The Feminization of Quest-Romance Dana A. Heller,2014-03-19 What happens when a woman dares to imagine herself a hero Questing she sets out for unknown regions Lighting a torch she elicits from the darkness stories never told or heard before The woman hero sails against the tides of great legends that recount the adventures of heroic men legends deemed universal timeless and essential to our understanding of the natural order that holds us and completes us in its spiral Yet these myths and rituals do not fulfill her need for an empowering self image nor do they grant her the mobility she requires to imagine enact and represent her quest for authentic self knowledge The Feminization of Quest Romance proposes that a female quest is a revolutionary step in both literary and cultural terms Indeed despite the difficulty that women writers face in challenging myths rituals psychological theories and literary conventions deemed universal by a culture that exalts masculine ideals and universalizes male experience a number of revolutionary texts have come into existence in the second half of the twentieth century by such American women writers as Jean Stafford Mary McCarthy Anne Moody Marilynne Robinson and Mona Simpson all of them working to redefine the literary portrayal of American women s quests They work in part by presenting questing female characters who refuse to accept the roles accorded them by restrictive social norms even if it means sacrificing themselves in the name of rebellion In later texts female heroes survive their lighting out experiences to explore diverse alternatives to the limiting roles that have circumscribed female development This study of The Mountain Lion Memories of a Catholic Girlhood Coming of Age in Mississippi Housekeeping and Anywhere but Here identifies transformations of the quest romance that support a viable theory of female development and offer literary patterns that challenge the male monopoly on transformative knowledge and heroic action      The Feminization of American Culture

Bonny H. Miller, 2020 Augusta Browne's five decade career in music and letters reveals a gifted composer and author Hailed as one of the most prolific women composers in the USA before 1870 Augusta Browne Garrett c 1820-1882 was also a dedicated music educator and music journalist The Americanness of her story resounds across the decades an earnest little girl growing up amidst a troubled family business a young professor of music who burst onto the New York City musical scene and an entrepreneur who resolutely sought publication of her music and prose to her final day In Augusta Browne Composer and Woman of

Letters in Nineteenth Century America author Bonny Miller presents Browne s unfamiliar story assesses her musical works and describes her literary publications Browne s outsider status and self agency offer a potent narrative that transcends antebellum and Victorian era norms She used the public arena of newspapers and magazines as conduits for her work during an era when women were ridiculed for public speaking And yet in many ways her persona as a tenacious entrepreneur conflicted with her adherence to strict Christian precepts despite her assertion of woman s equality with man Making use of recently digitized sheet music as well as archives of newspapers and books of the period Miller s narrative provides the first ever comprehensive nuanced account of this notable life in American music BONNY H MILLER is a pianist and independent scholar who has taught at universities in Georgia Florida Louisiana and Virginia History of Soymilk and Other Non-Dairy Milks (1226-2013) William Shurtleff, Akiko Aoyagi, 2013-08-29 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1993 The American Historical Romance George Dekker, 1990-05-03 This book traces the tradition of American historical fiction from its origins in the early nineteenth century to the eve of World War II It examines the historical novel s connections with Enlightenment and Romantic theories of history with the rise of literary regionalism with the ambitions of Romantic writers to revive the epic and romance with changing conceptions of gender roles and with the authors troubled responses to the great revolutionary and imperialistic conflicts of the modern era However though inevitably much concerned with the theory of genre and with the specific contents of the genre of historical romance Professor Dekker devotes most of his book to new readings of major texts by James Fenimore Cooper Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Mark Twain Allen Tate Edith Wharton Willa Cather and William Faulkner as well as to the Briton whose name was synonymous with the genre for most of the nineteenth century Sir Walter Scott The American Historical Romance is the richest most fully meditated and most rewarding yet written by this author It is the most important book on the relations of British and American fiction to come out for many years No devotee of the American novel will ignore it The Times Literary Supplement
