Development in Tribal India Shri Kamal Sharma,1989 It is a treatise of the consequential problems of interactions between population resources and development Resources play such a vital role in our economy that the evaluation of territorial distribution of resource complexes and their potentialities for a balanced and integrated development cannot be disassociated from the wider field of planning for regional development But the degree of exploitation of development potentials depends heavily upon human socio political and economic technological factors and variation in these attributes of man causes variation in resource evaluation and their utilization In the present politico economic structure those people who are conscious to their rights and those areas which are dominated by such people get benefits of developmental efforts The tribal people and areas dominated by them could not exert decisive influence on decision making of resource utilization and development planning Consequently all transportable resources are exported out of such regions     Perspectives in Resource Management in Developing Countries Baleshwar Thakur,2007 v 2 Population resources and development v 3 Ecological degradation of land     Research in Education ,1971     New Geography Wallace Walter Atwood,1920
