Citizenship and the Origins of Women's History in the United States Teresa Anne Murphy,2013-06-07 Women s history emerged as a genre in the waning years of the eighteenth century a period during which concepts of nationhood and a sense of belonging expanded throughout European nations and the young American republic Early women s histories had criticized the economic practices intellectual abilities and political behavior of women while emphasizing the importance of female domesticity in national development These histories had created a narrative of exclusion that legitimated the variety of citizenship considered suitable for women which they argued should be constructed in a very different way from that of men women s relationship to the nation should be considered in terms of their participation in civil society and the domestic realm But the throes of the Revolution and the emergence of the first woman s rights movement challenged the dominance of that narrative and complicated the history writers interpretation of women s history and the idea of domestic citizenship In Citizenship and the Origins of Women s History in the United States Teresa Anne Murphy traces the evolution of women s history from the late eighteenth century to the time of the Civil War demonstrating that competing ideas of women s citizenship had a central role in the ways those histories were constructed This intellectual history examines the concept of domestic citizenship that was promoted in the popular writing of Sarah Josepha Hale and Elizabeth Ellet and follows the threads that link them to later history writers such as Lydia Maria Child and Carolyn Dall who challenged those narratives and laid the groundwork for advancing a more progressive woman s rights agenda As woman s rights activists recognized citizenship encompassed activities that ranged far beyond specific legal rights for women to their broader terms of inclusion in society the economy and government Citizenship and the Origins of Women s History in the United States demonstrates that citizenship is at the heart of women s history and consequently that women s history is the history of nations

Parting the Desert Zachary Karabell, 2009-08-26 Award winning historian

Zachary Karabell tells the epic story of the greatest engineering feat of the nineteenth century the building of the Suez Canal and shows how it changed the world The dream was a waterway that would unite the East and the West and the ambitious energetic French diplomat and entrepreneur Ferdinand de Lesseps was the mastermind behind the project Lesseps saw the project through fifteen years of financial challenges technical obstacles and political intrigues He convinced ordinary French citizens to invest their money and he won the backing of Napoleon III and of Egypt s prince Muhammad Said But the triumph was far from perfect the construction relied heavily on forced labor and technical and diplomatic obstacles constantly threatened completion The inauguration in 1869 captured the imagination of the world The Suez Canal was heralded as a symbol of progress that would unite nations but its legacy is mixed Parting the Desert is both a transporting narrative and a meditation on the origins of the modern Middle East The Fullness of Time Kara N. Slade,2021-09-17 While human existence in time is determined by the time of Jesus Christ by the logic of the incarnation passion resurrection and ascension the predominant accounts of time in the modern West have proceeded from a very different basis The implications of these approaches are not just a matter of epistemology or of abstract doctrinal and philosophical claims Instead they have had and continue to have concrete ramifications for human life together They have overwhelmingly been death dealing rather than life giving marked by a series of temporal moral errors that this book hopes to address As a counterexample this book reads Soren Kierkegaard alongside Karl Barth to highlight the ways that both figures rejected a Hegelian approach to time that was and is not coincidentally intertwined with a racialized account of history and the co opting of Christianity by the modern Western state English Mechanic and World of Science ,1873 History of the Natural and Organic Foods Movement (1942-2020) William Shurtleff; Akiko Aoyagi; ,2020-04-09 The world s most comprehensive well documented and well illustrated book on this subject With extensive subject and geographical index 66 photographs and illustrations mostly color Free of charge in digital PDF format on Google Books History of International Trade in Soybeans, Soy Oil and Soybean Meal, Plus Trade Policy \(1859-2021\) William Shurtleff; Akiko Aoyagi,2021-09-07 The world s most comprehensive well documented and well illustrated book on this subject With extensive subject and geographic index 107 photographs and illustrations mostly color Free of charge in digital PDF format
