in terms of a continuum of abilities balancing empirical data theory and policy analysis with specific regard to the interests of youth with disabilities making a unique contribution to discussions on access inclusion and success in higher education and employment These discussions inform social development and educational policy planning and implementation not only in South Africa but also in countries with a similar context particularly in terms of remedial courses of action that bring social justice to people with disabilities Students with Disabilities and the Transition to Work will be of interest to all scholars and students working in the fields of disability studies particularly those with a focus on critical disability studies and disability in the global south as well as those working in higher education sociology development studies and social policy My career ,1983 Universities, Employability and Human Development Melanie Walker,Samuel Fongwa,2017-01-20 The book makes a significant contribution to critical higher education studies specifically to graduate employability research and to capabilities and education research The book moves beyond the simplistic conception of alleged gaps in graduate skills and mismatches between employers and universities and instead provides an innovative multi dimensional and intersectional human capabilities conceptualisation of graduate employability The book challenges an individualised notion of employability instead locating employability issues in social and economic conditions and argues that employability choices cannot be divorced from inequality Qualitative and quantitative data from multiple case study universities in South Africa are used to explore the perceptions and experiences of diverse students lecturers support officers and employers regarding what each university is doing or should be doing to enhance graduate economic opportunities and contribute to inclusive development The book will be highly relevant to students scholars and researchers in the fields of education and sociology particularly those with an interest in graduate employability Annual Report of the Department of Education Gazankulu (South Africa). Department of Education,1990 SAIRR News ,1987 Hegel's Twilight Mogobe B. Ramose,2013 Professor Heinz Kimmerle encountered African philosophy at a time when his specialisation in the philosophy of Hegel had attained world recognition For Hegel African philosophy did not exist in Sub Saharan Africa exactly the area in which Kimmerle made his first contact with African philosophy Hegel s philosophy was not a stranger to Sub Saharan Africa This was because the Western educational paradigm was imposed upon the conquered colonized peoples during the period of colonisation Unlike Hegel Kimmerle took African philosophy seriously and engaged initially in dialogues with African philosophy Out of the unfolding dialogues grew intercultural philosophy spearheaded by Kimmerle's penetrating insightful and incisive critique of some of the fundamental presuppositions of Hegel's philosophy. The essays contained in this book focus on the evolution of Kimmerle's conception and meaning of intercultural philosophy. Underlying this are recognition and respect for other modes of doing philosophy as manifestations of intercultural philosophy. To deny dialogues if you prefer polylogue among world philosophies is to reject the very basis of philosophy. Thus a crucial dimension of philosophy would be precluded which can be found in this book namely the critical evaluation of Kimmerle's conception and meaning of intercultural philosophy. Working with indigenous knowledge Fhumulani M. Mulaudzi, Rachel T. Lebesse, 2022. The aim of the book is to assist both local and international scholars in articulating the scholarly discourse on indigenous health attitudes, practices and experiences. The indigenous lens that was used to generate and disseminate indigenous knowledge in this book will strengthen indigenous scholarship thus making it accessible to a wider audience. In addition, the information shared in this book will add value for scholars and assist them with the indigenous knowledge needed to address sustainable development goals. This book is timely and topical as the discourse on the decolonisation of the curriculum is widely debated in the higher education space. The discourse on the scholarship of indigenous knowledge as the tacit local knowledge that stems from cultural practices within communities has not been well articulated in the current health science education milieu. Indigenous knowledge has remained overlooked and undermined for a very long time and the information remains untapped in local communities. The scholars who conducted the research on which this book is based unearthed a wealth of knowledge which was tacit in nature and translated it into implicit knowledge that can be documented and shared with other scholars globally. This knowledge will assist health care scholars in benefiting from knowledge, practices and cultural beliefs that will assist them in health care planning, teaching, evidence-based practice and further research. Towards a National Strategy for Funding Tertiary Education Bursary Council of South Africa. Conference, 1993. South African Journal of Musicology, 1995. New Histories of South Africa's Apartheid-Era Bantustans Shireen Ally, Arianna Lissoni, 2017-06-26. This book features new research on the history of apartheid South Africa's former bantustans and their legacies in the modern world. With an introduction by renowned historian William Beinart, the individual chapters written by a new generation of scholars address a number of themes: public administration, health and education, culture, ethnicity and politics, ethnic nationalism, historiographical reflections and personal recollections by three former public servants. This book was originally published as a special issue of the South African Historical Journal. Educator Supply and Demand in the South African Public Education System Education Labour Relations Council (South Africa), 2005. This report is an integration of the seven reports which emerged from the research and pulls together the findings arising from it. What emerges is that the resignation, death and ageing of the present educator force is likely to have a significant effect on replacement demand for educators over the next four years.
