Between Imitation and Innovation Robert Boyer, Elsie Charron, Ulrich Jurgens, Steven Tolliday, 1998-11-19 Recent years have seen intense debates among management and academics on the rise of lean production and Japanization Some authors have stressed the universal impact of new forms of work organization and best practice while others have questioned the limits of convergence stressed the weight of national contexts or societal effects or highlighted the evolutionary effects of unpredictability in the external environment The international automobile industry has been a focus for much of this debate and this book written by a team of leading international researchers in the field uses this industry to examine in detail the actual practice of the transfer and adaptation of productive models and the trajectories of innovation compromise and failure that can result Case studies cover in detail the Japanese transplant experience in North America and the global experience of hybrid production systems in Europe Latin America and Asia The book contributes to theoretical discussions about the transfer adaptation or convergence of productive models In particular the authors argue that direct transplantation or imitation of these models is rarely feasible or even desirable Systems cannot be transferred without being significantly reshaped Instead the book focuses on the process of hybridization the complex interaction of productive models with national and societal effects Hybridization it is argued is inevitable But this should be seen not simply as a process of compromise and retreat but also as an important dynamic of innovation and learning This book is from the French based international research network GERPISA Groupe d'étude de recherche permanent sur l'industrie et les salariés de l'automobile See related titles below

Identity-Based Brand Management Christoph Burmann, Nicola-Maria Riley, Tilo Halaszovich, Michael Schade, Kristina Klein, Rico Piehler, 2025-08-16 This textbook provides a comprehensive overview of identity based brand management based on current research. The authors focus on the design of the brand identity which covers the internal perspective of brand management and the resulting external brand image perceived by consumers and other audiences. The book covers topics such as brand positioning, the design of the brand architecture and brand elements, the management of brand touchpoints and the customer journey as well as multi sensory brand management and brand management in a digital environment. Further topics covered are international brand management, brand management in the retail sector in social media and on digital brand platforms, electronic marketplaces. Numerous practical examples illustrate the applicability of the concept of identity based brand management. The authors show that this concept is a valuable management model to make brands successful. In the 3rd edition all chapters were fundamentally revised and latest research findings were integrated. A new section on corporate social responsibility due to the increasing importance of brands' societal and environmental responsibilities and up to date practical examples were added. Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing Jürgen Hesselbach, Christoph Herrmann, 2011-03-19 The 18th CIRP International Conference on Life Cycle Engineering LCE 2011 continues a long tradition of scientific meetings focusing on the exchange of industrial and academic knowledge and experiences in life cycle assessment, product development, sustainable manufacturing and end of life management. The theme Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing addresses the need for engineers to develop solutions which have the potential to address global challenges by providing products, services and processes taking into account local capabilities and constraints to achieve an economically, socially and environmentally sustainable society in a global perspective. Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing do not only involve products or services that are changed for a local market by simple substitution or the omitting of functions. Products and services need to be addressed that ensure a high standard of living.

everywhere Resources required for manufacturing and use of such products are limited and not evenly distributed in the world Locally available resources local capabilities as well as local constraints have to be drivers for product and process innovations with respect to the entire life cycle The 18th CIRP International Conference on Life Cycle Engineering LCE 2011 serves as a platform for the discussion of the resulting challenges and the collaborative development of new scientific ideas
