A Chosen Path Frank Oberle, 2005 In A Chosen Path Frank Oberle continues the amazing story of his remarkable rise from self educated immigrant to national politician and Cabinet minister The bestselling first volume of Frank's autobiography Finding Home recounted his turbulent youth in Nazi run Germany and his post war immigration to

Canada After working for a year and a half as a baker logger and miner he earned enough to bring his future wife Joan from their homeland They eventually settled in the brand new community of Chetwynd BC where he began his political life as a village councillor and later became mayor In A Chosen Path we travel with Frank to Ottawa after his election to the House of Commons in 1972 and follow his six term political career which culminated in his appointment to Cabinet in 1985 first as Minister of State for Science and Technology then four years later as Minister of Forestry On the way we are treated to incisive often witty behind the scenes looks at the politicians and issues of the day along with Frank's straight shooting assessments of our national leaders and the prime minister's office Now a thoughtful observer more than a decade removed from that maelstrom of machinations that is Canada's capital Frank sheds light on what is right and what is wrong in our political world Paradise Found Robert Popple, 2023-10-27 When Robert and Heather Popple moved to the Pacific Northwest to live in British Columbia's Fairwinds on Vancouver Island in 2003 it marked the beginnings of an exciting retirement adventure This companion volume to Born in Huronia summarizes the past twenty years of Popple's life in BC and includes nine first hand stories by people he has met in that time They include Shelly Stouffer's stroke by stroke account of her 2022 victory at the Senior Women's US Open and surrender of a Nazi submarine in 1945 From Popple's description of the first Europeans arriving in the Pacific Northwest to avoiding insanity in retirement to his travel adventures his summation of the Trump presidency and the details of his Mother of all organ recitals this book is simply a must read

Autobiography of a Baby Boomer Robert Schultz, 2013-05-28 In Autobiography of a Baby Boomer you'll follow the journey of a post modernist baby boomer from Father Knows Best middle class Fair Lawn New Jersey to the hippy trail through Europe North Africa the Middle East and Asia The overland journey in search of something more than he could find at Cornell University Medical College covers four years during a time when dropping out turning on and free love were the gospel Through his travels drugs' scenes very far out Road People and his parents unrelenting love author Robert Schultz comes to truly appreciate the American way of life In an admittedly unconventional way Schultz discovers the rather conventional joy of having a family and the awesome responsibility that comes with it How White Men Won the Culture Wars Joseph Darda, 2021-05-25 Reuniting white America after Vietnam If war among the whites brought peace and liberty to the blacks Frederick Douglass asked in 1875 peering into the nation's future what will peace among the whites bring The answer then and now after civil war and civil rights a white reunion disguised as a veterans reunion How White Men Won the Culture Wars shows how a broad contingent of white men conservative and liberal hawk and dove vet and nonvet transformed the Vietnam War into a staging ground for a post civil rights white racial reconciliation Conservatives could celebrate white vets as deracinated embodiments of the nation Liberals could treat them as minoritized heroes whose voices must be heard Erasing Americans of color Southeast Asians and women from the war white men could agree after civil rights and feminism that they had suffered and deserved more From the POW MIA and veterans mental health movements to

Rambo and Born in the U S A they remade their racial identities for an age of color blindness and multiculturalism in the image of the Vietnam vet No one wins in a culture war except Joseph Darda argues white men dressed in army green

Life Narratives and Youth Culture Kate Douglas, Anna Poletti, 2016-12-26 This book considers the largely under recognised contribution that young writers have made to life writing genres such as memoir letter writing and diaries as well as their innovative use of independent and social media The authors argue that these contributions have been historically silenced subsumed within other literary genres culturally marginalised or co opted for political ends Furthermore the book considers how life narrative is an important means for youth agency and cultural participation By engaging in private and public modes of self representation young people have contested public discourses around the representation of youth including media health and welfare and legal discourses and found means for re engaging and re appropriating self images and representations Locating their research within broader theoretical debates from childhood and youth studies youth creative practice and associated cultural implications youth citizenship and autonomy the rights of the child generations and power relationships Poletti and Douglas also position their inquiry within life narrative scholarship and wider discussions of self representation from the margins representations of conflict and trauma and theories of ethical scholarship The

