Watersheds In Marxist Ecofeminism:

Watersheds in Marxist Ecofeminism Pamela Odih, 2014-10-21 The neoliberal environmental governance of river conservation coupled with the organizational modernization imposed and sustained by the European Union's water directives engenders Other Spaces of feminist ecological alignment The riparian landscapes of urban cities are manifestations of political and ideological rationalities operating under the constraints of capitalist markets and are saturated by the contradictions of neoliberal environmental science Neoliberal rationalities configur

Adsensory Urban Ecology (Volume One) Pamela Odih, 2019-03-13 Adsensory sign technology which depicts the human body as both object and subject of inscriptive advertising technologies is integral to a western capitalist insurantal financialisation of health and wellbeing Developing further the theme of adsensory technologies of the sign in conjunction with Daniel Bell's theory of the codification of knowledge as an axial feature of the structuring of post industrial society this book explores gentrification in heterotopic post industrial urban spaces It brings together case studies from London's Grenfell Tower exploring perilous fa adism refurbishment and London's Garden Bridge project and speculative capital regeneration These studies illustrate empirically the extent to which advertising adsensory technologies have become integral to the gentrification of post industrial urban spaces Several of the case studies engage critically with the empirical observation that in the post industrial urban ecology of inner city regeneration adsensory technologies extend avariciously into the infrastructure of neoliberal managerialist gentrification In addition the book explores the forms of capital accumulation which are emerging from the integration of adsensory technology into the gentrification of post industrial urban spaces and examines a new form of capital accumulation in inner city gentrification predicated on the de generative integrity of adsensory financialisation

Ecofeminism as Politics Ariel Salleh, 2017-08-15 Ecofeminism as Politics is now a classic being the first work to offer a joined up framework for green socialist feminist and postcolonial thinking showing how these have been held back by conceptual confusions over gender Originally published in 1997 it argues that ecofeminism reaches beyond contemporary social movement ideologies and practices by prefiguring a political synthesis of four revolutions in one ecology is feminism is socialism is postcolonial struggle Ariel Salleh addresses discourses on class science the body culture and nature and her innovative reading of Marx converges the philosophy of internal relations with the organic materiality of everyday life This new edition features forewords by Indian ecofeminist Vandana Shiva and US philosopher John Clark a new introduction and a recent conversation between Salleh and younger scholar activists

Emancipatory Feminism in the Time of Covid-19 Hawzhin Azeez,Asanda Benya,Christine Bischoff,Jane Cherry,Jacklyn Cock,Jane Mbithi-Dikgol,Samantha Hargreaves,Courtney Morgan,Inge Konik,Sonia Phalatse,Busi Sibeko,Dineo Skosana,2023-07 The Covid pandemic threw into stark relief the multi dimensional threats created by neoliberal capitalism Government measures to alleviate the crisis were largely inadequate leaving women in particular working class women to carry the increased burden of care work while at the same time placing themselves in direct risk as frontline workers to carry the increased burden of care work while at the same time placing themselves in direct risk as frontline workers Emancipatory Feminism in the time of Covid 19 The seventh volume in the Democratic Marxism series explores how many subaltern women working class peasant and indigenous Challenge hegemonic neoliberal feminism through their resistance to ordinary capitalist practices and ecological extractivism Contributors cover womens responses in a wide range of contexts from women leading the defence of Rojava the Kurdish region of Syria to approaches to anti capitalist ecology and building food secure pathways in communities across Africa to championing climate justice in mining affected communities and transforming gender divisions in mining labour practices in South Africa To contesting macro economic policies affecting the working conditions of nurses Their practices demonstrate a feminist understanding of the current systemic crises of capitalism and patriarchal oppression What is offered in this collection is a subaltern women s grassroots resistance focused on advancing and enabling solidarity based political projects deepening democracy building capacities and alliances to advance new feminist alternatives

