

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON NURSING PERSONAL

Giving back to the community has always been a persistent goal for me. My community has given me a lot, including the opportunity to attend higher education. Witnessing the need for better healthcare in the community, I hope to be able to become a nurse that can provide quality healthcare to the residents of my community that need it the most. I believe that nurses act as a bridge between patients and medical concepts which are often much beyond their comprehension. I am submitting my University of Washington nursing personal statement example in the hopes that it will allow me to gain admission to this prestigious nursing program.

My internships over the past few years in the healthcare field has given me a deeper appreciation for the work that nurses do on a daily basis, as well as how I can continue to build on their work in the future. During my shadowing rotations, I have seen how nurses can provide comfort to patients before or after a procedure, and often are the ones to explain the procedures to worried family members. I was very touched by my experience working with nursing professionals, and I knew that I would be able to serve my community well by becoming one.

Currently, there is an extreme shortage of nurses in my community, and I hope to help fulfil that need. In addition to my coursework in this nursing program, I also hope to participate in outreach events that will help inspire others to take on the mantle of becoming nurses. Through my clinical rotations, I will also be able to improve my skills in multiple areas, broadening my view of the various medical techniques in the field. I believe that this Nursing Program will greatly enhance my nursing knowledge and skills, preparing me for my dream career in nursing in the future.