Distant Shores of Freedom Subarno Chattarji, 2019-11-18 The Distant Shores of Freedom analyses literary works in English written by Vietnamese refugees in the US Fiction and memoirs by Vietnamese Americans recover stories and memories that are often different from mainstream American ones and that difference enables readers to think of the US war in Vietnam from perspectives that are missing in mainstream representations Dwelling not only on the war and its aftermaths Vietnamese American writings also ponder over the existential issues of exile the idea of home the pain of marginality and racism the question of community formation within the US and the complexity of diasporic lives Subarno Chattarji raises critical questions such as who gets to speak and write and to what ends and purposes Who reads Vietnamese American writings and how can we account for these publications in the US over a period of time What can and cannot be written or spoken What is remembered and what is silenced What traumas and memories are articulated These questions point towards a larger context of diaspora studies as well as the rituals of cultural memory that complicate our understanding of the Vietnam War and its aftermaths Representations of Child Soldiers in Contemporary African Narratives Ademola

Adesola, 2024-09-11 In Representations of Child Soldiers in Contemporary African Narratives Ademola Adesola examines the dominant factors that writers privilege in their portrayals of child soldiering in sub Saharan Africa In his textual interpretive analyses of selected novels in the African child soldier genre Adesola contends that critical discussions of African child soldier literature have depended on the interpretive frameworks supplied by Western humanitarian discourses which oversimplify and de historicize experiences of war in Africa The author argues that such reductive decontextualization of war realities serve to champion a narrow vision of war in African contexts centered on a moral and humanitarian urge for

Western intervention Regardless of whether the casus belli legitimating those wars are genuine or not those conflicts and children's involvement in them are understood within the same racist colonial and ethnocentric stereotypes about Africa that have been privileged in Western thought and the Western moral political imagination for centuries Thus in studying African child soldier narratives this book provides an alternative reading of novels whose settings feature African ethnopolitical conflicts such as in Sierra Leone Liberia Congo Brazzaville Nigeria notable for their exploitation of children for military ends The author maintains that these works are significant in the varying ways they reify and challenge the Western ideas of child and childhood as well as privilege child soldiers as social actors whose intricate makeups disavow being simply understood as innocent victims or irredeemable perpetrators of atrocities Young Adult Nonfiction Elizabeth Fraser, 2020-03-02 Covering more than 500 titles both classics and newer publications this book describes what titles are about and why teens would want to read them Nonfiction has been the workhorse of many young adult library collections filling information and curricular needs and it is also the preferred genre for many teen readers But not all nonfiction is created equal This guide identifies some of the best most engaging and authoritative nonfiction reads for teens and organizes them according to popular reading interests With genres ranging from adventure and sports to memoirs how to guides and social justice there is something for every reader here Similar fiction titles are noted to help you make connections for readers and best bets for each chapter are noted Notations in annotations indicate award winning titles graphic nonfiction and reading level Keywords that appear in the annotations and in detailed indexes enhance access Librarians who work with and purchase materials for teens including YA librarians at public libraries acquisitions and book materials selectors at public libraries and middle and high school librarians will find this book invaluable Memoirs from Away Helen M. Buss, 2006-01-01 How does the imagination entwine the shreds of memory of family place and culture to root a self in the fluid experience of the present Daughter wife mother teacher writer and feminist academic Helen M Buss Margaret Clarke has lived in many parts of Canada and writes from a life of multiple perspectives full of contradictory loyalties and obligations of opposing histories and identities For this woman whose sense of a unified identity is so tenuous that she even writes under two names writing memoirs becomes the way to bring together the diverse strands of her life A Newfoundland girl who awakened to the public world just at the moment her homeland joined Canada she writes of her childhood of the effects of war technology the politics of nation and gender and of the private world of several generations of her close knit family From the perspective of a woman from away she discovers a New Found Land of girlhood that weaves past and present in a narrative that delights in questioning its own making How to Raise a Reader Pamela Paul, Maria Russo, 2019-09-03 An indispensable guide to welcoming children from babies to teens to a lifelong love of reading written by Pamela Paul and Maria Russo editors of The New York Times Book Review Do you remember your first visit to where the wild things are How about curling up for hours on end to discover the secret of the Sorcerer's Stone Combining clear practical advice with inspiration wisdom tips and

Confronting Death Alfred G. Killilea, Dylan D. Lynch, 2013-05 Death is a hard topic to talk about but exploring it openly can lead to a new understanding about how to live In this series of eighteen essays college students examine death in new ways Their essays provide remarkable ideas about how death can transform people and societies Alfred G Killilea a professor of political science at the University of Rhode Island teams up with former student Dylan D Lynch and various contributors to share insights about a multitude of issues tied to death including terrorists child soldiers Nazism fascism suicide capital punishment and the Black Death Other essays explore death themes in classic and contemporary literature such as in Dante Peter Pan Kurt Vonnegut and Christopher Hitchens Still others explore death in modern context considering the work of Jane Goodall the threat of death on Mount Everest the origins of the Grim Reaper and how violent street gangs deal with death At a time when American politics suffers from deep ideological divisions that could make our nation ungovernable our mutual mortality may be the most potent force for unifying us and helping us to find common ground