Routledge Handbook of Ecological Economics Clive L. Spash,2017-04-07 Since becoming formally established with an international academic society in the late 1980s ecological economics has advanced understanding of the interactions between social and biophysical reality It initially combined questioning of the basis of mainstream economics with a concern for environmental degradation and limits to growth but has now advanced well beyond critique into theoretical analytical and policy alternatives Social ecological economics and transformation to an alternative future now form core ideas in an interdisciplinary approach combining insights from a range of disciplines including heterodox economics political ecology sociology political science social psychology applied philosophy environmental ethics and a range of natural sciences This handbook edited by a leading figure in the field demonstrates the dynamism of ecological economics in a wide ranging collection of state of the art essays Containing contributions from an array of international researchers who are pushing the boundaries of the field the Routledge Handbook of Ecological Economics showcases the diversity of the field and points the way forward A critical analytical perspective is combined with realism about how economic systems operate and their essential connection to the natural world and society This provides a rich understanding of how biophysical reality relates to and integrates with social reality Chapters provide succinct overviews of the literature covering a range of subject areas including heterodox thought on the environment society power and politics markets and consumption value and ethics science and society methods for evaluation and policy analysis policy challenges and the future post growth society The rich contents dispel the myth of there being no alternatives to current economic thought and the political economy it supports The Routledge Handbook of Ecological Economics provides a guide to the literature on ecological economics in an informative and easily accessible form It is essential reading for those interested in exploring and understanding the interactions between the social ecological and economic and is an important resource for those interested in fields such as human ecology political ecology environmental politics human geography environmental management environmental evaluation future and transition studies environmental policy development studies and heterodox economics

Adsensory Financialisation Pamela Odih, 2016-09-23 Adsensory technology presupposes a neoliberal entrepreneurial self as an integral feature of its biopolitical financialisation of healthcare regimes According to Michel Foucault neoliberalism is indebted to the endeavour of its self disciplined subjects investing human capital in a self regulated entrepreneurial pursuit of responsible healthcare and well being Primarily informed by social network analytics and virtual ethnographic observations this book identifies the biopolitical basis of adsensory technologies It argues that a paradoxical feature of adsensory technologies dissimulating that there is nothing Jean Baudrillard is the proliferation of risk This is because the dissimulation of nothing opens up the possibility that everything can be a risk in so far as the type of event it falls under can be treated according to the principles of insurance technology Francois Ewald Adsensory wearable technologies are called upon as a strategy of deterrence Jean Baudrillard to indemnify capitalism's production of signs which dissimulate their simulation In a context in which much that was certain now feigns its own existence the insurance professed by adsensory technologies provides for an unrealisable guarantee against indefinable unknowable risks Based also on case studies of European Court of Justice personal finance insurance rulings this book engages critically with the neoliberal construct of the entrepreneurial lifestyle insurance subject Social network analytics are utilised here to map bio technology onto neoliberal regimes of financialised well being and healthcare provision In so doing the book situates adsensory technologies within the marketising healthcare management programmes that are currently aligning the neoliberal reengineering of health and well being citizenship with the biopolitical healthcare financialisation of populations

Paradoxically in their endeavour to actor network virtual well being health communities adsensory technologies proliferate the individuating marketised conditions of neoliberal self regulating entrepreneurialism This gives rise to aleatory materialist dialectics of financialised surveillance far exceeding the regulatory time and space modalities of Foucauldian panoptics and Mathiesen synoptics Adsensory technologies are integral to a seismic transformation in the cultural economies of time presently eliding digital advertising and insurantal technologies Axiomatic with the synchronic times of the adsensory technologies valorised by lifestyle insurance much riskier asynchronic embodied times transgressively dissimilating the limits of financialisation are beginning to emerge

