Robinson,2021-05-27 Passion's Fictions traces the intimate links between literature and the sciences of mind and soul from the age of Shakespeare to the rise of the novel It chronicles the emergence of new sciences of the passions between the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries and it argues that this history was shaped by rhetoric that contained the most extensively particularized discourse on the passions offering principles for moving and affecting the passions of others in concrete social scenes This rhetoric of the passions centered on narrative as the instrument of a non theoretical knowledge of the passions in their particularity predicated on an account of passion as an intimate relation between an impassioned mind and an impassioning world rhetoric offers a kind of externalist psychology formalized in the relation of passion to action and underwriting an account of narrative as a means of both moving passion and knowing it This volume describes the psychology of the passions before the discipline of psychology tracing the influence of rhetoric on theories of the passions from Francis Bacon to Adam Smith and using that history to read literary works by Shakespeare Milton Haywood Richardson and others Narrative offers a means of knowing and moving the passions by tracing them to the events and objects that generate them the history of narrative practices is thus a key part of the history of the psychology of the passions at a critical moment in its development The Long Way Home: Lessons Learned on a Journey of Self-Discovery Silas

Mary,2025-01-23 The Long Way Home is an inspiring story of self discovery as the author takes readers on a journey through life s challenges and triumphs The book is an exploration of the lessons learned from navigating through personal struggles relationships and experiences that shaped the person they are today This memoir reflects on the importance of taking the long sometimes winding road toward self understanding and personal growth The Long Way Home encourages readers to embrace the journey with all its lessons knowing that the destination is worth every step taken The Trouble With Passion

Cheryl Hall,2013-01-22 Political theorists have long argued that passion has no place in the political realm where reason reigns supreme But is this dichotomy between reason and passion sustainable Does it underestimate the indispensable role of passion in a fully democratic society Drawing upon Plato Rousseau and contemporary feminist theorists Cheryl Hall argues that passion is an essential component of a just political community and that the need to educate passion together with reason is paramount Trouble with Passion provides a compelling defense of the crucial place of passion in politics The Life Journey John Strommen,2024-07-31 What s the point of it all In the postmodern world the meaning and direction of human existence is increasingly a question mark with few satisfying answers forthcoming People of faith are not immune to such questions as they struggle to meaningfully connect their faith to their daily lives In GPS Finding Direction on Your Faith and Life Journey Strommen makes the case that much of this existential struggle is born of an anthropocentric worldview that has banished God to the margins leaving humans with the futile task of playing God as they attempt to create their own meaning purpose and identity Drawing on core Christian understandings through a Lutheran lens the author asserts that life giving meaning and purpose are gifts given by God alone who frees people from their self justifying ways to take an inventory of their many gifts and participate in a new creation where love of neighbor is the social currency It is the core theme of this book that God is in fact present deeply invested and at work in the everyday world calling everyone daily to partner with God to co create a more trustworthy loving and hopeful world Spinoza on Reason, Passions, and the Supreme Good Andrea

Sangiaco,2019 Andrea Sangiaco offers a new understanding of Spinoza's moral philosophy how his views significantly evolved over time and how he himself struggled during his career to develop a theory that could speak to human beings as they actually are imperfect passionate and often not very rational Dutch Cartesianism and the Birth of Philosophy of Science Andrea Strazzoni,2018-11-19 How did the relations between philosophy and science evolve during the 17th and the 18th century This book analyzes this issue by considering the history of Cartesianism in Dutch universities as well as its legacy in the 18th century It takes into account the ways in which the disciplines of logic and metaphysics became functional to the justification and reflection on the conceptual premises and the methods of natural philosophy changing their traditional roles as art of reasoning and as science of being This transformation took place as a result of two factors First logic and metaphysics which included rational theology were used to grant the status of indubitable knowledge of natural philosophy Second the debates internal to Cartesianism as well as the emergence of alternative philosophical world views such as those of Hobbes Spinoza the experimental science and Newtonianism progressively deprived such disciplines of their foundational function and they started to become forms of reflection over given scientific practices either Cartesian experimental or Newtonian The Journey to Greatness Noah BenShea,2005-11 The author encourages lifelong learning while providing inspirational messages and life changing lessons that will make the work of getting to greatness a labor of love Passionate Work Renyi Hong,2022-04-04 In Passionate Work Renyi Hong theorizes the notion of being passionate about your work as an affective project that encourages people to endure economically trying situations like unemployment job change repetitive and menial labor and freelancing Not simply a subject of aspiration passion has been deployed as a means to build resilience and mend disappointments with our experiences of work Tracking the rise of passion in nineteenth century management to trends like gamification coworking and unemployment insurance Hong demonstrates how passion can emerge in instances that would not typically be understood as passionate Gamification numbs crippling boredom by keeping call center workers in an unthinking suspensive state pursuing even the most banal tasks in hope of career advancement Coworking spaces marketed toward freelancers combat loneliness and disconnection at the precise moment when middle class sureties are profoundly threatened Ultimately Hong argues the ideal of passionate work sustains a condition of cruel optimism in which passion is offered as the solution for the injustices of contemporary capitalism Personal ~ Passionate ~ Participatory Ming Fang He,JoAnn Phillion,2008-11-01 Scope of the Book Personal Passionate Participatory Inquiry into Social Justice in Education the first book in the series features 14 programs of social justice oriented research on life in schools families and communities This work done by a diverse group of practitioner researchers educators and scholars connects the personal with the political the theoretical with the practical and research with social and educational change These inquiries demonstrate three distinct qualities Each is personal compelled by values and experiences researchers bring to the work Each is passionate grounded in a commitment to social justice concerns of people and places under consideration Each is participatory built on long term heart felt engagement and shared efforts The principle aspect of the inquiries featured in the book series that distinguish it from others is that researchers are not detached observers nor putatively objective recorders but active participants in schools families and communities Researchers have explicit research agendas that focus on equity equality and social justice Rather than aiming solely at traditional educational research outcomes positive social and educational change is the focal outcome of inquiry The researchers are diverse and their inquiries are far ranging in terms of content people and geographic locations studied These studies reflect new and exciting ways of researching and representing experience of the disenfranchised underrepresented and invisible groups seldom discussed in the literature and challenge stereotypical or deficit oriented perspectives on these groups This book informs pre service and in service teachers educators educational researchers administrators and educational policy makers particularly those who advocate for people who are marginalized and those who are committed to the enactment of social justice and positive educational and social change

The Passionate Bride Alan Davey, Elizabeth Davey, 2019-03-25 St Paul s Letter to the Ephesians is a bold declaration of love We were in the ruminations of Abba before the stardust formed into galaxies and the earth coalesced into its present shape Indeed Abba s dream for his people already existed in those primordial days Today we have the opportunity to wake up and embrace his dream with enthusiasm and intentionality As members of his church individually and collectively we want to embrace God s desire for a dynamic people infused with his passionate love The church as the bride of Christ is a powerful metaphor engaging the apostle as he writes his letter Paul s passion becomes ours as we meditate on his words which evoke spiritual desire It is in this relationship of love that the central purpose of our lives is found As we gratefully receive Christ s amity and as his bride returns it so the entire earth is enflamed with the fires of his love At the same time we recognize it is a mystery this love between Abba and his church When we receive and reflect Christ s overtures of love as a community of faith a synergy is created and released through the interconnectedness of our gifts talents and zeal The church contains the spiritual energy of a nuclear explosion and when it detonates it releases a fallout of love mercy and compassion bringing healing to the world and drawing others to the divine presence