The Memoirs of Ceija Stojka, Child Survivor of the Romani Holocaust Ceija Stojka, 2022 First English translation of the memoirs of Austrian Romani Holocaust survivor writer visual artist musician and activist Ceija Stojka 1933 2013 along with poems an interview historical photos and reproductions of her artworks Is this the whole world This question begins the first of three memoirs by Austrian Romani writer visual artist musician and activist Ceija Stojka 1933 2013 told from her perspective as a child interned in three Nazi concentration camps from age nine to twelve Written by a child survivor much later in life the memoirs offer insights into the nexus of narrative and extreme trauma expressing the full spectrum of human emotions fear and sorrow at losing loved ones joy and relief when reconnecting with family and friends desire to preserve some memories while attempting to erase others horror at acts of genocide and hope arising from dreams of survival In addition to annotated translations of the three memoirs the book includes two of Stojka's poems and an interview by Karin Berger editor of the original editions of Stojka's memoirs as well as color reproductions of several of her artworks and historical photographs An introduction contextualizes her works within Romani history and culture and a glossary informs the reader about the concentrationary universe Because the memoirs show how Stojka navigated male dominated postwar Austrian culture generally discriminatory to Roma and the patriarchal aspects of Romani culture itself the book is a contribution not only to Holocaust Studies but also to Austrian Studies Romani Studies and Women's and Gender Studies

Memoirs of a Child Holocaust Survivor A. M. Fox, 2025-05-30 A Holocaust survivor recounts his memories from pre war Poland to liberation

honoring lost family and culture These are the memories of a man who had been a young Jewish boy in Central Poland His 9th birthday came in mid July 1939 Less than two months later they are his memories of the Nazi era from the very beginning of WW11 until he was liberated by the Russians on the 8th May 1945 This age of death when Nazis attempted the absolute annihilation of all Jews in Europe regardless of age character or gender is now referred to as the Holocaust These memories include those of his vibrant family life in Poland before the war They are his homage and his memorial to his parents his little sister and numerous uncles aunts and cousins who were wiped out by the Nazis along with centuries of their culture Arriving in the UK on 14th August 1945 he was in the first group of Concentration Camp child survivors brought into England at the invitation of King George VI The story of these children s arrival and initial rehabilitation in the Lake District is told in the 2020 BBC film The Windermere Children His memories conclude with some glimpses of his life immediately after liberation and later when he was settled in the UK From dozens of known relatives he and his elder brother thought for a long time that they were the only family members to have survived from their town Later they discovered there was a third survivor an even younger cousin The author married the Holocaust survivor of this memoir He wanted the tale of how they met to be told and the book begins with this All the material concerning life in Poland life during the war and vignettes of post war life have simply been written down by the author Everything was read and re read by the survivor who felt that these recollections were true to what he remembered

The Banyamulenge Soldier Christopher P. Davey, 2025-09-29 The Banyamulenge Soldier offers a critical analysis of combatant experiences from within the Rwandan Patriotic Front RPF and subsequent armed groups through the interpretation of Banyamulenge soldier narratives Banyamulenge young men joined the RPF and acted as foot soldiers in the RPF s fight against the genocidaire in 1994 and later conflicts becoming active agents of conflict in the region up to the present In examining the highly political discourse and stories around the Rwandan conflict and Congo wars this book examines RPF memory the evolution of its uses of violence and how these memories have shaped Banyamulenge combatants Challenging the preconceived perpetrator and victim categories with a forward thinking approach using the concept of genocide narrative identity meaning a narrative identity shaped by experiences of social destruction or uses of genocide as a concept Christopher P Davey reveals how the stories we tell about ourselves shapes who we are He shows that Banyamulenge experiences of genocide between Congo and Rwanda are layered around agencies of victimhood and perpetration of genocide Using soldier and other community narratives Davey examines the subjective nature of genocide in perception of an event strategic deployment of the label and in the re shaping of social worlds inhabited by this community and therefore impacting others in Congo and Rwanda The Banyamulenge Soldier offers an insider view of the historical dynamics of current conflicts in South Kivu while adding to our understanding of relational genocide theory