The Robbery of Nature John Bellamy Foster, Brett Clark, 2020-02-24 Bridges the gap between social and environmental critiques of capitalism In the nineteenth century Karl Marx inspired by the German chemist Justus von Liebig argued that capitalism's relation to its natural environment was that of a robbery system leading to an irreparable rift in the metabolism between humanity and nature In the twenty first century these classical insights into capitalism's degradation of the earth have become the basis of extraordinary advances in critical theory and practice associated with contemporary ecosocialism In The Robbery of Nature John Bellamy Foster and Brett Clark working within this historical tradition examine capitalism's plundering of nature via commodity production and how it has led to the current anthropogenic rift in the Earth System Departing from much previous scholarship Foster and Clark adopt a materialist and dialectical approach bridging the gap between social and environmental critiques of capitalism The ecological crisis they explain extends beyond questions of traditional class struggle to a corporeal rift in the physical organization of living beings themselves raising critical issues of social reproduction racial capitalism alienated speciesism and ecological imperialism No one they conclude following Marx owns the earth Instead we must maintain it for future generations and the innumerable diverse inhabitants of the planet as part of a process of sustainable human development Forces of Production, Climate Change and Canadian Fossil

Capitalism Nicolas Graham,2020-12-29 Listen to the podcast In Forces of Production Climate Change and Canadian Fossil Capitalism Nicolas Graham reinterprets the concept of forces of production from an ecological standpoint and in the context of the deepening climate crisis He argues that ecological knowledge itself as well as associated developments in renewable energy technology and green infrastructure represent advancements in productive forces However such green productive forces are fettered by capitalist relations of production including the power of carbon capital In addition to a conceptual and theoretical reinterpretation case studies focusing on Canadian fossil capitalism provide a concrete complex analysis of the deepening of fossil fuelled productive forces and the process of fettering in both renewable energies and in the development and application of ecological knowledge Media and Water Joanne Garde-Hansen,2021-01-14 As flooding drought and water scarcity become more pronounced due to climate change so the way in which these events are presented in the media assumes greater significance In particular the media plays an important role in shaping the public perception and understanding of water issues and debates around extreme weather events more generally Joanne Garde Hansen s book offers a sustained and comprehensive exploration of media representations of water Drawing on a wide range of media including newspapers digital photography radio television and video as well as empirical research on media and memory she examines how drought flooding and water management have been portrayed in the media both historically and in the contemporary world The use of the media by water institutions to manage public perceptions and the use of digital media by the public to engage with water companies is also included A particular feature of the book is an examination of water and gender in developed nations One of the first books to look at media representations of water this pioneering work provides valuable insights for both scholarly and professional water research Black British Postcolonial Feminist Ways of Seeing Human Rights Pamela Odih,2024-12-29 This book traces the feminine soul of Afrobeat from tumultuous colonial her stories through to the vibrant heterotopias of the urban spaces and times of Black British youths of African racial heritage

Communicative action is a human right as per the portents of the United Nations in its 1948 declaration which recognises the human right to communication Borne from the cultural political struggles against persistent coloniality in post independence Nigeria Afrobeat is communicative action Afrobeat is the music of Nigerian dissent that has become the music of an African diaspora Unique in its way of seeing intergenerational decolonial diaspora studies through the refracted prism of Nigerian Afrobeat this book s extensive empirical and theoretical basis is directed toward the question How to be Black British born in a country that colonised our maternal ancestors It will be of interest to scholars and students in gender studies African

A Mighty Capital under Threat Bill Luckin, Peter

Thorsheim, 2020-03-03 Demographically nineteenth century London or what Victorians called the new Rome first equaled then superseded its ancient ancestor By the mid eighteenth century the British capital had already developed into a global city Sustained by its enormous empire between 1800 and the First World War London ballooned in population and land area Nothing so vast had previously existed anywhere A Mighty Capital under Threat investigates the environmental history of one of the world's global cities and the largest city in the United Kingdom Contributors cover the feeding of London waste management movement between the city's numerous districts and the making and shaping of the environmental sciences in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries

