

A Rare Find

Maria and Todd discovered an old vinyl record while rummaging through a cabinet in the attic. “Thelma Louise Hopkins!” Maria cried. “I read about her in a magazine. This could be worth millions!” As it turned out, it was not worth quite that much, but it was an extremely rare recording, one of the few original Thelma Louise Hopkins recordings left.

Mr. Sanchez, an executive at an auction company, told the two that it could be worth thousands, so they should consider selling it. Todd was amenable, but Maria was not convinced, not until she found out more information about Thelma Louise Hopkins. At the library they listened to tapes of her songs, saw photographs of her that were decades old, and looked over a biography about the singer’s life and music. They also found an article on the Internet about what Thelma Louise had been doing recently. She was still employed occasionally as a performer because she needed the money. Although Thelma originally had been compensated well, she never owned the copyrights of her songs, which meant that while other people still profited from her original recordings, she never saw a penny of the tremendous wealth they made.

“That’s not fair!” Todd cried.

A few minutes later, Maria called Mr. Sanchez “We still want to auction off the record,” she told him, “but we want the proceeds to go to Thelma Louise Hopkins. Can you help us do that?”

“I sure can,” said Mr. Sanchez. Then he added, “You two are doing a commendable thing.”