Chicano Culture, Ecology, Politics Devon G. Peña, 1999-01-01 Until recently mainstream American environmentalism has been a predominantly white middle class movement essentially ignoring the class race and gender dimensions of environmental politics In this provocative collection of original essays the environmental dimensions of the Chicana/o experience are explicitly expressed and debated Employing a variety of genres ranging from poetry to autobiography to theoretical and empirical essays the voices in this collection speak to the most significant issues of environmentalism and social justice recognizing throughout the need for a pluralism of Chicana/o philosophies The contributors provide an excellent basis for understanding how multiple Chicana/o views on the environment play out in the context of dominant social political and economic views Chicano Culture Ecology Politics examines a number of Chicana/o ecological perspectives How can the ethics of reciprocity present in Chicana/o agropastoral life be protected and applied on a broader scale How can the dominant society whose economic structure is invested in placeless mobility take note of the harm caused to land based cultures take responsibility for it and take heed before it is too late Will the larger society be ecologically housebroken before it destroys its home Grounded in actual political struggles waged by Chicana/o communities over issues of environmental destruction cultural genocide and socioeconomic domination this volume provides an important series of snapshots of Chicana/o history Chicano Culture Ecology Politics illuminates the bridges that exist and must be understood between race ethnicity class gender politics and ecology

Commandment Devon G Pe a The Symbolic Earth James G. Cantrill,Christine L. Oravec,2021-10-21 The core dilemma in environmental advocacy may be illustrated by the question When we communicate about the world should we stress what we know or what we feel The contributors to The Symbolic Earth argue that it is more important to decide how we should talk about what we know and feel In their view the environment is largely a product of how we talk about the world Because the environment is a social construction the only hope we have of preserving it is to understand and alter the fundamental ways we discuss it This collection first examines the ways in which discourse creates environment perceptions Subjects discussed range from the description of natural scenery to the advocacy of political interest groups from the everyday interactions of citizens facing environmental crises to the greenwashing of corporate imagemakers and from the psychology of the mass public to the social constructions of the mass media The authors include nationally known scholars of environmental history rhetorical theory ethnography communication and journalism studies public policy and media criticism Being Animal Anna L. Peterson,2013-05-14 Conducting the first systematic examination of the place of animals in scholarly and popular thinking about nature Anna L Peterson builds a nature ethic that conceives of nonhuman animals as active subjects simultaneously a part of nature and human society Marxist-Feminist Theories and Struggles Today Khayaat Fakier,Diana Mulinari,Nora Räthzel,2020-02-15 This vital new collection presents new Marxist Feminist analyses of Capitalism as a gendered racialized social formation that shapes and is shaped by specific nature labour relationships Leaving behind former overtly structuralist thinking Marxist Feminist Theories and Struggles Today interweaves strands of ecofeminism and intersectional analyses to develop an understanding of the relations of production and the production of nature through the interdependencies of gender class race and colonial relations With contributions and analyses from scholars and theorists in both the global North and South this volume offers a truly international lens that reveals the vitality of contemporary global Marxist Feminist thinking as well as its continued relevance to feminist struggles across the globe Marxist-feminist Theories and Struggles Today Khayaat Fakier,Diana Mulinari,Nora Räthzel, Essential new analysis of capitalism as a gendered racialized social formation that shapes and is shaped by specific nature labour relationships with perspectives from the global North and South Feminism, Capitalism, and Ecology Johanna Oksala,2023-06-15 Developing Ecofeminist Theory E. Cudworth,2005-09-08 An original exploration of how the relationship between society and nature is conceptualized focusing on theories of social exclusion and difference A comprehensive overview of feminist and environmental theories of society environment relations considering the range of theoretical and political influences on such theorizing such as socialist and Marxist theory amongst others and the turn to post structuralism and postmodernism within the social sciences Cudworth also develops her own theoretical account for the interrelations between forms of social domination and contributes to important debates with sociology social theory feminist theory and environmentalism
